

Mrs. Garbott, who speaks French and German fluently, is said to be the first President's wife able to talk with foreign diplomats in the court language of Europe. Her husband is also accomplished in German and French.

In addition to floods, fires and railroad accidents, we have a report of a terrible earthquake in the island of Seio, which destroyed the lives of three thousand persons. This last subterranean disturbance is much more severe than the one which shook up the island of Ichia last month both in the loss of life and the destruction of property.

A young Canadian couple eloped the other day and were married. A few days previous the would-be groom in lieu of a friend to take a trunk to the house of the lady and ask permission to leave it there until he could procure a boarding place. When the friend called for the trunk the young lady had filled it with her clothing, and it was handed over to her at the railroad station.

When Senator Vorhees quoted the Philadelphia Evening Telegraph, as a Republican paper against Mahone, Senator Mitchell interrupted him to say that "if the paper referred to were Republican at all it was a Republican paper with Democratic tendencies, and its tendencies were more frequently Democratic than Republican." Our new Senator hit the nail squarely on the head. He described the paper in question exactly.

What's in a name? At Felicity, Ohio, two men were stabbed by Fred Seine, all on account of a colored girl. The motive that produced this stabbing in Felicity was the jealousy of the lover in Seine. It will be interesting when this case comes to see if the jury will reverse the usual order and decline the murderer, Fred Seine. A murderer has also been committed at Utopia, only seven miles from Felicity. Here is an instance where Utopia might as well be a long distance from Felicity.

War between Greece and Turkey has been averted, the ambassadors having accepted the boundary line suggested by the sublime Porte. Since the great powers have accepted the Ottoman offer they will next proceed to reduce the Greeks to submission through diplomatic influences. This will be much easier than persuading the Turks to change their plans. The probability is that war will be averted, which is a great end attained, and after a time the Hellenes may be in luck to accept the inevitable, take the territory ceded and save the cost of a war.

There seems little reason to doubt that Russia and Germany are seriously meditating a scheme to secure concerted action on the part of the European governments for the apprehension of political assassins and malefactors. The Russian ambassadors at the principal foreign courts have all been summoned to St. Petersburg to receive instructions, it is said, to lay the matter before the governments to which they are accredited. There would be little if any objection to the adoption of stringent measures to secure this object, but for the fact that Russia's barbarous treatment of persons who are merely suspected of crime has prejudiced the entire civilized world against delivering up political refugees to the tender mercies of her secret police.

A horrible practice is reported as prevailing in West Virginia, where papers are disposed of by auction to the lowest bidder. The man who agrees to keep the paper for the lowest amount for a year becomes the purchaser. It is reported that the unfortunate victims of this barbarous plan are subjected to all sorts of hardships, the purchasers in many cases being characterless parties who starve the papers in order to make a profit, and force them to perform labor for which they are physically incapacitated. One case is announced where an old lady was bid in by a shark, and upon hearing that she had purchased her she weened pitifully and soon afterwards died of a broken heart. There is a slight disposition shown by the better class of citizens to resist the evil custom. It hardly

The visit of a delegation of the Society of Friends to Washington to confer with the Administration on the Indian question developed the important fact that Secretary Kirkwood agreed with his predecessor in the Interior Department that where practicable lands should be divided among the Indians in severalty. The suggestion of Dr. Rhodes that the Indian schools of Hampton and Carlisle be broken up has nothing to recommend it. The abolition of these schools is not at all necessary to the establishment of similar schools in the Indian country if it is so desired. The two in question at best can care for but a few hundred Indian boys and girls at one time, whereas there are probably fifty thousand of the younger Indians who should be somewhere put to schools to learn English and to learn trades. That policy pursued for a very few years will definitely settle the Indian question. If it is cheaper to feed them than to fight them, it is still cheaper to teach them to feed themselves in a country where the buffalo and the deer can no longer be depended upon to furnish them their daily food. There is an advantage in having these experimental schools in the East rather than the West. They are surrounded and supported here by a public sentiment which heartily sympathizes with and approves the purposes of the schools. This would not be the case on the frontier. Here, too, the Indian children are brought into contact with the most advanced civilization of the country, and what is of supreme importance, during their school course they are, practically, entirely exempt from any parental interference or unfavorable native influence. Peaceful is not a word to be expected from or applied to bomb-makers, mine diggers and other conspirators for assassination, yet the Nihilist implicated in the murder of the Czar all claim to be good, peaceful citizens, who were "reluctantly obliged" to "terrorize" the Czar out of existence. This they certainly did very effectively at last although the several previous attempts with which they acknowledge their connection failed. They will probably soon learn that it is the law in Russia and that terrorizing a thing that is unfortunate in itself, but it can hardly be avoided until both Nihilist and Imperialist meet and make some rational concessions for a settled state of affairs. Certainly no one can regret that these persons will probably be condemned any more than it was impossible not to regret the death of the Czar. Both are the victims of a system.

Perhaps it is an evidence of Senator Mitchell's independence that he speaks his opinion whenever he has one, regardless of the ideas of those who claim to have elected him, as to what constitutes independence. In plain Anglo-Saxon, Senator Mitchell has the main ingredient of that quality known as independence. He has a mind of his own.

