J. CROUSE, Editor & Proprietor.

State Ticket.

State Treasurer,
SILAS M. BAILY, of Fayette.

A man who from his youth up, has fought the battles of Republicanism in a region where no hope of success could add vigor and zeal to the contest, and with no reward save the consciousness of having served the cause he loved.

A man who has attested his love of liberty and law, by service on the field of glory and of blood, who won his promotion in the glorious Pennsylvania Reserves, from Captain to Brigadier, by meritorious service on the field.

A man who stood in the hell of battle at Drainesville, on the Peninsula, at Gaines' Mill, South Mountain, Antietam, Fredericksburg, and the Wilderness, and who bore witness with his blood, that he loved his country well.

He bears upon his person the rough scars left by the cruel cannon ball, and will carry to his grave the evidence of his partriotism and courage.

He is able, and worthy to lead Republicans to Victory as he led his regiment to war.—[Speech of Attorney-General Palmer, in Republican State Convention.

The U. S. Senate, on Thursday of last week, elected David Davis, of Illinois, President pro tem of that body, thereby retiring Mr. Bayard to his accustomed seat on the floor of the Senate

Mrs. Garfield shows a true womanly tenderness and love, when she protests against a further discussion among the physicians of the treatment her illustrious husband received while dying from the wound of an assassin.

The recent local elections in Connecticut show a healthy condition of public sentiment in the gradual increase of Republican strength. Although the offices are purely local and contracted in their influence, the result is, nevertheless, a good omen, pointing to more important victories in the early future.

The Mormons had good reason to fear that their peculiar institution would be antagonized by the Garfield administration, and it is expected that the government will make no compromise with a people upholding a practice so clearly at war with moral and religious obligations.

Gen. G. W. Gordon, the ex-Confederate, recently made an address in memory of the late President Garfield before the Circuit Court, at Memphis, in which he said: "I had rather possess the emotion, the culture, the oratory and the genius of Garfield, than all the blood stained laurels that ever Cæsar tore from the livid brows of fallen kings, or all the jewels that Hannibal stripped from the frozen fingers of his slaughtered knights. The wisdom, moderation and reform foreshadowed in his brief administration, were daily widening his influence and popularity, especially with the people of the South, and we hoped that he was hastening the day when we could all feel and say we have but one flag, one Union, one country and one President."

So long as President Arthur adheres to the fundamental principles that give tone and character to the great party that Lincoln first represented in the Presidential office, so long will he retain the respect, confidence and support of the better portion of the people. He may select many [illegible] respecting [illegible] offici[illegible]

A brother of Guiteau resides in Boston. He has not visited the prisoner or offered to help in his defense.

Four Presidents—Harrison, Taylor, Lincoln and Garfield, and four Vice Presidents—Clinton, Gerry, King and Wilson, all died before their terms of office expired.

Fifteen or twenty thousand will be a fair majority for General Baily, seeing that it is an "off year" That he will have the latter figure seems to be generally conceded among shrewd Republican politicians.

Men who are speculating in bread-food products, which form the staff of life, and expect to realize fortunes, it is hoped, will come to grief. In a land of plenty, under the most adverse circumstances such a class have no right to place a premium upon necessary food. May all such suffer the fate of the Chicago corn speculators.

DAVID REICHLY

Twenty years ago, David Reichly the republican candidate for sheriff of Snyder county was thrown upon the rugged conflict of life without any assistance but his own toiling hands. On the 14th, of Oct. 1862, he volunteered as a private soldier in his county's service serving under Ex Gov. Hartranft who commanded the 51st, P. V. V.

Dec. 13th, 1862, he saw for the first time the fire and blood and deadly carnage a soldier has to pass through in the memorable battle of Fredericksburg. In Feb. 1862 the Regt. was ordered to Newport News Va. from there to Kentucky. In June, 1863, were ordered to Mississippi where during the months of June and July were operating in the siege of Vicksburg, marched to and were at the siege of Jackson Miss. In the month of Aug. returned to Ky. and were almost immediately ordered to Tenn., where they were engaged in the battle of Campbell's Station Nov. 16th, 1863. Were actively engaged at the siege of Knoxville, from Nov. 18th to Dec. 6th. Were on the retreat of the enemy, and marched as far as Blaine's Cross Roads. The soldiers suffered much in consequence of poor clothing and reduced rations during the Tenn. campaign. The Regt. re-enlisted was afterwards ordered to Va. it was in Grants great campaign to advance upon Richmond. Were actively engaged and lost heavily in men May 5, 6 and 7, 1864, in the Wilderness, Mr. Reichly was in every engagement that his Regt. was until he was shot down in his seventh battle in a desperate and bloody charge in front of Spottsylvania Court-house, he was honorably discharged, May, the 17th, 1865, he was obedient to his officers never had any serious difficulties with any of his comrades, his word and his promises are good, his manners are polished, and his conduct is sublime.

We the undersigned soldiers and companions wish him success in his undertaking.

Scab or no scab—that's the question. "Mr.——you attend to your business and I will attend to mine." Is the sentiment wholesome?

The Standing Committee of both parties met in Middleburg on Saturday last—there was no affinity, hence didn't mix.

KAHOKA, Mo., Feb. 9, 1880.
I purchased five bottles of your Hop Bitters of Bishop & Co. last fall, for my daughter, and am well pleased with the Bitters. They did her more good than all the medicine she has taken for six years.
WM. T. McLURE.

The above is from a very reliable farmer, whose daughter was in poor health for seven or eight years, and could obtain no relief until she used Hop Bitters. She is now in as good health as any person in the country. We have large sales, and they are making remarkable cures.
