Joe Smith and the Mormons.

There are persons now living in this County who remember Joe Smith, the great Mor. mon prophet, when he lived in Harmony township, just above Great Bend on the Susquehanna. He was a young man then, and will often see. He belonged to a worthless, shiftless family, and his father, his brothers, and himself, spent a great deal of their time in digging for buried money and other hidden treasures, Joe acting as guide in the matter and looking through a stone placed in a hat
