Spring hasn't much etherial mildness yet.

A. Kreeger is in his new house, in Franklin.

This stormy weather ruffles the feathers of the snow-bird.

Robins have no business in this section just now.

Don't change your clothing until more settled weather.

It's colder than "Sam Hill" in this vicinity, and the mountain wears the same dress it wore in December.

A hefty life insurance company has been started at Millerstown, Perry county, none of whose officers weigh less than 250 pounds.

Adam Showers prophesies 18 inches of snow yet—we are not so certain that Adam is good authority on this subject, but we do know that he is the best authority on "big porkers."

The dangers of railroading are fearfully illustrated in the Altoona yard where two men where killed on Saturday, and another hurt on Monday, while coupling cars.

The two bridges across Penn's Creek, at Selinsgrove, which were destroyed by the ice flood, will be soon rebuilt. The Long Red-bridge was let to John Cooper for $3,765, and the Schoch bridge to Z. S. Keely for $2,600.

The Traveler's Insurance Company, Hartford, Conn., promptly adjusted the claims upon the Company incurred by reason of the "Red Hill" accident. No man should travel without first taking out an accident policy and the Travelers of Hartford is the best Company in existance, and G. C. Gutelius is just as good an Agent.

Do not buy cheap medicines on the score of economy. The best are none too good for the sick, and are the cheapest. Such are the Cherry Pectoral, Sarsaparilla, and other standard remedies of Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co. They are worth all they cost, and should be in every house.

The Illustrated Scientific News.

The April number of this interesting and popular magazine is just out.

ADMINISTRATOR HINES, of Greencastle, Pa., in settling up the estate of the late Jacob Smeltzen, in Bell township, made a discovery which proves interesting. The will leaves each of his three sons a farm, and to each of his three daughters the sum of $1,000 is left. In addition to this part of his estate, was left three pots of gold and silver coin which had been buried under the hearth in the kitchen. The exact amount can not be correctly determined, but it is supposed to be in the neighborhood of $10,000. No one even suspected that such a treasure was buried there, as the old man had never mentioned it to any one. The deceased carried a tumor weighing sixty pounds on his rightleg for the last thirty years of his life.—Valley Spirit.

EHRICHS' FASHION QUARTERLY is like the swallows; its coming proves that Spring is here in earnest, and that the dreadful winter of 80—81 has at length receded into the past, to furnish forth a fruitful theme for fireside discussion on many a future winter night.

The Fashion Quarterly, as usual, is full of information for the fair. It tells them what to buy and how to get it: what styles have gone out of fashion, what are coming into vogue; and [illegible] descriptions and price lists [illegible] to practice a [illegible] economy, and [illegible] of the season's [illegible]

Trunks, Trunks, Valises, at Oppenheimer's.

Nat. Schambach's cow 'busted' to death, "for him," and the calf also busted.

Hats and Caps, latest styles, at S. Oppenheimer's Ready-made Clothing store.

Wes. Bowen is now running the Black-smith Shop, on West Main street, on double time.

Keemer C. Walter is employed in the Machine Shops of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Altoona.

The irrepressible Oppenheimer is back from the Eastern Cities with the largest stock of goods ever opened to the Snyder county public.

Rev. I. Irvine, by reason of a bronchial affection of the throat, has resigned the pastorate of the Middleburg, Hassinger and Beavertown congregations.

Do you want to save money? Go to Oppenheimer's Clothing Emporium where you will find a large stock of spring goods to select from at prices lower than ever.

Robert Smith has retired from the farm and taken up his abode in Adamsburg—Robert has worked long enough and hard enough and means to spend his declining years in OTIUM CUM DIGNITATE.

F. H. Schrader returns his thanks to his old neighbors of Troxelville and his new ones of Adamsburg for their assistance on moving day.

And The Post returns thanks for a basket of nice "flitting cake."

The Adamsburgers gain a valuable citizen and the Troxelvillers lose one.

The State Normal school of this district at Bloomsburg, Pa., will begin the spring term, Monday April 4th, 1881. The school aims to meet the growing demand on every hand for teachers trained for their profession. The steady increase in numbers continues. The last class was the largest ever graduated from the school and this one is twenty-five per cent larger. The thoroughness of the instruction, the beauty of the location, the attractiveness of the buildings and grounds are not surpassed. References.—Our students.

