We have been led to branches. Care must be taken not to have a these remarks from having had very frequent blaze. This should be repeated about once a opportunities during the the past two months of observing the reckless indifference manifested by very many farmers in the construction and location of their barn yards. Indeed it appeared to us, that had it been the fixed design of the owners to afford the most complete escape for all the figuids from their barn yards, they could not have accomplished it more effectually. It is almost impossible true conomy. The farmer who year after year witnesses the streams of rich liquid manure flowing from his barn yard to the nearest rivulet, to be lost to him, torever or running along the road side, residering it unplcasant to eyes and olfactories, has a poor right to complain if his crops are less abundant than his neighbor's. Nor should it be a matter of surprise to him if, after having applied the same quantity of manure, plowed as deep, pulverized as thoroughly, and in every other respect given his crop the same attention, the yield should fall short of his who does not permit the washing rains to exhaust the most vatuable portion of his manure hear.

If it is found necessary to have the barn yard the lower side of it protected by a wall, or some other arrangement by which the escape of liquid manure may be prevented. It is almost equally important to have a spout to convey the rain water from the roof of the barn in some other direction than directly through the barn yard. It is bad enough that the manure heap should be exposed to the rains which fall directly upon it, without adding to it the droppings from the roof of , the barn. If such improvident farmers were to behold the actual value of the fertilizing material thus lost, rolling from their purses in the shape of dollars and cents, how energetically would they labor to prevent the waste. The loss of a single gold dollar would stir them up to a greater activity than the direct waste of a hundred times that little gold dollar's value in the form of liquid manure.-Year after year, silently but steadily, the

They should be taken freely and frequently, and the impurities which sow the seeds of incurable diseases will be swept out of the system like chaff before the wind. By this property they do as much good in preventing sickness as by the remarkable cures which they are making every where.

LIVER COMPLAINT, JAUNDICE, and all Bilious LIVER COMPLAINT, JAUNDICE, and all Bilious Affections, arise from some elerangement—either torpidity, congestion, or obstructions of the Liver. Torpidity and congestion vitiate the bile and render it unfit for digestion. This is disastrons to the health, and the constitution is frequently undermined by no other cause. Indigestion is the symptom. Obstruction of the dudt which empties the bile into the stomach causes the bile to overflow into the blood. This produces Jaundice, with a long and dangerous train of evils. Costiveness, or long and dangerous train of evils. Costiveness, or alternately costiveness and diarrhea, prevails. Feverish symptoms, languor, low spirits, weariness, restlessness, and melancholy, with sometimes inability to sleep, and sometimes great drowsiness; sometimes there is severe pain in the side; the skin sometimes there is severe pannin the side; the skin and the white of the eyes become a greenish yellow; the stomach acid; the bowels sore to the touch; the whole system irritable, with a tendency to fever, which may turn to bilious fever, bilious colic, bilious diarrhea, dysentery, &c. A inclum dose of three or four Pills taken at night, followed by two or three in the morning, and repeated a few days, will remove it the morning. the cause of all these troubles. It is wicked to suffer such pains when you can cure them for 25 cents.

RHEUMATISM, GOUT, and all Inflammatory Feters, are rapidly cured by the purifying effects of these Pills upon the blood and the stimulus which they afford to the vital principal of Life. For these and all kindred complaints they should be taken in mild doses, to move the bowels gently, but freely. As a DINNER PILL, this is both agreeable and useful. No Pill can be made more pleasant to take, and certainly none has been made more effectual to the purpose for which a dinner pill is employed.
