JUDGE OF SUPREME COURT, HENRY GREENE, of Northampton Co.

FOR AUDITOR GENERAL, JOHN A. LEMON, of Blair County.

COUNTY TICKET.

FOR CONGRESS, HON. HORATIO G. FISHER, of Huntington.

FOR ASSEMBLY, L. N. MYERS, of Middleburg.

FOR COUNTY SURVEYOR, GEORGE B. BENFER, of Jackson.

Census stuffing seems to have been about as common as ballot-box stuffing throughout the South.

"Garfield, Arthur and No Change" is the motto of the prosperous business man who wants to continue to prosper.

Henry A. Gillen of Albion, Orleans County, New York, says he knows personally of thirty Democrats in his town who have announced their intention to vote for Garfield and Arthur.

General Grant will leave his home at Galena, Ill., on the 27th, for Chicago, which he will leave on the 30th, en route for the East. He will spend the winter in New York and Washington.

Statesman Beltzsove is in a sad plight. He honestly told one of his constituents that the present Democratic Congress, with its rebel Brigadiers at the heads of committees, wouldn't pass pension bills for the benefit of Union soldiers; and now he is unable to extricate himself from the dilemma.

It is the Democratic party, then, which is on trial—a party arraigned for crimes against a good Government, and for persisting in clinging to the same crimes, when it pretends to be working in the interest of the Government. These phrases of the political-condition will last as long as the Democratic party remains a danger to the national life.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

The first and second volumes of the official records of the late war, the publication of which was authorized by Congress at its last session, have been completed under the direction of Col. Scott, of the War Department, and are now in the hands of the Public Printer. Congress ordered 10,000 copies of this work, and also authorized its sale to the public. These two volumes will soon be issued, and copies can be had of A. S. Childs, Chief Clerk of the Government Printing Office, at $1 per volume.

It will hereafter for ages be an honor to any man to say: "I belong to the great party that repressed the most gigantic rebellion the world ever saw; that re-established the Union; that struck the last chain from the limbs of the last American slave on land or in free forever; that made every honest and intelligent man in the land a voter; that took every human being in the land, without regard to race, nationality or color, and made him free and equal in the jury-box, in the witness-box and before the Judge." (General Hawley's speech in the Brooklyn Academy of Music Thursday night.)

The Hon. Horatio G. Fisher is again before the people of the Eighteenth Congressional District for their suffrages, having after a trial of one term in Congress, received the unanimous endorsement of his political friends. Mr Fisher has proven himself an able defender of Republican principles, and has been faithful to the interests of his immediate constituent. He is recognized in Congress as a man of superior business qualifications, whose opinion has much weight in all questions pertaining to the financial and commercial relations of the country, and the practical experience of this class of men is more valuable than the services of those who are merely theorists. That the Republicans of Franklin county will give him their hearty and generous support, there is no more doubt than that he will have a majority of several hundred

Working Men's Votes.

It is learned from the St. Louis Globe-Democrat that when it was discovered a few days since that 500 Polish workmen at South Bend, Ind., had, as an organized body, resolved to vote the Republican ticket, there was much consternation manifested by the Democracy of that Indiana village. These men who have heretofore been reliable Democrats, and their desertion at such a critical stage of the campaign had to be accounted for in some way, so the story was promptly circulated that they had been coerced by their employers. It was said that they had placed before them the choice between voting with the Republicans or being discharged, and that they chose the former as the least of two evils. But the workmen immediately replied to this explanation with a card, in which they denied that their employers knew anything about their contemplated political change, and avowed that it had been consummated by themselves after mature deliberation. They gave as the controlling reason for their abandonment of Democracy their conviction that the Republican party is the proper party for workingmen to act with. This incident is important as showing that the class of citizens who are most injured by the pernicious tendencies of Democracy are attaining a wider perception of their duty to their country.

The verdict of Vermont practically settles the Presidential election. It was Vermont which in 1872 demonstrated the fallacy of the Liberal Republican movement, and it is Vermont which in 1880 dissipates the Democratic hope of Republican disaffection by casting a greater Republican majority than it has given at a gubernatorial election since 1868.

A Republican majority of 26,000 in Vermont, as is indicated by the latest despatches, shows that the Republican party of that State, as well as of the country, is intact: that the loyal North has not only been deceived by the nomination of Hancock, but that it is more than ever on the alert, and it is an index of a substantial Republican majority in Maine next week, which assures a Republican triumph in Indiana in October and annihilates the latest combination of the solid South and its Northern allies.

The victory in Vermont appears to have been of the most sweeping character. It includes the entire State ticket, the Legislature and the three Congressmen, and it carries with it a moral effect which will have the most important influence upon the State which will vote next month.

The fact that the South Carolina census has been fraudulently made up becomes more and more clear. The statement that the population of that state had increased 42 per cent, in 10 years appeared preposterous when it was considered, that the immigration had been very light and the migration very heavy during that period. But information from Democratic sources came to expose the sham. South Carolina takes a deplorable census. In 1869 this was managed by Republicans; in 1876 by Democrats. The figures for 1879 are given in the report of the Comptroller General of the state just published, and show that the number of buildings was 2,610 less last year than in 1869; and yet the Government census sets the increase of people at 231,218, so that the decrease in houses accommodations appear about in the ratio of the growth of population. Sheep, cattle and hogs are given by the State census at fewer in number than they were 10 years ago—evidence of a falling away in population. But here is more direct proof of fraud. A South Carolina censor has written to Gen. Walker for permission "to strike out 209 names inserted by error," and an examination of returns discloses the fact that hundreds of names have been written upon unsealed sheets, and at the same angle, showing that the writing has been done at one sitting.

