The Post

Middleburg, JAN. 25, 1882.

J. CROUSE Editor & Proprietor.

The spread of small pox throughout the country is causing the people in many places to wake up and prepare to fight the malady.

The Philadelphia Times calls attention to the fact that store orders and due bills are subject to a United States tax of ten per cent.

The Erie company have concluded to discharge every man in their employ along the road that drinks intoxicating liquors, even if he keeps straight.

It is predicted that when Judge Cox sentences Guiteau to be hanged, as he surely will be called on to do, he will die of fright. A greater coward does not live than this wretched assassin.

Many members are still sighing for an extra session of the legislature, but the governor is still firm in his resolve not to make a call. Some of the members think him more hard hearted than economical.

Wolfe is happy. His convention will meet in Philadelphia on the 24th of May, and if he is nominated for governor his cup will run over.—Gazette & Bulletin.

Governor Cornell, of New York, refused in every case, to interfere with the action of the courts where the life of the criminal was the price asked. He is the first governor of that state to make a year's record without thwarting the decree of the court.

That enterprising penny paper, the Philadelphia Record, keeps forging ahead, Saturday last it printed 90,200 copies, and as the sheet was a double one on that day, it weighed over 13,000 pounds, or six and a half tons.

The people of Elk county are not only happy but well to do and independent. But one sheriff sale is advertised for this term of court. Is there another county in the commonwealth that can beat that?

It is sad to realize that Senator Wagner had to be burned to death in one of his own magnificent parlor cars. It is enough to cause a cloud of sorrow to pass over the face of Palace Pullman.

The confidence quack doctor is on his country tour, and the public are cautioned against purchasing his high-toned as well as high priced medicines. Several farmers up in Bradford have been taken in the past week. Steer clear of all such characters, and when you want medicines go to a physician or druggist you know.

The young murderer sent to the Albany state prison for life, from Bath, New York last Saturday, is another victim to the reading of bad books and sensational papers that illustrate crime and fire the young heart with ideas of an exciting, thrilling and adventurous character. McEntee was only seventeen years old when he killed another, educated to such a work by reading impure novels and boys' papers. Parents cannot be too careful what reading their children peruse.

An effort will be made during the present session of Congress to revive what was called the Chambersburg Raid Bill. The bill was once or twice attempted to be passed by the Legislature of Pennsylvania, but it did not receive a sufficient number of votes. The trouble about Congress providing for the payment of these claims is that they have nearly all passed out of the hands of the persons who received the damage, and now owned by Attorneys and speculators.

The superintendent of the railway mail service has issued a circular to the division superintendents in which he says: "In view of the prevalence of smallpox throughout the country at the present time you are instructed in every case where a report is made to you in regard to the matter, with the request that the mail communication be suspended between the infected localities and others, to take necessary action at once without consulting this office. This is necessary in order that the department shall not in any way be responsible for spreading any contagious diseases." This is rather an odd order, as under it, some bull headed P. M like the one up the river, who some years ago ordered the sale of postage stamps to be stopped except at his office, might stop mail communication on the Pennsylvania Railroad altogether.

....The mountains near Altoona are full of rabbits and squirrels.

....Considerable numbers of otters are being shot in Bradford county.

....There is a demand for men in the Forest county lumbering region.

....The Catholic priests in Cambria county are opposing the granting of tavern licenses.

....Edward Green, of Ashley, Schukill county, was gored to death by a cow last Friday.

....Hunting and fishing are common Sunday practices with the people of Clearfield county.

....John Grosh, a farmer living near Muncy, furnished four hundred meals to tramps last year.

....Ephriam Bowers, of Scranton, was drowned in the Delaware river near Philadelphia on Sunday.

....Harry Hartman, a painter fell from the roof of a house in Coatsville, last Monday, and broke his neck.

....Peter Mower, a teamster in the Clearfield lumber region, was killed on Monday by logs rolling on and crushing him.

....Phillip Henderson, a lime burner fell into a kiln near Gettysburg, last Thursday, and perished before he could be rescued.

....Ephraim Frank shot a bear on the road leading to Ebensburg on New Year's day, which had killed nine hogs in that vicinity this winter.

....Rev. E. B. Chamberlain, of East Springfield, Crawford county, dropped dead in the postoffice in that place last week. He was 70 years old.

....Jamestown parties are drilling a well near Pittsfield, Warren county. Seven hundred feet has been drilled with no showing of oil yet.

....A fourteen hundred pound bull was the object of a raffle in Lehigh county last week, which was won by a Reading tobacconist, Henry F. Fegley.

....Herman Hough, a carpenter, while engaged in joining timber for a barn in Somerset county, fell from an elevation of thirty feet and broke both legs and his left arm.

....Passmore Johnson, colored engaged in a rolling mill at Phœnixville, has both eyes injured by an explosion of iron, Friday last, to such a degree that it is feared he will lose his sight.

A father and son could not get along well together on the same farm, at Guthrie, Miss., and it was settled, after much bickering, that the son should leave. He paid all his debts, gave away his remaining property, and appointed a day for departure. When the time came, he shook hands with his family, including the father, who asked, "Where are you going?" "To the devil," the young man replied, drawing a pistol and instantly killing himself.

Professor Tice, the distinguished Meteorologist and Weather Prophet of of St. Louis, has issued his ANNUAL NATIONAL WEATHER FORECASTS for 1882, in which, besides foretelling the weather for every day in the year and clearly explaining the theory on which his predictions are based, he gives much other information concerning atmospheric phenomenon—the whole designed not only to give the facts as to the weather, but to teach the masses the facts determining weather changes. Other matter concerning the farm, garden and household, of special interest, is added—the whole serving to make it the most complete and practical of his long series of annual issues. Its value to everyone, and especially the farmer, is apparent. For sample copy and terms to the trade and to agents, send 20 cents to Thompson, Tice & Lillingston, of St. Louis, Mo.
