vicinity, but their number is small compared with the numerous flocks, that, a few years since, might be seen holding their strange dances on some favorite knoll, or feeding, while their sentinels, judiciously posted, stood ready to give warning of any suspicious in-

Some are incredulous as to the dancing of cranes. It is true, their movements are not as graceful as a Frenchman's or their quadrilles quite a la mode; but dance they certainly do. As for their music, though lacking the harmony, it is about as loud and melodious as a fashionable opera air.

The Sand Hill Crane is omniverous, devouring pretty much everything eaten by birds. The nest is a simple pile of rushes, or grass, flat on the top, built in some deep slough or pond. The eggs-two in number-are shaped much like those of the common turkey, of a light amber color, and splashed with brown. The nest is usually surrounded by deep water, but the young birds swim readily, and leave it as soon as hatched. It is believed by many that they separate immediately upon leaving the nest, each of the old birds taking care of one—the supposition being that they would fight if allowed to remain together. In corroboration of this somewhat singular idea, I can only sav I never found two of the young birds in company, and a pair which I had coused a hen to hatch, fought from the time they left the shell till, in fact, they killed each other outright.

This bird is easily domesticated. I kept one for several years, who showed all the attachment and intelligence of a dog. He never forgot a friend or forgave an injury.-If any one had abused him, it was of no avail to attempt disguise; he recognized his encmies in any dress, and by an angry croak showed his displeasure, and warned them to keep out of his reach. He was a great gormandizer, and was very fond, among other us plant. Though a desire for knowledge lifed form, might be very laudable this mode of obtaincaused his banishment.

I provided him with a warm house, but he preferred to one of them, lying flat on his breast, with his might frequently be seen playing with them; Marvel, Esq. his part of the performance consisted in springing up, flapping his wings, and whooping fremendously. This was precisely the same as the dancing of his wild brothern .-He would also dance to the waving of the handkerchief; and on windy washing-days sometimes danced for hours at a time to the clothes on the line. When much entaged he would stand with his head and bill pointed directly unward, and utter a harsh, droaking sound, quite unlike his usual whoop.

A young crane makes no despicable article of food. The old ones, I should suppose: would be rather tough and snaky, but an old Indian hunter of my acquaintance says, "A tending divine worship, nor stand in front of turkey is not half as good eating."

Audubon supposed this to be only the young of the white crane, but he was wrong. The white crane (Grus Americana) is more from, when he left, when he intends to go of a southern bird, and exceedingly rare here. back, or the number of his dollars. You may I saw a pair flying over this fall for the first juquire as to the state of his health, and that time. These two species are amongst the of his parents, sisters and brothers, but venlargest and finest of our North American ture no further.

Frost as a Manure.

We know of no treatment so directly beneficial, for almost every class of soils as that which they profess. of throwing up land in marrow ridges in the fall or early winter. There are few soils nor niggardly. Make good use of your dolworth cultivation at all, that do not contain lars, but not idols. Live within your means, more or less materials which can be made and never borrow money in anticipation of available to plants by the combined action of your salary.

Take two plots of heavy soil, side by side, and let one lie unmoved till spring, while the other is deeply plowed in autumn, and the result will be very visible in the dred sheep, chiefly Leicesters and Southspring erop. But the manner of plewing is downs. In this country the people generalimportant. This operation will be equal from the bone when cooked. The best anito ten or more loads of good manure upon clay or compact soils.

In the spring it will only be necessary to run a plow once or twice through the centre of each ridge, and then level the whole down with a heavy harrow.

Another advantage in this process, is that when land is thus prepared it dries out and warms several days earlier in the spring .-Again there are some soils that are exhausted upon the surface, but which contain poisonous substances in the subsoil. If this subsoil is thrown up in contact with the air and frost during winter, these poisonous compounds (usually proto-sulphate of iron or manganese) will be destroyed, or changed to a harmless' form, during winter.

The above practice is especially to be recommended in the garden. One of the most successful cultivators of an acre of ground in our acquaintance, digs it up in the full to the the depth of three or four teet, making deep the Soft Shell Syracuse Convention—to wit, acre appears to be covered with high winrows of hay placed closely together.

THE ADMINISTRATION AND THE NEBRASKA QUESTION.—THE REAL PLATFORM.—Some of our country cotemporaries, since the elections are very desirous to learn the exact position of the Administration on the Nebruska question since the late elections Is it "squatter. sovereignty?" that doctrine is repudiated by the Democracy of the South, Is it the introduction of slavery into Kansas and Nebraska?—that idea is scouted by all the democracy of the North, Cass and Douglas included. Is it that free labor may expel slave labor from the new Territories south of 39 ards, Esq., north of the Court House. 30 this view of the subject agrees with the Scarlet Letter; but the Cabinet organ is silent upon it. As far as we can figure it out, DELAWARE, LACKAWANNA AND WESTERN the platform of the President and Cabinet at Washington on the Nebraska bill is that of that the bill was unwise, uncalled for, and inexpedient, and yet a proper and salutary measure; a monstrous outrage, but a great act of public justice. OR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC. THERE has long existed a public demand for an ef-almost every purgative medicine is aermonious and irritating to the bowels. This is not. Many of them produce so much griping pain and revulsion in the system as to more than counterbalance the good to be derived from them. These pills produce no irritation or pain, unless it arise from a previously existing ob struction or derangement in the bowels. Being purely regetable, no harm can arise from their use in and quantity; but it is better that any medicine should be taken judiciously. Minute directions for their use in the several diseases to which they are applicable are given on the box. Among the complaints which have been speedly cured by them, we may mention Liver Complaint, in its various forms of Jaundice. In digestion, Larguor and Loss of Appetite, Listlesness, Irritability, Bilious Headache, Bilious Fever, Fever and Ague, Pain in the Side and Loins; for, in truth, all there are but the consequence of diseased action in the liver. As an aperient, they afford prompt and sure relief in Cositiveness, Piles, Cholic, Dysentery, Humors, Scrofula and Scurvy, Colds with soreness of the body, Vicers and impurity of the blood; in short, any and every case where a purgative is required.

They have produced some singularly successful cures in Rheumatism, Gout, Dropsy, Gravel, Erysipelas, Palpitation of the Heart, Pains in the Back, Stomach and Side. They should be freely taken in the spring of the year, to purify the blood and prepare the system for the change of seasons. An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, and restores the appetite and viger. They purify the blood, and, by their stimulant action, on the dirculatory system, renovate the strength of the body, and restore the wasted or diseased energies of the whole organism. Hence an occasional dose is advantageous, even though no serious derangement exists; but unnecessary dosings should never be carried too far as every purgative medicine reduces the strength when taken to excess. The thousand cases in which a physic is required cannot be onumerated here, but they suggest themselves to the reason of every body, and it is confidently believed this pill will answer a and it is connective better purpose than anything which has hither to been available to mankind. When their virtues are once known, the public will no longer doubt what remedy to employ when in need of a catherize medicine. Being sugar wrapped they are pleasant to take, and being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their ase in any quantity. ite directions see wrapper on the Box. Prepared by JAMES C. AYER, Practical and An-Price 25 Cents per Box. Five Boxes for $1.