A child of Thomas Cummings, of Muncie Ind., awoke the other morning to find its ear pinned to the quilt by a fish hook, which had been dropped somehow into the bed. The child had passed entirely through the ear, and had to be cut in two before it could be removed.

One of the most profitable industries of Australia is the cooking and canning of rabbits. These animals are so numerous that whole crops are sometimes destroyed by them. During the last season, which lasted twenty-five weeks, one firm canned 675,000 of the rodents.

Fred Douglass will not be reappointed marshal of the District of Columbia. Capt. O. E. Henry, of Cleveland, Ohio, will be appointed marshal of the District, and Mr. Douglass will be given another position.

They have some fast people in the West and Northwest. A young man of twenty-six, living in Madison, Wisconsin, has just married the divorced second wife of his grandfather.

A contemporary believes that an Iowa old maid, who has not spoken an audible word for three years, could be effectually cured by leaving her in a room five minutes with a mouse.

The public debt statement for March shows a reduction during the month of $5,192,519.14.

A GRAND WORK.

J. Russell Manning, M. D., V. S., for twenty-five years a practical Stock Raiser and Veterinary Surgeon, has written a book called the "ILLUSTRATED STOCK DOCTOR AND LIFE STOCK ENCYCLOPEDIA," and we learn that it is attracting special attention. He has treated the subject with a masterly hand, and any person interested in Horses, Cows, Sheep, Swine and Poultry, would do well to obtain a copy at once. It tells how to buy, sell, breed, shelter, train, etc., how to know and cure disease, and in language all can understand. The Publishers have rendered it OBJECT TEACHING, by illustrating it with over 400 fine engravings. It is by far the most complete and valuable book lately issued by subscription, and we do not wonder that agents make money rapidly selling it. Published by the well-known firm of HUBBARD BROTHERS, of Philadelphia.

Information has been received of a terrific cyclone in Randolph county, Ala., which destroyed the house and killed the entire family of Mr. John Embry, consisting of himself, wife and two children, while they were asleep.

Only four States now remain as October States—Georgia, Iowa, Ohio, and West Virginia. Michigan and Rhode Island vote in April, Oregon in June, Alabama in August, Arkansas, Maine and Vermont in September. The others, twenty-seven in number, and all the Territories, vote in November.

The most miserable beings in Pennsylvania are certain recently-arrived Hungarians, who are now living from hand to mouth at day labor in the various coal districts. A few days ago two of them who have been working near Easton dug up a calf that had been buried because it had died of disease and made meals from it.

While a carpenter was at work at a third-story window in Lancaster on Tuesday, a hatchet fell to the ground, almost severing Albert Hoffman's leg on the way. Mr. Hoffman was sitting on the front step of the building. The hatchet struck his leg, cutting a gash two inches in length and penetrating the flesh to the bone.

Two facts, according to the Tribune, "stand out prominently in the recent appointments of President Garfield. He does not prescribe nor make war upon any class of Republicans; but he remembers that the people intrusted to him, and not to anybody else, the responsibilities of the Executive office, and he intends to be President himself."

Chicago now boasts the finest railway depot in America, costing $2,000,000. There are three main buildings of Philadelphia pressed brick, and the entire trackage is roofed with iron and glass, under which twenty trains can arrive and depart at the same time. The passenger building is finished in marble and black walnut and the ceilings are finely frescoed.

A startling discovery was made in Hoboken N. J. in the post-mortem examination of the body of Mrs. Adolph Bonhois, of 211 Washington street. It was found that she had been literally eaten alive by trichinae from the effects of which she died on Sunday evening. Her husband is now sick with the disease, and is not expected to live.

Lord Beaconsfield's health is still in a precarious condition. A railroad exploring party in Africa has been almost exterminated by the natives. A war between Greece and Turkey is still imminent, and ought to be prevented by force by the European powers. In a railway collision in Minnesota on Friday, one man was burned to death and six others were injured, several seriously. John McClelland, a raftman from Potter township, Jefferson county, was instantly killed by his raft colliding with another at the mouth of Pine Creek. The snubbing post broke striking him over the head, breaking his skull. There has not been a licensed hotel in Potter county for twenty years. "Old Ab" the famous war eagle of the 8th Wisconsin regiment is dead. In many parts of the State there is a dog poisoning fever, hundreds of dogs being killed by buttons. In Missouri the House of Representatives has passed a bill making it a felony to demand or receive illegal fees. On its death bed, the Corry Daily Press exclaimed: "You might as well try to drive a railroad spike with a tack hammer as to run a non-partisan newspaper in a small place town." John Sherman was out of office on March 3, for the first time in 26 years. He was a private citizen from the afternoon of that day until midnight of the next, when Senator Thurman's term expired. Currie, the murderer of the actor, Porter, in Texas, recently acquitted on the ground of insanity, has been shot dead at Las Vegas, New Mexico, while on a drunken spree in which he threatened to kill several persons. A machine has been invented which can make 100,000 cigarettes a day. The consumption of cigarettes in 1880 amounted to 498,000,000, and it is estimated that 1,000,000,000 will be required to supply the demand for 1881.
