A number of the servants Harford, May 6, 1856. employed at the Hotel were examined.

The testimony was somewhat contradictory, but their evidence was mainly to the effect that Mr. Herbert came into the dining room at halt past 11 o'clock, accompanied by a friend, and called for breakfast, but it veing past the usual hour was informed by a rvant that he could not have a meal withwit an order from the office. Mr. Herbert directed several servants who spoke to him on the subject, to retire, calling them harsh mames. The deceased made reply, when Mr. Herbert struck him with his fist or a napkin. The deceased picked up a plate or a tray, making a movement as if to throw it, when Mr. Herbert threw a chair at the deceased, the latter' returning the assault with a RESPECTFULLY informs her friends and the plate. During the melee, Patrick, a broth- R public generally that under the firm of A. D. er of the deceased, entered, having heard of Storm & Co. she has just received at her room over the proceedings. Herbert seized him and the two brothers closed on Herbert. The proceedings became intensely exciting, and in the affair the crockery and chairs were broken profusely by the parties to the contest. The Austrian Minister, quietly beholding what was occurring, did not move till he went up to the man whom Herbert had shat, and ascertained that he was dead.

Colonel McKay testified that he saw when he went into the dining room, six or seven I will persons in a scaffle. He thought it was a date. general fight among the servants of the hotel, but beheld one of the servants knock down Mr. Gardiner with a chair. He saw the servant striking Mr. Herbert, holding him by the wrists. One hit him with chairs. The witness seized a chair to defend Herbert, who was sinking under the weight of these men. and Mr. Gardiner was beating them promiscuously. After Mr. Herbert fired his pistol. two other servants still clenched him. Mr. Smith rushed forward with a cane, saying, "If you don't release him I'll kill you," Herbert was much injured, and the witness had placed the black patch on his nose. The pistol was a single barrel. Capt. J. Smith confirmed Mr. McKay's statement, saying the crowds of servants had Herbert in their power, striking him on the head with plates, Scc.

Mr. Bishop, member of Congress, was positive the pistol was discharged while the struggle was going on. Three or four per-sons were holding Herbert down, and he appeared much exhausted.

But seeing how nicely it operated on my brother, I got a bottle of RHODES' FEVER AND AGUE CURE, which effected a permanent cure by using two thirds of a bottle."

S. M. CONKLIN was not here, but both the other brothers say his case was the same as H. M's. I sold the medicine to both the same day, and the cure was stones, corner of a lot sold to George Gates and Henas speedy from the same small quantity, and I might as speedy from the same speet, so specify; Yours with respect, A. HUNTINGTON. ry and P. S. Babcock, in the south line of lot No. 16 of the resurvey of H. Drinker's Meshoppen tract;

The above speaks for itself. Good proof as it is, it is of no better tenor than the rast number of like cerline of land formerly of J. Ross to the south-west cor-ner hereof, and of said lot No. 16; thence north 12 tificates I have already published, and the still greater degrees west, 65 perches; thence 50 degrees east amount that is continually pouring in to me. One thing more. Last year I had occasion to cau eral circulars, substituted the name of their nostrums for my medicine, and then with brazen impudence end their pamphlet with the exclamation, 'Let the proprietor of any other medicine say as much if he dares ' &c."

Now I take pleasure in saying that the caution referred to the same "Dr. Christie's Ague Balsam' that is mentioned in the above certificate. There are several other industrious people who are containing 102 acres and 146 perches or thereabout applying to their poisonous trash all that. I publish about Fever and Ague cure, or Antidote to Malaria except the certificates of cures, and the certificate of the celebrated chemist Dr. James R. Chilton of New York, in favor of its perfectly harmless character, 'Taken in execution at the suit of A. Lathrop vs. which are attached to every bottle. These will a ways serve to distinguish my medicine, from imita tions. JAS. A. BHODES, Proprietor Providence; R. I. For sale by I. N. BULLARD, Montrose, and by Druggists generally.
