Musical.

We are informed that Joel H. Bryan, a young man born without hands or feet is to give an entertainment of vocal and instrumental music at Bloomer Hall, on Friday eve, Sept. 5th. The entertainment is highly spoken of, not only in regard to execution and harmony, but the astonishing ingenuity exercised. For particulars see Programme. Admittance 12 1/2 cts.

Mr. Grew's Appointments for speaking in several Townships, will be found in this week's paper. We are glad to learn that he will probably speak in every Township in the County. Mr. Grew's position as Chairman of the Territorial Committee, has given him peculiar facilities for acquiring full knowledge of the Kansas question; and we advise all who desire to know the true state of affairs in that unhappy Territory to go and hear him.

Mass Meeting in Montrose.

The Republicans of Susquehanna County will hold a general Mass Meeting at Montrose on Saturday, the 20th inst. As will be seen by the notice in another column, speakers distinguished for their ability and eloquence have been engaged for the occasion. Senator Wilson, "the Natick Cobbler," Chas. Sumner's colleague who stood up in the Senate, scolding the threats of the "chivalry," and endorsed every word of Sumner's great speech—Anson Burlingame the young Massachusetts representative who cowled Bully Brooks, and whose bold thrilling eloquence, in his speeches to the people, sways them as the wind sways the forests—and G. A. Grew, "the young champion of Free Democracy," who needs no commendation to his constituents but his own acts—it is sufficient to announce these speakers to ensure a general attendance.

The Republicans of Susquehanna have not yet attempted to get up a county Mass Meeting.

Now let us see what they can do in that line.

Senator Broadhead is franking documents into this County, purporting to have been written by a Fillmore man, and in favor of adhering to Fillmore to the last, but in opposition to the Union State ticket and to the Fillmore electoral ticket! Has Broadhead become a Fillmore man? or is he resorting to the low trickery of a small politician to prevent if possible the defeat of Buchanan in Pennsylvania?

The Buchanan papers are crowding over the acquisition of Rufus Choate, of Massachusetts, as though it was anything remarkable that a few of the more aristocratic Boston Whigs should go for the old Federalist of foe seeker. That is the turn political affairs are now taking; a portion of the Cotton Whigs of the cities are going over to the sham Democracy, but for every one that does so, a dozen of the true Democrats of the country leave the pro-Slavery organization and unite with the Republicans.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF CONGRESS.

The special session of Congress closed on Saturday last, August 30th, after passing the Army appropriation bill, without the House proviso against using the military power of the nation to enforce the bogus laws of Kansas. The vote in the House on striking out the proviso resulted as follows: yeas 101, nays 98. Of the 101 yeas 80 were from the Slave States, and 21—19 Buchanan men and 3 Fillmore men—were from the free States. The South was a unit in favor of sustaining Border Ruffianism, and the North was divided and dissatisfied.

The Hunker Convention.

The Slavery extremists of Susquehanna County, held their Convention on Monday last, and after making Dr. Leet Chairman, and appointing other officers of the meeting, proceeded to make the following nominations: For Senator, R. B. Little, of Montrose; for Representative, R. T. Stephens, of Great Bend; for Associate Judges, W. K. Hatch of Montrose and John Smiley of Gibson; for Commissioner, Richard Collins, of Apolcon; for Surveyor, O. S. Beebe; for District Attorney, William M. Post, of Montrose; for Auditor, Timothy Sullivan.

It was thought best to give the Tioga Democracy the privilege of being whipped on Congress, and no nomination was made in the Convention.

Mr. Little came forward and declaimed the nomination for Senator, as several sagacious politicians had previously done. Mr. Little said he had been accused by his personal and political enemies of changing his politics for office, and he meant to live it down. As he stood no chance of an election, this looked very disinterested. Four election districts were unrepresented, namely, Thomsen, Herrick, Clifford, and Dundaff.

The meeting was quite harmonious, the principal effort appearing to be to escape nominations rather than to get them, which would seem to indicate that they don't consider they stand any chance before the people.

