JANUARY 1, 1857.

The Carrier, distrusting his poetical powers, has called in to his aid a distinguished poete a who relates to his Patrons, this New Year's day, the following beautiful little story of Midsummer.

All clothed in green and white,

Her pitcher at the sporkling spring,

Thou hast not spilled a drop, nor yet

And for this thing which thou hast done,

Thou shalt do well, whate'er thou dost,

Shalt have the will and power to please,

Thus having said, she passed from sight,

-" And now go," said the grandmother,

Where all the ground was dry and brown,

And the grass grew thin and sore.

She did not wander up and down

But steadily, of the fallen boughs

And when the wild-wood brownics

She drove them thence, as she was told.

'And oh, but she is small and neat."

Said one, "twere shame to spite

A creature so demure and meck,

A creature harmless quite!"

" At her little gown of blue;

Oh, but she is a comely child,":

A good-luck-penny in her path,

A boon for her this day,-

No live thing did affray."

With that the smallest penny,

Of the finest silver ore,

Lay Mabel's feet before.

The fairy penny good;

" Let flax be ever so dear,

"Since falling is the dew,

Seeing she broke no living wood

Upon the dry and slippery path,

With joy she picked the penny up,

And with her fagots dry and brown

Went wondering from the world.

Will buy her clothes of the very best

For many and many a year!"

Go down unto the lonesome glen,

And milk the mother-ewe !"

All down into the lonesome glen

Went on the willing child,

She kept beside the burn,

Nor broke the lady-fern.

Within the lonesome glen,

Were strong and well again.

She heard a coming sound,

Were gathering all around.

Shrill as the midge's wing,

The lady-fern is all unbroke.

From mischief can refrain ?"

Said all, "whate'er it be!"

And from the lonesome glen,

Unto the good old grandmother

Went gladly back again.

On that midsummer-day,

She took with her away.

To be alert and kind;

Tis good, like little Mabel,

And these three fairy-blessings

"Tis good to make all duty sweet,

Thus happened it to Mabel

And then she heard a little voice,

That spake aloud, "a human child

Is here—yet mark this thing!

The strawberry flower unta'en!

What shall be done for her, who still

Give her a fairy-cake!" said one.

"Grant her a wish!" said three;

The latest wish that she hath wished."

-Kind Mabel heard the words they spake,

As if a thousand fairy folk

She wished that little Amy

Through copses thick and wild

And when she came to lonesome glen,

And, while she milked the mother-ewe

And soon as she had thought this thought,

Now she has that," said the brownies,

-"And go now," said the grandmother,

Through moist, rank grass, by trickling streams.

And neither plucked the strawberry-flower,

Said a third, " and we will lay

At the kerchief pinned about her head,

'Look only," said another,

And at her little shoe!"

With home-thoughts sweet and kind.

Nor yet a live branch pull,

She picked her apron full.

Came sliding to her mind,

But all that while the brownies

Within the fir-wood still,

And strove to do no ill.

A curtsey low made Mabel.

And then she stooped to fill

But no drop did she spill.

Thou art a handy maiden,"

The fair spring troubled !

Yet may'st not understand,

give to thee a better gift

Than houses or than land.

As thou hast done this day:

And shalt be loved alway !"

And n night could Mabel sec.

" And fetch in fagots dry;

All in the neighboring fir wood,

Beneath the trees they lie."

Away went kind good Mabel,

lato the fir-wood near,

Upon the leafy tree.

But the little bird, the sky-blue bird,

The fairy lady said;

PART FIRST.

- Arise, my maiden, Mabel," The mother said. "arise. For the golden sun of Midsummer Is shining in the skies.
- "Arise, my little maiden, For thou must speed away, To wait upon thy grandmother
- This livelong summer day. And thou must carry with thee This wheaten cake so fine, This new-made pat of butter; This little flask of wine?
- "And tell the dear old body, This day I cannot come, For the good man went out vestly-morn,
- And he is not come home. And more than this, poor Amy Upon my knee doth lie; I fear me, with this fever pain That httle child will die!
- And thou can'st help thy grandmother; The table thou can'st spread; Can'st feed the little dog and bird, And thou can'st make her bed.
- "And thou can'st fetch the water, From the lady-well hard by; And thou can'st gather from the wood The fagots brown and dry.
- "Can'st go down to the lonesome glen, To milk the mother-ewe; This is the work, my Mabel,
- That thou wilt have to do. "But listen now, my Mabel, This is Midsummer day, When all the fairy people
- From elf-land come away. "And when thou art in lonesome glen, Keep by the running burn, And do not pluck the strawberry flower.
- Nor break the lady fern. "But think not of the fairy folk, Lest mischief should befall:
- Think only of poor Amy, And how thou lov'st us all. "Yet keep good heart, my Mabel,
- If thou the fairles see, And give them kindly answer If they should speak to thee.
- "And when into the fir-wood Inou go'st for lagots brown De not, like idle children,
- Go wandering up and down. "But fill thy little apron, My child, with carnest speed; And that thou break no living bough
- Within the wood, take heed, " For they are spiteful brownies Who in the wood abid : So be thou careful of this thing,
- Lest evil should betide. " But think not, little Mabel. Whilst thou art in the wood, Of dwarfish, wilful brownies,
- But of the Father good. "And when thou goest to the spring, To fetch the water thence,
- Do not disturb the little stream, Lest this should give offence,
- "For the queen of all the fairies She loves that water bright; I've seen her drinking there inyself. On many a summer night.
- "But she's a gracious lady, And her theu need at not fear: Only disturb thou not the stream, Nor spill the water clear!"
- "Now all this I will heed, mether, Will no word disobey, And wait upon the grandmother This livelong summer day !"

