Pumpkins as Food for Milk.

Profesor F. H. Storer, of the Busy Institution, made a thorough and analysis of pumpkins and squashes in 1877. The average of his analysis of the whole pumpkin is about ten to twelve per centum of dry substance. It has a large percentage of water, but not more than the turnip or the fodder corn, and it is comparatively rich in albuminoids. This vegetable is an important auxiliary in producing milk; but some dairymen have got a prejudice against it, from the effect of the seeds when given in too large quantities. The seeds have a diuretic effect, operating on the kidneys, and this has sometimes lessened the flow of milk, but if a small portion of the seed is removed the danger is wholly avoided. And probably the cases of injury have been occasioned from feeding more than the due proportion of seeds. Thirty pounds of pumpkins fed to each cow per day will increase the yield and improve the quality of the milk; but more than this should not be given. They are very cheap food, since it requires very little labor to produce them. From two to three tons may be grown, with a good yield of corn, per acre, requiring little more than placing the seeds, at distances of twenty feet a part, in alternate rows of corn, after the corn is up. The cultivation of the corn will be sufficient attention to the pumpkin crop; and this will often be worth as much as ten or fifteen bushels of corn per acre. The crop is appropriate to all parts of the country, and will well repay the attention given to it. Pumpkins are a good fattening food for cattle, sheep and hogs. They are good for pigs, serving to counteract the heating effects of corn. They are easily kept from freezing, and may be fed into cold weather. They are cheaply gathered and stored, costing much less than any root crop according to value.—Live Stock Journal.

An Agricultural Creed.

According to the Canada Farmer the agriculturist of Canada met in convention not long ago and adopted for themselves the following creed:

We believe in small farms and thorough cultivation.

We believe that the soil lives to eat as well as the owner, and ought therefore to be well manured.

We believe in going to the bottom of things, and therefore deep plowing and enough of it. All the better if it be a sub-soil plow.

We believe in large crops which leave land better than they found it, making both the farm and the farmer rich at once.

We believe that every farm should own a good farmer.

We believe that the fertilizer of any soil is a spirit of industry, enterprise and intelligence, without these lime, gypsum and guano will be of little use.

We believe in good fences, good farm house, good orchards and good children enough to gather the fruit.

We believe in a clean kitchen, a neat wife in it, a clean cupboard, a clean dairy, and a clear conscience.

We believe that to ask a man's advice is not stooping, but of much benefit.

We believe that to keep a place for everything and everything in its place saves many a step, and is pretty sure to lead to good tools and to keeping them in order.

We believe that kindness to stock, like good shelter, is saving of fodder.

We believe that it is a good thing to keep an eye on experiments and note all, good and bad.

We believe that it is a good rule to cut grain when it is ready.

It is a question whether we could not advantageously let our grass lands remain rather than plow them up for the corn crop. "A sod for corn" has been the rule hitherto, but circumstances beyond our control are forcing new conditions upon us. One of these is the necessity for producing more meat, milk, cheese and butter, and less grain than formerly, and for these we need grass or other green crops. Corn is a grand crop and our climate suits it, but the best corn we can grow is not so profitable as roots. Our practices must change as the times change, and it seems probable that we can no longer sacrifice as we collect sod for the corn crop.

Vegetable Soup.—Peel and slice two potatoes and two turnips; chop fine a small piece of cabbage; use a large spoonful of butter; put it all into three pints of cold water, boil slowly two hours.

Corn Griddle-Cake.—To one quart of sour milk add one teaspoonful of soda, the same of salt, and one egg, one-half cup of wheat flour; add corn meal sufficient to make a batter thick enough to bake on hot griddles.

Manhood: How Lost, How Restored!

Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of Spermatorrhœa or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance, &c.

Price, in a sealed envelope, only six cents.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately, and RADICALLY.

This Lecture will prove a boon to thousands and thousands.

Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any adress, post-paid, on receiptof six cents or two postage stamps.

YOU WILL BE SORRY

if you replace that old Pump with a new one and do not first carefully examine the

Buckeye Force Pump,

The Buckeye is the very lastest improvement in Pumps. It is constructed with air-chambers which make it very easy to operate. Hose can be attached to the Buckeye Pump, and water can be thrown upon any building in case of fire. You can water your Garden and Yard, Wash Windows, Wash Buggies, and have a

FIRE ENGINE

ever ready on your own premises at no more cost than an ordinary pump. It in cold weather. Durable beyond a doubt. The very pump for deep wells. The working parts are leather suctions and valves within a porcelain lined chamber. Nothing to decay about it. The

Cannot Freeze

Iron Turbine Wind Engine

is also a great improvement in Wind Engines. Call and see these pumps in operation, or for particulars address W. C. BRATTON.
