Thursday, November 4, 1858.

Notice,-Mr. E. W. FRAZIER is our traveling agent, authorized to receive subscriptions, advertisements, &c., and to collect moneys for the Independ-

Special Notice.—All persons indebted to this office, either for job work, advertising, on subscription, or otherwise, will confer a great favor on us by paying up without further delay. We prefer that payments should be made in money, which we much need; but we will also take grain or wood at Mostrose market prices.

In our recent victories over the Lecompton Democracy there is nothing surprising. The people, when not misled by partisan feelings or by the tricks of politicians and demagogues, will endeavor to vote for measures which promote their own and their country's welfare. In the contest now waging in the United States between the slaveholding aristocracy of the South and their doughfaced helots of the North on one side, and the advocates of free institutions and the rights of free labor on the other, it in this State. would seem that intelligent and honest northern freemen could not hesitate to choose the side of free institutions and equal rights.-When they act otherwise-when, blinded by partisan animosity or misled by a name, they vote against their own interests, against their country's welfare, against the first principles of Democracy, and against their own innate convictions of justice, then, indeed, we have just cause for surprise.

Such was the conduct of a majority of the voters of Pennsylvania when they made James Buchanan President. The measures of the Pierce administration, the high-handed outrages inflicted on the rights of free labor by Congress, when, under the lead of more strong impressions of what is great Stephen Arnold Douglas, they destroyed the and noble in human nature, than from the arancient landmarks of freedom and undertook to give Slavery an equal chance with Freedom for the possession of territory forever consecrated to freedom by solemn compact, -ought to have convinced every thinking man that the party calling itself Democratic was Democratic no longer, but had been delivered over, bound hand and foot, to the worst form of aristocracy in the world. It He has received several liberal offers from is true that, at the time this outrage was com- Mr. Webster, the Manager of the Haymarmitted, the people of the North, without much distinction of party, protested against it: and for a time there was hope that we should properly rebuke and condemn the outrage, that the mad career of those who have conspired together to transform a free or, has succeeded in attracting large audi-Republic into a slavery-blackened despotism would be suddenly stayed by the imperial overthrow of slavery domination in the councils of the nation had not yet come. The people lulled into a fatal security, or deceived by specious promises, permitted the sceptre to be snatched from their hands by the subtle conspirators; and in consequence the country has to lie, for another four years; under the heel of the Slave Power. Emboldened by their success in the campaign of '56, ened by their success in the campaign of 56, the conspirators have made fearful advances towards the subjection of the whole country to slavery. The principles of the infamous Dred Scott decision, if carried into practical effect by the government, would leave us pothing to hope for but in revolution. But nothing to hope for but in revolution. But we do not expect those principles ever will be carried into practical effect. The Presi- Pennsylvania, 25: dent, both in his messages to Congress and In the name and by the authority of the Comin his conduct towards the people of Kansas, has shown his readiness to go to the full extent of the doctrine, or to any lengths of tyranny and oppression that the Slave Power may require; but the rebuke which his crimes against humanity and the spirit of knowledgment and our grateful praise. The American liberty have just received from the past and the present are crowded with His people of Pennsylvania and other free States. will be apt to check him for a time; and it only needs that the friends of freedom should properly follow up their victory, to place the all its departments. We are at peace with sition as that of a free Republic. Though many do not appreciate the fact, or its importance, a gigantic struggle is now mild spirit of our holy religion are more and going on in this country; and the great ques more uniting us in one brotherhood. Our tion to be decided is, whether the general educational institutions are diffusing intelligovernment shall be conducted in the interest of free or of slave labor. Within a few years to come the question will probably be Though in some localities the pestilence has decided, and either this will become essenti- prevailed, our country at large has enjoyed ally-s slaveholding country, recognizing the right to hold slaves everywhere, the same as any other property, or else slavery will be driven back to its proper place as a local and sectional institution, a deforming excrescence on the body politic.

Absolutely and relatively weak in themselves, the small body of southern men who represent and control the slaveholding interest are only strong in the unity of their action and in the divisions and dissensions of their opponents. For, in spite of the defections and treacheries of selfish northern politicians, whom the slave drivers know so well how to buy up, the people of the North, whenever they may choose to unite in support of principles on which they are agreed, are sure of victory. Numbers, resources, all the substantial elements of power, are with us. This nobody understands better than the pro-slavery leaders themselves; and now that the late elections have shown them that their power is again in danger, we shall see them exerting their dexterity anew to excite dissensions and divisions among the voters of the North. We, on the contrary, who desire to put a stop to slavery aggression. and to see the government again conducted on the principles of the purer and better days of the Republic, should prepare to pre-

aganda in the great contest of 1860.

We observe that many of the papers of the State areediscussing the merits of different candidates for Speakerships, Clerkdipe we in our next Legislature. Simeon II. Chase, Esq., of Susquehanna, is favorably mentioned by several of our exchanges for Speaker of the House. Nothing would please us better than to see Mr. Chase elected to that position. His peculiar fitness for the place is unquestionable. During the two terms in which he has already served in the louse, he has labored assiduously to perfect himself in parliamentary tactics, and he is admitted to have been one of the best tactic ians in the last House. He will make a dis creet, honest, and able Speaker.

We have received a letter from the uthor of the original article concluded or our first page this week, pointing out certain errors (such as putting the word general fo genial) made in printing the first part of it We doubt not that other errors will be found, but the corrections come so long after the appearance of the errors that it will per hans be best to leave the corrections to b made by the intelligent reader.

By the notice in another column, will be perceived that Hon. G. A. Grow w address his fellow citizens on political que tions, at the Court Honse, on Monday ever ing of the first week of Court.

Jewish Londevity .- The modern Israe. lites, we are informed by Herr Gatters, have a longer life of it than modern Christians .--During twenty three years M. Gatters has been gathering statistics on this head in Wiesellburg, and he finds that as infants, as boys and as adults, Jews live longer than Christpeculiarity of race; but it is probable their money has something to do with it. A pauper Jew is an unheard of thing, and poverty and short life have a well known relation:-CRYING FOR HIS DINNERS - The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Press, ays that Jehu Jones actually "gave him-If up to tears and loud lamentations at the information of his defeat." The loss of the presidential dinners causes his eyes to water as much as the odor of Buchanan's table formerly did his mouth. "Alas poor Yorick! Where now be thy jibes that were wont to set the table in a roar !"
