Resolved, That we tender our sincere thanks to Almighty God, for the bounty blessing He has bestowed upon us after thank Him for the good work which He has accomplished through us...

Resolved, That we cherish with high esteem the memory of our Father who established through the Giver of all good and perfect gifts, this church a century ago...

Resolved, That we tender our sincere thanks to the building committee for the efficient manner in which they accomplished their work.

Resolved, That we tender our thanks to the members of both congregations for their liberal aid and responses for furnishing money for the completion of the work.

Resolved, That our thanks be given to the Treasurer for the exceedingly liberal contribution needed for the cancellation of the debt at that moment.

Resolved, That these resolutions be recorded in the minute book, and the same be published in one or two of our county papers.

May the Great Head of the church, prosper us in our efforts, and give unto all of us peace and prosperity.

Respectfully Submitted, G. W. FISHER, MOSES KREBS, ALEX. A. HUBB, H. EUBANK.

About the year 1810, John Dees, familiarly known as 'Der Gross Yahn,' gave fifty acres of land for church and school purposes...

John Dees was born about the year 1754, at Adamsburg, where Robert Dees lives. His father, Henry Gross (grand-father of Christian and Jacob Gross), and Adam Roger, were the first settlers in this part of the county.

It is believed that there was a school at Adamsburg in 1764. In 1810, a German by the name of Liechle taught at this place, giving instruction in scarcely anything but reading, arithmetic and penmanship...

One of Liechle's successors was Yehli, who was much of his time intoxicated. Both he and Liechle were very passionate, whipping their pupils most inhumanly. It is said that the latter whipped Jacob Howell, a boy twelve or thirteen years of age, with a hickory whip half an inch in thickness and about four feet in length...

Another teacher, who, about the year 1832, taught either in Adamsburg or its vicinity, was David Obermeyer. He was very much addicted to the use of intoxicating liquors, and frequently sat in the school-room asleep, so completely under the influence of whiskey that his pupils could make all the noise they pleased without arousing him...

The A. B. C. Book, and Testament were the first books used. What change in the position and mind these things?
