DEATH OF DR. J. E. SINGER.

Wednesday morning, the solemn tolling of the Reformed church bell, announced the sad news of the death of Dr. J. E. Singer, which took place about six o'clock that morning. For several weeks the doctor has been ill, beyond all human aid; but through the attentive care of his physician, Dr. H. Stites, and friends, his life was seemingly prolonged. Since about Thanksgiving day he has not entered into active life, on account of his infirmities, gradually growing weaker until the hour of his death. Dr. Singer was one of the oldest, most respected and influential citizens of Newport, and many there were who acted upon the advice given by him, which invariably was carried to a successful termination. He started his career as a physician more than forty years since, in this place, a poor man, and by dint of enterprise, energy, and hard riding over these hills, accumulated to himself a competence, which made him comfortable in his declining years. During his active practice, in his young days, he enjoyed the lucrative practice of a number of families connected with the several furnaces above this country—the old Juniata Furnace, Monta Bella and others, with the employers of which he had yearly contracts to attend the familes under their control and employ, for a certain stipulated sum. How well he succeeded in his profession, is attested by the accumulations mentioned above. He endured many hardships, and it was only his wonderful will power that enabled him to brave the storm and come out more than conqueror. He always favored any enterprise that tended to the advancement of his town, and lived to see Newport rise from a small hamlet to its present prosperous dimensions. In all his business relations he was very lenient, in many instances giving to those with whom he had dealings, rather than exact interest. At the organization of the Farmers Bank of Millerstown, he became a prominent stockholder, and, in the course of time, succeeded in having a branch started in Newport, which shortly cut loose from the parent and organized an independent banking house, under the name of the People's Bank, which name it still retains, and of which he was the honored President from its birth until his death. Dr. Singer was an active member and Elder of the Reformed chuch, which denomination miss him in all their several services and meetings. Through his influence, he gathered about him quite a number of young men and ladies, and formed them into a Bible class, of the Reformed school, and it was his joy and delight to be present regularly to instruct them in Divine truth. Almost his last expressions were about his Sunday school and class. In this department he will be missed more than any place else, except in his own family. He died as he lived, a devoted Christian, loved and esteemed by all with whom he came in contact. His age was 71 years, 4 months and 22 days. He leaves a widow and many friends to mourn his death.—NEWPORT LEDGER.

Doctor Singer was born in Sunbury Northumberland county, Penna. Although poor financially he was rich in resources: in laudable ambition; in indomitable energy: in talents of a high order; and if it can be said of any man that "he was the architect of his own fortune" it may be truthfully said of Doctor J. E. Singer. In demeanor he was dignified—economic, but not penurious—scrupulously exact in business but not exacting—in religion an orthodox protestant, and in politics a rational, conservative democrat. His wise counsel, and his personal efforts joined with those of the Koughs, the Bossermans and other old citizens of Newport whose names we cannot now recall went far towards making the thriving town of Newport what it now is. He was eminent in his profession and highly esteemed as a citizen. He was identified in every laudable enterprise, and the people of Perry county, with one accore, exclaim, we have lost a valued member of the community.

For almost half a century his faithful wife was his bosom companion and cheered him through the ills and adversities of life; and especially did she largely contribute to his early progress when he had no other aid and counsel than her own. She was the daughter of Judge Whiteside and was afforded as liberal an education as the times then afforded. Naturally intelligent, and refined by education she was the fitting companion of her lamented husband.

May his ashes rest in peace. His immortal spirit has gone to its author, God, and may we be profited by the noble example set before us.

On Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock services were held in the Reformed church. At the cemetery, Newport Lodge, No. 381, F. and A. M. conducted the ceremonies. A number of eminent citizns from Harrisburg, Bloomfield and other adjacent towns were present.

DISAPPEARANCE OF A YOUNG MAN.—Christian, son of Mr. Chris'n Oberholtzer, residing one mile below Greenvillage, disappeared from his home on Wednesday morning, the 9th inst. He is aged 18 years, is about 5 feet high, rather heavily set, has dark hair, and wore a grayish coat, corded pants and woolen shirt. Through a severe spell of sickness, his reason has been some-what impaired Any information that will lead to his return to his father will be very gratefully received, and should be addressed to Christian Oberholtzer, Greenvillage, Franklin Co., Pa. ED. POST.—Having failed to see any note taken of things transpiring in the "west end", I concluded to drop you a line or two. St. Valentine day brought about considerable fun. Mr. Helfrick of the firm of Helfrick & Smith distributed a large number of valentines and some of them brought laughter, others cussss and so on and so forth.

