DEATH OF A CHILD.

The following touching memorial of a lovely child was written by Mr. William B. Bradbury, of New York, the well-known composer, and will find a response in every parent's heart. It is an elegiac poem in prose, full of feeling, and portraying a child of extraordinary promise:

"Died, Nov. 17th, KITTIK LIZZIE, daughter of William R. and Adra E. Bradbury, aged five years and seventeen days: "Kittie is gone. Where? To heaven. An angel came and took her away. She was a lovely child—gentle as a little lamb; the pet of the whole family; the youngest of them all. But she could not stay with us any longer. She had an angel sister in heaven who was waiting for her. The angel sister was with us only a few months, but she has been in heaven many years; and she must have loved Kittie, for everybody loved her. The loveliest flowers are often soonest plucked. If a little voice sweeter and more musical than others, was heard, I knew Kittie was near. If my study-door opened so gently and slyly that no sound could be heard, I knew Kittie was coming. If, after an hour's quiet play, a little shadow passed me, and the door opened and shut as no one else could open and shut it, so as not to disturb papa, I knew Kittie was going When, in the midst of my composing, I heard a gentle voice, saying, 'Papa, may I stay with you'a little while? I will be very still,' I did not need to look off my work, to assure me it was my little lamb. You staid with me too long, Kittie dear, to leave me so suddenly; and you are roo still now. You became my little assistant; my home angel; my youngest and sweetest singing bird; and I miss the little voice that I have heard in an adjoining room, catching up and echoing little snatches of melody as they were being composed. I miss those soft and sweet kisses. I miss the little hand that was always first to be placed upon my forehead, to 'drive away the pain.

he pain.'
I miss the sound of those little feet upon the stairs. I miss the little knock at my bedroom door in the morning, and the tripple good night kiss in the evening. I miss the sweet smile from the sunniest of faces. I miss-oh! how I miss the foremost in the little group who come out to meet me at the gate for the first kiss. I do not stoop so low now, Kittie, to give that first kiss. I miss you at the table, and at family worship. miss your voice in 'Lwant to be an angel,' for nebody could sing it like you. I miss you in my rides and walks. I miss you in the garden. I miss you everywhere; but I will try not to miss you in heaven. 'Papa. if we are good, will an angel truly come and take us to heaven when we die?' When the question was asked, how little did I think the and the sweet flower is translated to a more papa will come. The journey is not long. He will soon be 'home.'

To be is at the head; In the one place, he is ruled by all-while in the other, he rules all, But, notwithstanding almost every one in this highly favored land, where all kinds of knowledge are so generally disseminated through the agency of a free press, has heard of the existence of a "printers devil," we are nevertheless-inclined to think there are many people, even among those who are pretty well posted up on the subject of "demonology," who are not aware that there is such a being as a "lawyer's devil." Such however, is the fact. Characters of this kind are to be found in Great Britain, and we presume there may be some of the "same sort" in this country. The duties of this demoniac individual, it ap pears, are more laborious and wearisome than fiend-like and infernal. He searches out precedents and cases in point, in the statuebooks) for some more favored "limb of the ina," who is blessed with such a superabundance of practice that he cannot himself well find time to perform that kind of drudgery. In other words a "lawyer's devil" is one of those unfortunate fellows who is doomed to do pretty much all the shaking, while "the bird" is caught by his more successful legal

OF MESSES. FILLMORE AND DONELBON-We are under no necessity of declaring our opinions, or of defining our relations. Their position is understood by simply naming the source of their nomination. Brought forward by the pro-slavery influences of the country, North and South, they stand antagonistical to Freedom and to Republicanism. So far as the North is concerned, they have no chance of carrying a single State; and if they should carry Delaware, Maryland, Kentucky and Tennessee, it will be all their friends have a right now to calculate on. And this result, instead of weakening the prospects of the Republican candidates (whoever they may be,) will only tend to strengthen them, and increase their chances of an election by the Col-

Without at this time entering more fully into detail, having from different points looked over the whole ground, we pronounce the prospect ahead decidedly flattering and cheering. Rattle the windows,
Rain, drop on the pane!
Rain, drop on the pane!
There are tears and sighs in hearts and eyes.

And the blasted limbs of the church-yard trees.