A correspondent writing from Richfield to the COURIER, under date of March 28, says: A distressing accident occurred three miles east of this place on Sunday morning. The circumstances are as follows: Mary Glatfelter aged 14 years, daughter of Peter Glatfelter, took her brother's coat up stairs on the morning of the accident to hang it on a nail, and in so doing it slipped off and fell on a chest which was standing underneath. The pistol discharged by falling on the chest and the contents lodged in the breast of the girl near the heart. The buckshot entered the left side of the breastbone, extending upward. The pistol was an old-fashioned one charged with two buckshot. The girl died from internal hemorhage and lived but forty minutes after the accident.

JEREMIAH CROUSE.

Prothonotary, Snyder County.

MY DEAR SIR.—Amid the multiplicity of duties that press upon me and my professional and political engagements; I have been unable to write you and though as busy as usual at this time, I have taken this moment to address you upon a matter of personal interest to both of us. During my visit to your County on professional business last year, I came in contact with people of all classes, all of them apparently friendly but some of whome proved to be designing persons bent on abusing the ordinary civilities of life, and converting them to selfish purposes. To this end they abused my confidence and this led to the trouble between you and myself. What I said about you was based upon information derived from what I then believed to be trustworthy sources, but which I now believe were irresponsible and misleading. I make this statement because it has been the rule of my life to make acknowledgment of any wrong I may have done any person when I have become cognizant of the fact. In your case I feel assured that I was wrong and I do not hesitate to say so. This acknowledgment I offer you with the full expectation of answering the charge you have legally brought against me at the bar of justice, and without knowing what disposition will be made of the case, and wit hout fearing to meet you face to face. You are at liberty to publish this letter if you desire because there is nothing in it of which I need be ashamed and which I will not stand by in or out of Court.

Yours truly
W. Y. LYON, Detective.

To the foregoing we would simply add, that the letter of exculpation is Mr. Lyon's voluntary act—that every fair-minded citizen will deem it a fair vindication from the charge against him—that he was mislead by designing men—and that we are the more ready to absolve him from intentional wrong-doing because he was the victim of misplaced confidence and unscrupulous men.

Mr. Felty Knepp, the "boss" singer of West Beaver township, died at his residence, on Thursday morning march 31st and was buried on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock a. m. at St. John's Church. J. Fitzgerald and Co., Publisher, 143 4th Ave., New York.

The leading essay in the volume is one of the most notable productions of its eminent author. It sets forth the doctrine of Protoplasm—a doctrine so vigorously assailed by Mr. Joseph Cook in his "Monday lectures". The volume contains four other essays by Huxley, among them that delightful one, "A Piece of Chalk", also the one entitled "A Liberal Education, and Where to Find It". In the Forum, Counting-house, Workshop, tudio, and even in the editors' anctum, the universal reply to the question, "What do you take for a cough or cold?" is "Sines' yrup of Tar, Wild Cherry and Hoarhound."

You will find it much easier to catch a cold at this season of the year than to get rid of one, unless you use a bottle of Sines' Syrup of Tar, Wild Cherry and Hoarhound.

Kind Captain, I've important information,

Every one is acquainted with the old nursery story about the hen that hatched the ducks, and how one fine day they went swimming in the pond near by, and the inducements she offered them to keep out of the water; but it may not be generally known that whenever poultry has anything to talk about in these later and more enlightened days, their coversation always turns to the benefits their species have derived from the use of M. B. Roberts' Poultry Powder. 25 cents per package, by all druggists.

We were greatly amused some days since by seeing one of our venerable citizens, who had been bowed down by rheumatism, throw away his crutches and declare himself just as young as he used to be, and he is recommending Roberts' Embrocation to every old lady in town. Great liniment that.

Englishmen formerly supposed that American running horses were very inferior to theirs, but during the last two years Parole, Wallenstein and other fast ones that were sent from this country to England, have won hundreds of thousands of dollars for such Americans as the Messrs. Lorillard, James Gordon Bennett, &c. The Englishmen, have investigated the reason for the great success of American horses, and find that they are kept in such fine condition by the constant use of M. B. Roberts' Horse Powder.—SPORTING TIMES.

Fees of Doctors.

The fee of doctors is an item that very many persons are interested in just at present. We believe the schedule for visits is $3 which would tax a man confied to his bed for a year, and in need of a daily visit, over $1,000 a year for medical attendance alone! And one single bottle of Hop Bitters taken in time would save the $1 000 and all the year's sickness.—Post
