He 36; lives lost, 322, and 86 wounded. Last sallied forth to the pasture to catch his horse; but here was a difficulty—the grass high and loaded with dew. To venture in with white pantaloons on would rather take the starch out of them and lead to his detection. So he quickly made his resolve. He carefully 629 wounded. disrobed himself of his valuable "whites" and placed them in safety on the fence while he gave chase with unscreened pedals through the wet grass after the horse. Returning to the fence where he safely suspended his slily white unmentionables O! Horribile Dictu! what a sight met his eyes! The field into which his horse had been turned was not only a "horse pasture," but "calf pasture" too, and the naughty calves attracted by the white flag on the fence, had taken themselves to it, and, calf like, had eaten the pants up! only a few well chewed fragments of this once valuable article of the wardrobe now remained—only a few shreds just sufficient to indicate what they-once had

There was only one resource left him, that was to secrete himself in the bushes until the next night and then get home under cover of the darkness.

Safely hid, he remained under the protection of the bushes for sometime, and it may be imagined that his feelings toward the calf kind were not of the most friendly character; but ere long, his seclusion was destined to be intruded upon. By and by, the boys, who had been out to feed the calves, returned with the remnants of the identical white garment which adorned the lower limbs of their

The following story is related of the succes of Gustavus Adolphus, of Sweden.— The Hereditary Prince was the son of Bernadolte, and is now the King of Sweden. "The Queen did the bonors with great seeming affability, and played a rubber of whist with the Hereditary Prace and the whise with the Hereditary Prince and the Amhassadors of England and Russia. After cards tes was served, with a plateau prepared for the Queen and Prince. The Queen advanced and poured out tes into two cups, indicating one to the Prince, who just as he was in the act of taking it, suddenly felt the pressure of a thumb on his shoulder forcible and significant enough to convince him that it was meant for a warning, the purport of which quickly flashed upon his senses. With considerable presence of mind he immediately exclaimed:

"Ab, Madam, it is impossible that I can permit your Majesty to serve me!" and seizing the plateau, turned it round adroitly in such a manner that the cup which was intended for him was placed before the Queen, who turned mortally pale Jand Charles John watched the event with anxiety, whether his suspicions were well grounded. Was she about to confess her crime? No; she quickly recovers, takes the cup, makes a smiling salutation to the Prince, and drinks up the contents to the fast drop. PERILOGS PROPERTY.-A negro fisherman in Norfolk, Va., came one day to his master and said:

Massa, I want to buy myself free-I got free hundred dollars, sir 1 pay you dat down and gib de rest when I make 'um." "Very well, Tom," said his master, "you have been a faithful fellow and I will comply with your wish."

And the money was accordingly paid and the inchoate freedom of Tom commenced. A few days afterward Tom went out to fish in company with a fellow servant, and there came up a blow which capsized the fishing smack, and drowned Tom's companion. The next day Tom came to his master

Massa, I have changed my mind, sir, don't want to buy myself any more, sir, please give me hack my money, sir."

"Why, Tom," said his master "you already paid me a large share of your price, and by industry in your profitable calling you will soon earn and pay the residue, and you had better carry on your original intention."
"No, no, massa," was Tom's economical rejoinder, "I rudder hab my money back nigger property so uncertain, sir.

INTEMPERANCE. -It is the peculiar charac teristic of the vice of intemperance, that it marks for its prey all that is valuable in man. It enervates the body, weakens the in-tellect, and bardens the heart. It blunts the moral and social affections, renders its victim regardless of reputation, clothes him in the feature the aspect of misery, and having shorn him of present enjoyment and blasted shorn him of present enjoyment and blasted this bopes of future bliss, sends him to an untimely grave.

Gems of Southern Literature. DEATHBED FOLLIES.—George W. P. Custis, of Virginia, has manumitted by will some three hundred of his slaves. It is high time Virginia had some law on her statute book against this destruction of property. There are no more slaves in that State now than she has use for, and, to say nothing of rendering so many negroes worthless and miserable for the remainder of their lives, the power should be taken away from men, in their second childhood, of removing so much labor from the industry of the State! - Charleston (S. C.) Courier.

We notice that Mr. Smith, of Lauderdale county, has introduced a bill into the House, making it unlawful to liberate slaves by last will and testiment. We hope the bill will pass, for a man who emancipates his slaves is not a true friend to the South. it is a virtual acknowledgment, on his part, that Slavery is wrong. If they can't get that bill through we hope they will pass one compelling all persons who liberate slaves to send them among the Abolitionists, instead of to Libe-

Must BE READ OUT - The Richmond South takes the ground that the offence Senator Douglas has committed against the Democratic party is precisely the same as that for which Stanton was dismissed, and for which Walker was denounced. It contends, therefore, that if Walker and Stanton have been justly read out of the Democratic church, then Douglas also should be read out.

A WEIGHTY FACT .- The Philadelphia Press says that of twenty papers in Kansas, but one advocates the Lecompton Constitution. All been! What a pickle this was for a nice the Democratic papers. (with one exception,) which have been denouncing the Topeka move & Co., Lanesboro, and at Montrese ment, are equally hostile to the Calhoun contrivance.

Siz: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the fiver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have solden found a case of bilous disease so obstinate that it did not results which to them. readily yield to them. Fraternally yours,

Ds. Arm.: Your Pills are the perfection of medicine. They nave done my wife more good than I can tell you. She fisal been sick and pining away for months. Went off to be doctored at great expense, but got no better. She then commenced taking your Pills; which soon cured her, by expelling large quantities of worms (dead) from her body. They afterwards cured her and our two children of bloody dysentery. One of our neighbors, had it bad, and my wife cured him with two does of your Pills while others around as paid from five loventy dollars doctors bills, and lost much time, without being cured entirely even, then. Such a medicine as yours, which is actually good and hencet, will be prized here. GEO. J. GRIFFIN, Pastmaster Indirects ion and Immerity of the Blead.

Dr. Attn: Your Fills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcorous sore upon her hands and feely that had proved incurable for years, iter mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Fills, and they have cured her.

PULAREI HOUSE, SAVANNAH, GA., Jan. 6, 1856.
HONORED Sin: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my linebe and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until, by the advice of your excellent agont in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzis, I tried your Pills. Their effects were alow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them I am now entirely well.

For Dropsy, Plethorn, or kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are an excellencemedy. For Costiveness or Constipation, and as, a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and effectual.

Fits, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammation, and very Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been sared by the alterative action of those Pills.

Most of the pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a raduable remedy in skifful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreafful consequences that frequently follow its incaultious use: These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

of the disease. and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town, and almost every hamlet of the American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilized country on this continent without some personal experience of its effects; and fewer yet the communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous diseases of the throat and longs. While it is the most powerful antidate yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous diseases of the hyndunonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for in finits and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that steals upon them unprepared We have abundant grounds to bolieve the Curary Perconatawas more lives by the consumptions it prevents than, those it cures. Keep it by you, and cure your colds while they are curable, nor neglect them until no human skill can master the in exorable canker that, fastened on the vitals, eats your life away. All know the dreadful fatality of lung disorders, and as they know too the virtues of this remedy, we need not do more than assure them it is still made the best it can be. Waspare by cost, no care, no toll to produce it the most perfect possible, and thus afford those who rely on it the best agent which oursekil can furnish for thoir cure.