The Convention unanimously adopted resolutions endorsing the National and State nominees and the Cincinnati platform, and demanding the Clergy for meddling with politics, selected a Co. Committee, and adjourned. If the Republicans' Meeting to hear Mr. Grew was a "fizzle," as the "Montrose Democrat" called it, we don't know what to call the small affair on Monday last.

We had almost forgotten to mention that the distinguished Snobble—who still carries among us for the education and consolation of the terrified—came forward, on the invitation of Dr. Leet, to read from the Scrap Book that some Buchanan young ladies of Lyncoln county, he said, had made for him. This Snobble, it will be remembered, expounded Democracy to the people on the first Monday of Court, and gave them to understand that David Wilmut and he were distinguished sons of Pennsylvania, both well known to fame, he being we suppose, the author of some "Snobble Proviso." Having had the pleasure of listening to Mr. Snobble when he first spoke here, we were quite astonished on hearing him again to perceive how much he had learned during his two weeks' perambulation of Susquehanna county. Those who heard him on the first occasion will remember that he labored under the singularly erroneous idea that Slavery was a most blessed institution, blessing both him that enslaves and him that is enslaved, bringing the light of the Gospel to the heathen, cementing the bonds of the Union, and supplying a great source of wealth without which the government could not be sustained. Well, Snobble has been around among the people of Susquehanna two weeks, and now he teaches that Slavery is a great evil, and that the Democratic party, from the days of Jefferson to the present time, has considered it an evil and been opposed to it, and is now opposed to it, both at the North and the South. See the wonderful effects of the free air of our bill on dogmatism.

No wonder Buckalew got frightened, and hurried off South. We have some hopes of making a Free Soiler of Snobble yet, if he will stay with us a while, only he seems hitherto a little dumber headed and befogged, as to which is the genuine Democratic party.

We doubt not that the Massachusetts men in the convention hung their heads with shame when the eloquent Snobble pictured to them the self-sacrificing efforts of the freedom-loving Jefferson and his Southern brethren in the constitutional convention, to abolish the African Slave trade, and the pertinacity with which the Massachusetts Yankees clung to the privilege for twenty years longer of "stealing niggers from Africa to sell at the South"; but it must have consoled them to reflect that Massachusetts has reformed since that day, and is now willing to go quite as far as the modern chivalry in favor of freedom.—If, as he represents, the Southern Democracy are still opposed to Slavery, of course, they cannot have any serious objection to have their Northern brethren turn in and help them prevent the evil's spreading, which is all we can do, abolishing it where it already exists being their affair.

As we have said Snobble is improving.—But there is still room for improvement. Though he has corrected his error as to the character of the institution of Slavery, he is still in error as to the character of Judge Wilmut, and his standing before the people. He is in error in supposing that the people of Susquehanna county will believe—because a lawyer who could not succeed at the Philadelphia bar, but feels himself quite competent to enlighten the dwellers in the "Beech Woods," says so—that Judge Wilmut, whom they have often heard speak words of wisdom on the Slavery question at home, when abroad utters on the same subject nonsense that any schoolboy would be ashamed of. He is in error when he supposes that the Republicans are such fools as to suppose that anybody can sell them out to Fillmore or any one else. He is in error when he supposes that he can shake the confidence of the public mind in Judge Wilmut, by charges of falsehood, and thereby bring Free Soilers into the ranks of pro-Slavery Hunkerism. He is in error where he asserts that the Boston Liberator is a Republican paper, and expects an intelligent people to believe him. He is in error when he says that the Topeka constitution excludes free blacks, and expects reading men to believe him. He is in error when in face and eyes of the assault on Senator Sumner and the Border Ruffian outrages in Kansas, all screamed and upheld by the party, he asserts that the so-called Democratic party is the party that sustains the laws and opposes the use of the bludgeon and the bullet, and expects people who take the papers to believe him. He is in error when he asserts that the Republican papers and speeches are filled with falsehoods about Kansas affairs, when many of us have friends and relatives there who confirm the worst ac-
