schools of this county, is respectfully submit-STATISTICS.

School Houses .- Of the first class, none; second class, forty-five; third class, two hundred and eleven. The second class includes a number of commendable school buildings, but none that are entitled to rank in the first class according to the standard fixed by the School Department, which is certainly none too high.

Among those worthy of mention are two in Harmony-one at Brant & Schlager's tannery, and one in Lanesboro'. Susquehanna Depot, two—the value of one being depreciated, however, very much, by its location; it is on a steep hill-side.

Oakland, one, near the residence of George T. Frazier, Esq., who was mainly instrumen tal in its erection, both by effort and "material sid."

Ararat, one; the Kay school house. Clifford, two; the Williams and Truesdail Friendsville borough has quite a good bouse: the directors having purchased the building formerly used for an academy; it should be provided with more convenient seats, however.

The general defects in our school houses are-first, they are too small to accommodate the number of pupils in attendance. A large proportion of them being from fourteer. by sixteen, to twenty by twenty-two feet square. Second, the ceilings overhead are quite too low, many of them being but a few inches above the head of a person of ordinary stature, when standing in the school room. One case has occurred, where a teacher taught in a room in which there was no place he could stand erect. These houses are generally unventilated, presenting, internally, a dark, dingy appearance, and externally, nothing to prepossess one in their favor. Third. the scats are too high and ungraded, and generally without backs. The desks are high, too high, and, oblique or pitching like the roof of a house. Fourth, they generally lack out-houses, play grounds, shade trees, &c. Nearly all our houses have black boards in there; some few exceptions.

Materials .- Brick, one; stone, one; log, two; frame, two hundred and fifty two; total, two hundred and fifty-six. School Furniture .- First class, none; second class, seventeen; third class, two hun dred and thirty-nine. School Architecture-There are no houses in the county that have been built or remodeled in accordance with the plans contained in the " Pennsylvania School Architecture." Schools.—First class, (graded) none; second class, (classified) two hundred and sixtyfive; third class, (unclassified) none. The directors of some districts contemplate grading a part of their schools during the coming year, and it is earnestly hoped that it may · Examinations, Certificates, &c .- During my official term (fifteen months) I have ex- reported sudden and mysterious death, at the amined and re-examined six hundred and twenty-seven teachers, and refused certificates Mrs. Sarah Nelson, wife of George Nelson, to one hundred sixty-two. I have granted Mrs. Nelson had retired to bed about 11 no permanent certificates; none have ever o'clock on Monday night apparently in her been issued in the county, not because our usual health, followed, shortly after, by her teachers are not as good as those of other husband. Upwards of twelve hundred citizens and three hundred and fifty teachers attended these institutes; they produced a very bap-py effect—counteracting much of the prejudice that had previously existed in regard to teachers' institutes. In some localities the people were very enthusiastic; all in attendance were entertained free of charge.

District Associations.—Nearly half the districts in the county organized during the last winter teachers' associations, and many of them kept them in vigorous activity all Among those most commendable in this respect, are Jessup, Franklin, Auburn, Clifford, Middletown and Rush. In some of the above districts many of the most prominent entizens came forward and assisted the teachers materially in their praisworthy object. Public Meetings .- I have met and confer red with the citizens of the county during the past fall and winter upon the subject of common school education, on nearly forty different occasions. -The Press .- I am much indebted to th Press of the county for the many favors be stowed, and the great interest taken in the cause of education. May success be the reward of distinguished merit. Lading Characteristics .- The people of our county are decidedly agricultural in their pursuits. They have a thoroughly organized and well sustained agricultural society, which has been the means of accomplishing much good. All kinds of grains are raised in large quantities, and it is especially noted as a at the store of M. S. Wilson & Son. grazing county. Some of our farmers have as good stock as can be found in the State; and the fruits exhibited at our county fairs are equal in quality to any I have ever seen at a New York State Agricultural Fair. Our farmers are doing much to improve our agricultural interests, more perhaps, according to the means they have, than those of any other county in the State.

It is undoubtedly true that the agricultural improvements of a people are in proportion to their educational developments, and this fact I have labored to impress more indelibly upon the minds of all. I encourage the study of agriculteral chemistry by our advanced classes of students, and shall endeavor, as soon as circumstances will warrant it, to have is troduced into our schools a primary text-book of agriculture. 🕝

Short Articles.—For the first time ur long editorial experience, we hear a complaint against short articles. Long articles have been the bore of a million of readers, the death of a thousand periodicals, as long speeches have ruined a thousand politicians, and broken up hundreds of societies. It is the easiest thing in the world to write a newspaper to death, or to make one's self dull and the reader sleepy. All that is required be reported at a future time that they have is long articles in the one case, and the use of all the words one can dilute his ideas with as long as other days? A good story always ends too scon for us. We invariably come to the "finis" of a good book in "short meter." We never eat just enough of a very good dinner without experiencing something akin to regret that we cannot cat more. One ought to rise from tentions of being permanent teachers. No the perusal of a newspaper, as one should from a meal of victuals, always with a good appetite for a little more of the same sort. We shall continue to make short articles -perhaps shorter—even though our whole Life" shall be dwindled to the shortest

They are safe and pleasant to take but powerful it pure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, parify the slood, and expel disease. They pure out the foul business which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered or gans into their natural action, and inpart healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not suly do they care the every lay complaints of overly body, but also formidable and danger has diseases that have builted the feet of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, shey-sare, at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take and being purely regetable, are five from any risk of harm Cures have been made which surpass belief were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character as the first of the relief of such exalted position and character as the first of the relief of only afficied, suffering fellow-men.

The Agent below, named is pleased to furnish grath my American Almanac, contidining directions for their use, and certificates of their cures of the following complaints:

Continenses, Billious Complaints, Rheumatinn, Dropsy, Heart born, Headache arising from a fout Stomach, Nausca, Indigestion, Morbid Inaction of the Bowels and Pain arising therefrom Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Ucerons and Cutanousa Bis cases which require an execuant Medicine, Secondal or King Excil. They also, by runtil ing the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed the; sould reach, such as Deadness, Expital Bifindness, Neuriagia an Nervous Irritabilit HE sciences of Chemistry and Medicine have been taxed no nody or obstruction of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with some other pil they make more profit on. Ask for Ayrr's Pills, and take nothing else. No other they can give you compares with this in it intrinsic value or curative powers. The sick want the best as there is for them, and they should have it.
