14 ILLINOIS .- It is a remarkable fact that the President, with all the public patronage and fat offices at his disposal, is without an organ in the State of Illinois. Not a single paper of all those who advocated his election, now dares to come out and defend his administratton. Was there ever so remarkable a case? Pierce contemptible as he was, always had newspapers to vindicate his policy. Even Tyler managed to secure a few friends. But Buchanan has such too low even for that .--He is without a supporter .- Illinois Journal.

A home is hardly complete, we think we may safely venture to say, without the Home Journal, which, besides being a chrenicle of this times, abounds in intelligence designed to enliven an: American Home. Its editors (Gzo. P. Morris and N. P. WILLIS) devote their entire time, skill and ex-perience, to the task of giving, each week, everything worth knowing. They particularly keep an eye on all the whims and novelties of the day. The utmost pains are taken to present the facts and outlines of all news. wit, and genuine humor. The new feature for the coming year is one that we The new feature for the coming year is one that we have long thought of presenting to our readers—the Conversion of four nervy brilliant women, who end us regularly the Gossir or rik GAY Wonth.— We have grudged exceedingly the keeping of these most readable matters to ourselves—feeling certain that it was precisely the Society gossir which our subscribers required as effervescence to the other-wise brinning cup—and, with some difficulty, we have obtained the consent of our fur correspondents. It was only on one condition, however—the incogni-te, for each, should be strictly preserved. We agreed to this: but, as it was important to distinguish be-tween their several Letters, we ventured to suggest nome de plume, such as welthought would be some-Y OU will save money by prirchastiff your Nails, Paints, Oils, Sash, Glass, Door Trinnings and Hardware generally, of LITTLE & HARDING. nome de plume, such as welthought would be some-what descriptive of their several veins of humor. The: four indies will therefore be introduced to the readers of the next volume of the Home Journal, as Mrs. JA-PONICA JONES, MES. AMELIA RAYTER, Miss LOTSA NUFFIN, MISS JUSTELLA SUMMORE, And from these NUTFIN, Miss JUSTELLA SUMMORE. And from these —the four most brilliant persons of our city acquain-tance—the charming Letters will be duly forthcoming. Every one knows how a tea-table or orening circle is enlivened, by the coming in of an intelligent man, who knows dil the new ideas affoat, and tells them, briefly, and gayly, and off-hand, in the way of ordina-ry conversation. Such a person gives you the sub-stance of the daily papers, in three or four sentences —tells you the plan and moral of a new book in a dozen words—gives the essence of a sermon, the core of a public speech, the key to a public charac-ter, the spirit of an article in a raview, the novely in fashion, the last turn in politics—all briefly, and all Catlery, Catent Medicines, &c., &c., for sale by ~ LITTLE & HARDING. ter, the spirit of an article in a review, the novelty in fashion, the last turn in politics—all briefly, and all without detail or fluximery—leaving it with you, as material for your own discussion and hossip. This is just what we propose to do for the Home Journal for 1858. We mean to jot down, for our readers. In the fewest words possible, every new idea that falls in dur war. As we read, as people drop in and talk, as we look about in our walks, we shall be ou that look-out for ideas and novelies—giving them in the briefest shape. oranda aside, to write about if we should find time-now, we shall give them to our readers, to hiscuss thissaskerses. In this way, the subscriber to the Home Journal will stand a chance to get hold, in some shape or other, of every new idea that is going. The other popular features of the paper will be continued :--Sketches of Bolles, Portraits of Public Characters, descriptions of stirring scenes in New-York, news of fashion and mainers, phases of gay and literary society, and new fun or new folls-in-short, a PICTERE OF THE WORLD AS IT PASSES. We have acaree thought it necessary to mention, howerwhort, A PICTURE OF THE WORLD AS IT PASSES. We have scarce thought it necessary to mention, howev-er, what our readers, well understand, that we take cure also to chronicle and advance every interest of benevolence and moral improvement, and strive hard to make the Home Journal no leas meeful and im-proving than it is entertaining and original.