The dead are engulfed beneath it, Sunk in the grassy waves; But we have more dead in our hearts to-day Than earth in all her graves!

· A Gem. This exquisite utterance is from the heart of Mrs. Elizabeth Barrett Browning

"Speak low to me, my Savior, low and sweet From out the hallelujahs, sweet or low, Lest I should fear and fall, and miss thee so, Who art not missed by any that entreat. Speak to me as to Mary at thy feet—
Speak to me as to Mary at thy feet—
And if no precious gems my hand bestow,
Let my tears drop like amber, while I go
In reach of thy divinest voice, complete
In humanest affection—thus in south To lose the sense of losing! As a child Whose song-bird seeks the wood for evermore Is sung to, in its stead, by mother's mouth, Till sinking on her breast, love reconciled, He sleeps the faster that he weft before."

Not lately has a neater epigram than the fol-owing, from the Evening Post, been "going the ounds of the papers:" "As my wife and I, at the window one day, Stood watching a man with a monkey, A cart came by, with a broth of a boy, Who was driving a stout little donkey. To my wife I then spoke, by way of a joke,
'There's a relation of yours in that carriage.'
To which she replied, as the donkey she spied,
'Ah, yes, a relation—BY MARRIAGE!'

Rebecca Rawson.

Rebecca Rawson was the sixth daughter and ninth child of Edward Rawson, "the famous secretary," who traced his descent from Sir Edward Rawson, "a doughty knight of ancient memory." She was born in Boston, May 23, -1656, and her life affords material for as romantic a tale as ever adorned the pages of fiction. She was nursed in the lap of uxury, and was pronounced to be one of the nost beautiful and accomplished young ladies in New England. "Beautiful and vain," she considered herself "suitable to wed a lord." An impudent knave from England, by the name of Ramsey, possessed of a pleasing person and attractive address, passed himself off as Sir Thomas Hale, jr., nephew to the Lord Chief Justice of that name, and as such, paid court to the fair Rebecca, gained her consent, and; "in the presence of forty witnesses" they were solemnly united, "for better and for worse," by a minister of the gospel, on the 1st of July, 1679.

She was "handsomely furnished," and immediately sailed for England with her boxes and bundles, and her lord-her vain bosom swelling with pictures of the gay and giddy life she was to lend at court. In due time she safely arrived, and went on shore in a dishabiile, leaving her trunks and packages to be sent after her. Early the next morning, her "lord" took the keys, and told her he would send up the trunks in season for her to dress for dinner. In due time the trunks came, but with them no key and no husband. angel was so near! But he did 'truly come, After waiting until a late hour, with the greatand the sweet flower is translated to a more est impatience, she had the trunks opened by congenial clime. I do wish papa would force and, lo! not an article of any value was come home. Wait a little while, Kittie, and left in them! He had decamped, stripping her of every thing but the dishabille in which she was attired. In expressible astenishment, she ordered a carriage, and drove to the place where she had spent the night before with her husband, and inquired for Sir Thomas Hale. She was informed that he had not been there for some days. She was sure that he was there the night before. In reply, she was fidelity. The news fell on her car like the tail of affairs, while in pandemonium he a thunderbolt, crushing her hopes, heart, and abandoned-betrayed-ruined-expecting soon to become a mother, with no funds, and too much pride to apply to her friends, she sought an humble abode, and with the aid of her needle and pencil, for thirteen long years supported herself and her child in a genteel manner. Yearning at length to see her friends, she left her child in care of a sister, who had come to England to reside, and embarked for Boston, by way of Jamaica. While at the latter port, her vessel was swallowed up by an earthquake, and thus tragically ended her eventful and melancholy life.

> VARIETY OF FOOD NECESSARY. It is in regetable as in animal life; a mother crams her child exclusively with arrow root-it becomes fat, it is true; but alas! it is rickety, and gets its teeth very slowly, and with difficulty. Mamma is ignorant, or never thinks that her offspring cannot make bone—or what is the same thing, phosphate of lime, the principle bulk of bone-out of starch,-It does its best, and were it not for a little milk and bread, perhaps now and then a little meal and soup, it would have no bones

CATHARTIC PILLS OATHAKILU FILES

OBLIGATE by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood-and stimulate it into healthy action. They remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, and, by restoring their irregular action to health, correct, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first causes of disease. An extensive trial of their virtues, by Professors, Physicians, and Patients, has shown cures of dangelous-diseases almost beyond belief, were they not substantiated by persons of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Their certificates are published in my American Almaniac, which the Agents below named are pleased to furnish free to all inquiring.

