KANSAS, Arrival of Secretary Stanton.

whence of the N. Y. Tribune. LAWBENCE, K. T., April 16, 1857. Mr. Stanton, the new Secretary of the Ter ritory, has just arrived. He came into the Territory by the "back door," via Kansas City and Westport, Mo. So did Shannon, and so have several of the distinguished Pro-Slavery officials. It is a trifling matter of etiquette, but good taste might have dictated a sembarkation at Quindaro or Leavenworth. He is a portly gentleman, and looks respectable. He will be acting Governor until Gov. Walker arrives. I do not suppose he is endowed with any extraordinary powers, and the likelihood is that he will keep very quiet till his successor arrives.