Mr. Helfrick, however, distributed $1000, on that day among the farmers, for wheat sold him, and it was really amusing to see how differently it affected these old farmers—some laughed, and some had great big tears sticking in the corner of their eyes—others again looked sour and crammed the cash down deep into the bottom of their pockets. Mr. Helfrick shipped over 3000 bushels from McClure alone wit hin the past few weeks.

A. A. Ulsh agent for the Beavertown Mutual Fire Insurance Company has traversed the township and insured the uninsured. He is a lively agent and represents a first-class company.

Life insurance is still booming, but people are getting more cautious in selecting the company they will insure in. Always Yours.

The following we copy from the LUTHERAN OBSERVER.

Mrs. Moatz was the relict of Mr. Geo. Moatz, who preceded her to the eternal world, July 25th, 1878, at the age of 73 years, 8 months, 22 days. Together they had journeyed through life for forty-six years. Having been consecrated in infancy to the church of Christ, and in youth confirmed and received into membership with the Lutheran Church, they were ever known and recognized in the community, as true and consistent members of this branch of our Lord's kingdom. Mother Moatz was beloved by all who knew her, and although of a quiet and retiring disposition, she let her light shine, when possible being present at service in God's house; never neglecting to join with God's people at the Lord's table, whenever opportunity offered. As an evidence of her faithfulness, in connection with her departed husband, is the fact that they raised ten children, three sons and seven daughters, all baptized in infancy; all became members of the Lutheran church on arriving at the proper age; and at the present time, nearly all, with their wives and husbands, are active members of the church mother Moatz loved. She was buried on Christmas day, December 25th, 1880, on which occasion the pastor Rev. C. C. Leinbach preached from the following words of St. Paul: "For if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so them also which sleep in Jesus will God bring with him."—1 Thess. iv. 14. Her end was one of patience and peace. J. Y. S.

From Centre.

ED. POST.—Whilst there is nothing of special, particular, or marked public interest transpiring in the Centre district, it may be considered by the few, of some interest to learn that our fellow citizen, J. K. Snyder has received his commission from the election officers and that he has it framed in a rose-wood frame with gilt edges, and French plate-glass—the frame was designed by an Italian designer and the workmanship executed in Paris. Mr. Snyder now positively refuses to drive any more "kicking" horses and intends to serve his official term with fidelity, and PRO BONO PUBLIC.

We are very reliably informed that our worthy fellow-citizen, Daniel Reichly will be a candidate for the Sheriffalty. He is a staunch Republican, an excellent citizen and would make a capital officer. Peter Hartman, our very obliging landlord, is not enjoying the very best health, but is nevertheless generally at his post, and tries and succeeds in pleasing his guests. IDEM.

The prevalence of diphtheria has created alarm in the minds of parents that is not warranted by the facts. Physcians in private practice as well as in public employ say that almost every ailment noticed in a child is taken for diphtheria, and that diphtheria treatment is often hastily administered by anxious parents in innocent cases of cold. There are frequent calls at the office of the Board of Health for a circular intended for free distribution, and which contains instructions as to what should be done when diphtheria enters a household. An employee of the Board of Health says that the most important part o this curcular is its description of the early symptoms of the disease. "Give heed," he says in his interpretation of this part of the circular. "the moment you observe signs in your child of unwonted weakness, fatigue, or physical debility, particularly if it is accompanied with a little fever. Make the child frequently open its mouth, so that you can observe its throat. It is in the throat that the lay observer will first discover any certain signs of diphtheria. Never mind how red or how much inflamed the throat appears. That does not indicate the disease. But the instant you see a white spot and detect a bad odor run for a doctor. The white spot will grow. Other white spots will appear, and eventually they will run together in great blotches. If the disease is not Scarlet fever and diphtheria are still carrying off many little ones in different parts of the State.

Col. Harding's pet sheep chews tobacco. Business called us to Fremont last Saturday and having been told that Col. Harding owned a sheep which is exceedingly fond of tobacco we were somewhat anxious to see for ourselves. The Col. called his sheep and when he took from his pocket the plug of tobacco the sheep went for it and tried to get it out of hand—he tore off from the plug a good-sized piece and the sheep ate it with avidity. She is in the habit of visiting Schnee's Store where she is liberally treated by the proprietor, clerk and customers. Her face is not sallow from the use of the poisonous weed, but transparent and healthy, and a fine fleece covers her body.