Annexed we give Directions for their use in the compliants which they have been found to cure. Four Costiveness.—Take one or two Pills, or such quantity as to gently move the bowels. Costiveness is frequently the aggravating cause of Piles, and the cure of one complaint is the cure of both. No person can feel well while under a costive habit of body. Hence it should be, as it can be, promptly relieved.

costive habit of body. Hence it should be, as it can be promptly relieved.

For Dyspersia, which is sometimes the cause of Costivenus, and always uncomfortable, take mild doses—from one to four—to stimulate the stomach and liver into healthy action. They will do it, and the hearthurn, bodyhurn, and soulburn of dyspepsia will rapidly disappear. When it has gone, don't forget what cured you.

For a Four Stomach, or Morbid Inaction of the Borels, which produces general depression of the spirits and health, take from four to eight Pills at first, and smaller doses afterwards, until activity

Bonels, which produces general depression of the spirits and bad health, take from four to eight Fills at first, and smaller doses afterwards, until activity and strength is restored to the system.

For Nervousness, Sick Headache, Nausek, Pain in the Stomach, Back, or Side, take from four to eight pills on going to bed. If they do not operate sufficiently, take more the next day until they do. These complaints will be swept out from the system. Don't wear these and their kindred disorders because your stomach is foul.

For Sciorula, Erysterias, and all Discuss of the Skin, take the Pills freely and frequently, to keep the bowels open. The cruptions will generally soon begin to diminish and disappear. Many dreadful ulcers and sores have been healed up by the purging and purifying effect of these Pills, and some disgusting diseases which seemed to saturate the whole system have completely yielded to their influence, leaving the sufferer in perfect health. Patients! your duty to society forbids that you should parade yourself abound the world covered with pimples, blotches, illeers, sores, and all or any of the unclean diseases of the skin, because your system wants cleansing.

To Purify the Blood, they are the best medicinclever discovered. They should be taken freely and frequently, and the impurities which sow the seeds of incurable diseases will be swept out of the system like chaff before the wind. By this property, they do as much good in preventing sickness as by the remarkable cures which they are making every LIVER COMPLAINT, JAUNDICE, and all Bilions

Liver Complaint, Jaundice, and all Billons Affections, arise from some derangement—either torpidity, congestion, or obstructions of the Liver. Torpidity and congestion vitiate the bile and renderit unfit for digestion. This is disastrous to the health, and the constitution is frequently undermined by no other cause. Indigestion is the same torn. Obstruction of the duct which empties the mined hyno other cause. Indigestion is the singleton. Obstruction of the duct which empties the bild into the stomach causes the bile to overflow into the blood. This produces Jaiudice, with a long and dangerous train of evils. Costiveness, or alternately costiveness and diarrhera, prevails. Feverish symptoms, languor, low spirits, weariness, tesdessness, and melancholy, with sometimes inability to keep, and sometimes great drowsiness; sometimes there is severe pain in the side; the skin and the white of the eyes become agreenish yellow; the stomach acid; the bowels sore to the touch; the whole system irritable, with a tendency to fever, which may turn to bilious fever, bilious colic, bilious diarrhera, dysentery, &c. A medium dose of three four Pills taken at night, followed by two or three in the morning, and repeated a few days, will remove in the morning, and repeated a few days, will remove the cause of all these troubles. It is wicked to suffer such pains when you can cure them for 25 cents.
RHEUMATISM, Gour, and all Inflammatory Fevers, are rapidly cured by the purifying effects of these Pills upon the filood and the stimulus which they afford to the vital principal of Life. For these and all kindred complaints they should be taken inhild doses, to move the bowels gently, but freely. mild doses, to move the dowers gently, but freely.
As a DINNER PILL, this is both agreeable and useful. No Pill can be made more pleasant to take, and certainly none has been made more effectual to the purpose for which a dinner pill is employed.