The funeral of Colonel Amos Clark Noyes yesterday was one of the largest ever witnessed in Northern Pennsylvania, fully fifteen hundred persons being present. The high esteem in which deceased was held was shown by the attendance of many distinguished men, as well as by the people of his neighborhood on mass. He was a man possessed of high and noble impulses, and bore all the true characteristics of the gentleman. His hospitality was unbounded, and no one in distress was ever turned away empty from his door. No one has a disparaging word to say against him, but all deplore his loss as a calamity to the neighborhood in which he resided. Strictly honest in all his transactions with his fellow men, and a counselor who was always sought in the hour of trouble, is it any wonder that there is deep mourning over his death? During the three years that he served as state treasurer fully eighteen millions of dollars passed through his hands, and not a dollar was lost. Truly an honest man has been laid in the grave and there is genuine sorrow over his departure.

Wade Hampton is worse off than any man in the nation to-day. Both the Democratic and Republican parties are chafing him up. The Republicans are parading his rebel speech at Stanton as an evidence of true sentiments of the solid South, and the Democrats of Virginia are denouncing him as a moral coward for attempting to deny it. Northern Democrats attempted to deny it for him, but the overwhelming weight of Virginia testimony as to its contents has demolished them.

Examina'n of Teachers

THE examination of the teachers of the county will take place on the days and at the places herein: DISTRICTS PLACES DAYS Middlecross, Watson's School House, Sept. 23 Penn, Nelson, 24 Monkton Dam, 25 Washington, Freeburg, 27 Ferrisburgh, 28 Ferrisburgh, 29 Chubbart, 30 Ferrisburgh, 31 Ferrisburgh, 1-2 Ferrisburgh, 3-4 Ferrisburgh, 5-6 Ferrisburgh, 7-8 Ferrisburgh, 9-10 Ferrisburgh, 11-12 Ferrisburgh, 13-14 Ferrisburgh, 15-16 Ferrisburgh, 17-18 Ferrisburgh, 19-20 Ferrisburgh, 21-22 Ferrisburgh, 23-24 Ferrisburgh, 25-26 Ferrisburgh, 27-28 Ferrisburgh, 29-30 Ferrisburgh, 31-Sept. 1, 1880. The above dates are at issue and for trial at Sept. 1, 1880. J. CROUSE, Prob. 1880, Prob. 1880, Middleburg Aug. 26, 1880.

Arkansas has repudiated her debts to the extent of $8,534,770. Georgia has repudiated over $3,000,000 of her state debt. Mississippi has repudiated over $7,000,000 of her state debt. But North Carolina is worse still, having repudiated no less than $20,507,288 of her debts. These states are all solidly Democratic. They all voted for Tilden. They all elect Democratic governors and legislatures. They are all for Hancock. They send solid Democratic delegations to Washington. They are all in favor of "rebel claims." They are anxious to control the national government and shape its legislation to suit themselves.

It is sad but true: General Wade Hampton has retired in disgust, or been pulled down by the Democratic executive committee, we are not quite sure which. He has found, to his infinite perplexity, that he cannot open his mouth without putting his foot into it, and he will undoubtedly best serve his beloved South by keeping it shut for the remainder of the campaign. Meanwhile, his immortal speech at Stanton remains as his fatal legacy to every Republican man-head, the cautionary signal that warns us, every going citizen of the perils that threaten the country at the hands of a restored but unconverted Democracy. Hancock tried hard to haul it down, and Hancock organs denounced it and ordered it to be pulled out of the carrier and left his place to be removed. It is clashing over the cylinder to the carrier he struck his head against a beam of the maw above, which so stunned him that he fell backward on the feeling board of the machine and was caught by one foot in the cylinder and draw into the machine to the big before it could be stopped. When the unfortunate man was taken out his bowels were exposed and he died in a few minutes.

While Horace Jarvis was thrashing on a farm near Hayville, Schuyler county, he noticed that a quantity of straw had accumulated in the carrier and left his place to be removed. It is clashing over the cylinder to the carrier he struck his head against a beam of the maw above, which so stunned him that he fell backward on the feeling board of the machine and was caught by one foot in the cylinder and draw into the machine to the big before it could be stopped. When the unfortunate man was taken out his bowels were exposed and he died in a few minutes.

The attempt to quench the fire in the new slope of the Thomas Coal Company, near Shenandoah, by sealing the outlets and forcing in steam, has failed. The mine caved in August 24 and to all appearances the fire is beyond control. The alternative plan for quenching the fire with carbonic acid gas and nitrogen, undertaken by a Pittsburgh firm, has also been abandoned, the flame has secured so large an opening to the outer air that there seems no possibility of cutting off the supply of oxygen.

It is calculated that the ten millions barrels of beer reported at the Brewers Congress as having been sold last year would have filled a canal five feet deep and twenty-one feet wide, extending from New York to Philadelphia, and that it would take a pump throwing thirty gallons a minute twenty-one years to pump it dry.

MAINE VERY CLOSE.—Both sides claiming the State by a small majority. Two of the Congressional Districts Republican and Two Democratic, with One Doubtful—The Senate and House Republican.

"More food and less medicine, more of nourishment and strength, less of the debilitating influence of drugs is what our feeble and exhausted constitutions require," said Baron Liebig when he perfected the composition of the "Malt Bitters."

Among the patents recently taken out is one which claims to be a "new and useful mode of producing rain," or precipitating rain-falls from rain-clouds, "as a protection against drought." The invention consists in sending balloons into the clouds and carrying torpedoes and cartridges charged with explosives, and to explode them by electric force. It is also claimed by the inventor that not only can rain be precipitated when it is needed, but that too great a quantity can be checked in any given locality by causing the rain-clouds to be discharged before they have reached that place. This novel plan, if practicable and successful, might equalize the droughts and floods in our land.
