He was rescued, we are told, by means of a rope. He was immediately carried to a neighboring house, and, although life was almost extinct, great and persevering exertions saved him.—Danville Intelli-

.... The fate of Governor Walker reminds us how unform is the history of Kansas Governors! They all set out with a great flourish of trumpets, and commence their career by an affiliation with the Border Ruffians. They all become disgusted with their party, and one after another straggles down the Missouri River, coming home to embarrass the Administration, and to tell joined under the missry of the Rev. Mr. Evans, in tales out of school, to the great injury of the Demogratic party.

He was a kind husband and affectionate father, and has left a wife and worpaper currency for the people. The dominant party, moreover, get the credit of being the specie party, while they reap all the advantages, if any, which result from paper money and commercial credit.

.... There seems to be a misapprehension in some quarters on the subject of the authority under which the Constitutional Convention in Kansas assembled. Some of the papers speak of an Act of Congress authorizing a Convention. A bill for the purpose was passed by the Senate, but was not concurred in by the House. The Convention was authorized by an Act of the Territorial Legis-

THE PAPER FOR YOUR FAMILY. MORRIS & WILLIS'S

PUBLISHED WEEKLY AT $2,00 A YEAR.

THE HOME JOURNAL has become universal. There are few families of cultivated habits-(few of those who seek to enliven and make home the most intelligent and attractive place)—who do not now receive it. It is read, we believe, wherever run the gold threads of domestic happiness and true moral refinement, which are woven so thickly into the stronger and coarser web of our country's industry and energetic prosperity. The Home Journal is the speaker to the hearts of this busy nation, in the hours given to happiness and relaxation.

The first number of the new series will be issued on the first of January next. New subscribers can be supplied from that date; but immediate applicacludes as follows: "He (the editor of the tion will be necessary for such as desire to begin at Press) is exactly in the condition of the we may safely venture to say, without the Home Journal, which, besides being a chrinicle of the times, abounds in intelligence designed to enliven an American Home. Its editors (Gro. P. Morris and N. P. WILLIS) devote their entire time, skill and experience, to the task of giving, each week, everything worth knowing. They particularly keep an eye on all the whims and novelties of the day. The utmost pains are taken to present the facts and outlines of all news. In the literary department, we aim at N. P. PROSPECTUS. DAILY TELEGRAPH FOR THE SESSION. PROPOSED ENLARGEMENT!

THE Harrisburg Daily Telegraph is now in the second year of its existence. It was started last A second year of the canteques, as the succeeded be-fall rather as an experiment, and has succeeded be-then be formed and studies assigned.

WH: JESSUP, yond the most sanguine expectations of its publishers. It has gradually won its way to public favor, until it has placed it-elf upon a firm and sure basis, and is now one of the permanent "Institutions" of the Capital. It has been specially conducted in all its departments with an eye singly to the public good, and its gradual and steady introduced of patronage, has been a gratifying evidence of the public appreciation of the labors of the publishers to make it what it is, a reliable record of the public events of the day, local and general.

It shall be the effort of the publishers to continue it in the spirit in which it has thus far been conducted, to add to its general and local interest, and to merit its steadily increasing patronage; and should its increased patronage in subscriptions and advertis-ing be commensurate with their hopes and expecta-tions, it is their intention to enlarge it about the first of January next, by the addition of four more col-umns. This will give us additional room for our ad-vertising patrons, which is becoming very necessary, without trenching upon the wpace allotted to the reading matter. As an advertising medium the Tele-graph is already one of the most derirable in the interior of the State, and is daily becoming more and more so. During the sessions of the Legislature ea-pecially is this the fact, as the full reports of Legislative proceedings given in its columns, renders it a desirable paper in every part of the State, and insures it a wide circulation. a During the approaching session of the Legislature, it is our intention to make the "DAILY TELEGRAPH" a correct and reliable exponent of the doings of the Legislature of Pennsylvania. With this view, a corps of competent Reporters will be employed in each House, and a full, complete, and accurate report of the proceedings will be given every day up to the adjournment of the morning sessions, embracing the details of the business of the session, sketches of debates on all important and interesting questions, and such editorial comments as the importance of the Subjects, and their bearing upon the public interests may suggest.

The course of the paper will be strictly neutral in politics, the aim of the editors being to give fair and impartial accounts of the doings of the Representaimpartial accounts of the doings of the Representa-tives of the people, leaving their constituents to judge of the action of their public servants for them-selves, on the review of the proceedings, as they are fairly presented to them through our columns. The session will be one of more than ordinary im-portance. The derangement of the currency, and the peculiar position of the Banks, will require, or, at least, will excite much legislation and will in con-at least, will excite much legislation, and will, in consideration of its important bearing upon the general business prosperity, be a question of absorbing public interest. It shall be our province to present to the readers of the Telegraph full and impartial records of the legislation upon this and all other subjects. Owing to the derangement of business affairs generally, incorporated companies for manufacturing mining and other purposes, will also require much legislation, and all persons interested therein cannot fail to be benefitted by a careful every day reading of our columns at the carliest date possible.

Business men throughout the State, who desire a correct knowledge of the doings of their representatives during the sessions of the Legislature, and we know there are many such, do not properly appreciate the Telegraph. Through its columns they can obtain this knowledge, and we hope to see them avail themselves of the opportunity it affords them to obtain correct and early information. We know if they once received it they would not again do with-The Telegraph will contain also the very latest news of the day, domestic and foreign, by telegraph and the mails; and will be a perfect mirror of the news throughout the world. The LOCAL department will be attended to as usual.