PART SECOND.

Away tripped little Mabel, With the wheaten cake so fine: With the new-made pat of butter, And the little flask of wine, And long before the sun was hot, And morning mists had cleared. Beside the good old grandmother

The willing child appeared. And all her mother's message She told with right good will. How that the father was away,

And the little child was ill. And then she swept the hearth up clean, And then the table spread: And next she fed the dog and bird: And then she made the bed.

" And go now," said the grandmother, "Ten paces down the dell. And bring in water for the day; Thou know'st the lady-well!"

The first time that good Mabel went, Nothing at all saw she Except a bird-a sky-blue bird-That sate upon a tree.

The next time that good Mabel went, There sate a lady bright Beside the well,—a lady small,

CATHARTIC PILLS

OFERATE by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action. They remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, and, by restoring their irregular action to health, correct, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first causes of disease. An extensive trial of their virtues, by Professors, Physicians, and Patients, has shown cures of dangerous diseases almost beyond belief, were they not substantiated by persons of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Their efetificates are published in my American Almanac, which the Agents below named are pleased to furnish free to all inquiring.

Annexed we give Directions for their use in the complaints which they have been found to cure For Costiveness.—Take one or two Pills, or such quantity as to gently move the bowels. Costiveness is frequently the aggravating exists of PILES, and the cure of one complaint is the cure of both. No person can feel well while under a costive habit of body. Hence, it should be, as it can be, promptly relieved.

For Dyspersia, which is sometimes the cause of Costiceness, and always uncomfortable, take mild, does — from one to four — to stimulate the stomach and liver into healthy active.

of Costiceness, and always uncomforfable-take mild doses — from one to four — to stimulate the stomach and liver into healthy action. They will do it, and the hearthurn, bodyburn, and southurn of dyspepsia will rapidly disappear. When it has gone, don't forget what cured you.

For a FOUL STOMACH, or Morbid Inaction of the Howels, which produces general depression of the spirits and bad health, take from four to eight Pills at first, and smaller doses afterwards, until activity and strength is restored to the system.

For Nervotsness, Stok Headache, Nausea, Poin in the Stomach, Buck, or Side, take from four to eight pills on going to bed. If they do not operate sufficiently, take more the next day until they do. These complaints will be swept out from the system. Don't wear these and their kindred disorders because your stomach is foul.

For Schoffula, Ernstpelas, and all Diseases of the Skin, take the Pills freely and frequently, to FOR SCHOFTLA, ERYSIPELAS, and all Diseases of the Skin, take the Pills freely and frequently, to keep the bowels open. The cruptions will generally soon begin to diminish and disappear. Many droadful ulcers and sores have been healed up by the purging and purifying effect of these Pills, and some disgusting diseases which seemed to saturate the whole system have completely yielded to their influence, leaving the sufferer in perfect health. Patients! your duty to society forbids that you should parade yourself aroufd the world covered with pimples, blotches, ulcers, sores, and all or any of the unclean diseases of the skin, because your of the unclean diseases of the skin, because your of the unclean diseases of the skin, occause your system wants cleansing.

To Purify the Blood, they are the best medicine ever discovered. They should be taken freely and frequently, and the impurities which sow the seeds of incurable diseases will be swept out of the system like chaff before the wind. By this property than do as nowly good in presenting sickness as he they do as much good in preventing sickness as by the remarkable cures which they are making every Inven Complaint, Jaundice, and all Bilions Affections, arise from some derangement—either torpidity, congestion, or obstructions of the Liver. Torpidity and congestion vitiate the bile and render it unfit for digestion. This is disastrous to the health, and the constitution is frequently under-mined by no other cause. Indigestion is the symp-tom. Obstruction of the duct which empties the tom. Obstruction of the duct which empties the bile into the stomach causes the bile to overflow into the blood. This produces Janudice, with a long and dangerous train of evils. Costiveness, or alternately costiveness and diarrheat, prevails. Feverish symptoms, languor, low spirits, weariness, restlessness, and melancholy, with sometimes inability to sleep, and sometimes great drowsiness; sometimes there is severe pain in the side; the skin and the white of the eves become a greguish yellow; the stomach acid; the bowels sore to the touch; the whole system irritable, with a tendency to fever, which may turn to bilious fever, bilious colle, bilious diarrheat, dysentery, &c. A medium dose of three or four Pills taken at night, followed by two or three in the morning, and repeated a few days, will remove the cause of all these troubles. It is wicked to suffer such pains when you can cure them far 25 centa. RHEUMATISM, GOUT, and all Inflammatory' Feters, are rapidly cured by the purifying effects of these Pills upon the blood and the stimulus which they afford to the vital principal of Life. For these and all kindred complaints they should be taken in mild direct to may the howly grathy but feed in mild direct to may the howly grathy but feed in mild doses, to move the bowels gently, but freely.

As a DINNER PILL, this is both agreeable and useful. No Pill can be made more pleasant to take, and certainly none has been made more effectual to the purpose for which a dinner pill is employed.
