To the Patrons of The Post.

For the third time since The Post came under its present management on January 1, 1877, we publish a request that our patrons help us financially to carry on the publication of our paper.

We think it safe to say that no publisher in the State has been more lenient; and now that we are in need of funds to conduct the paper we hope each of our patrons in arrears for subscription advertising or job-work will promptly respond.

SALE REGISTER.

The following list of Sales of Real and Personal Property are advertised or Bills printed at the office of "The Post."

Thursday, March 25, Mrs. F. Weisz, will sell Personal Property in the Boro. of Middleburg.

The Whitehall Times says: "A wise town is known by the fire company it keeps."

Married ladies will find in "Dr. Lindley's Blood Searcher" just what they need. Try it.

Green peas, potatoes, and other vegetables, are arriving in the Philadelphia market.

When you are throwing the mantle of charity over an aching man do not let it be a wet blanket.

There are only three ways of getting out of a scrape—write out; back out; but the best way is to keep out.

Everything points to brisk Spring and goods in a word of all kinds are on the advance. It will pay to buy early.

"Say Sara, have you lost your appetite? Are you weak and nervous? If so, 'Dr. Lindley's Blood Searcher' is what you want.

That talk of stitching party did not come off on Tuesday evening. John you had better postpone it until the 21st of June than you will have more time to talk about it.

Walter, Hassinger & Co. moved their steam Saw Mill, on Saturday, to wood-land of J. C. Hassinger, west of town. They intend to run the mill, with double sets of hands, day and night for a short time.

SEED CATALOGUE.—Joseph Harris, of Moreton Farm, N. Y., sends us his Catalogue of Choice Garden and Flower Seeds for 1880. It is sent free of charge to all applicants. Drop him a postal card with your address, and tell him you saw this notice in the Post.

Those fellows who are in the practice of lifting nets, not their own, will get into trouble. A full charge of coarse salt, judiciously administered, it is said, has a strong tendency to bring some fellows into the right line of conduct.

An exchange says, to ascertain the length of a day and night multiply the hour at which the sun rises by two; the result will be the length of the night.—Multiply the hour at which the sun sets by two, and the result will be the length of the day.

Save your rags and waste paper—they have gone up to three and four cents per pound. Old paper is worked over again and it pays well to save it for the rag man. Any family can save enough in old rags and paper each year to pay for all the newspapers they take.

Anie Gross recovered one of his horses, that were stolen near Oriental, Juniata county. The thieves were unable to take the animal further because it was bare-footed and could not travel as fast as horse thieves are wont to travel.

Liverpool, March 10, 1880.—If you want high prices for country produce go to H. W. Freed at Liverpool and try Charles his obliging clerk and be satisfied with his large pieces of tobacco you get for SIXTY.

On Saturday evening, Steller's Cornet Band serenaded all the villagers of this ancient Boro., and rendered that kind of music which "tames savage breasts," but there being no "savage breasts" to tame, thus far, it was "wasted on the desert air"—however it was not all "labor in vain," for the Johns and the Toms and the Bills had just called on their Susan Jane, Mariah Louisa and Catharine Ann; and the soul-inspiring strains would fill them with rapturous sentimentality and party and—

Accidents.

The following accidents happened in West Beaver twp. in the course of a week. On Sunday morning Mr. John—who was out with his team every day through the week having him, falling to hear the calling of the bells placed in the highest steeple of the several churches, surrounding him, looked up his team and started for a load of lime; but when coming to his neighbor was informed that it was Sunday, upon which Mr. John—

On Wednesday Mrs. Hattie Unangel, lady of some seventy years, went on a visit to her neighbors, Jno. Kling, about one-half mile distant. After having a good old talk, she set out on her journey homeward. As about half an hour after she had left Mrs. Kling went out of the house after something and thinking she heard a man looked down the road and discovered Mrs. Unangel lying in a gutter filled with mud and water. Mrs. Kling hastily ran to assist the old lady, to get her upright position; but after using all her strength failed to do so; upon which she ran to tell H. H. Uhl, of the first way west with his rig, and conveyed the old lady to her home.

On Sunday evening one of our school teachers accidentally fell asleep while attending preaching, and it happened to be a very dark night that he could hardly be aroused from his slumber; his associates, who did not wish to see him by the light of a candle, used their utmost to awaken him. I would advise any school teacher not to attend services after spending such a sweet night with the organist of the village.

One of our young men started for the west on Saturday; but by accident happened to return on Monday.
