Enthusiasm in a Sunday School. The following story is acknowledged a "good 'un," but I believe it has not found

A few years since, some roguish hove in its way into the papers: a town not a thousand miles from the capital of New Hampshire persuaded Joseph Nor as he was generally called, "Joe," to attend Sunday School, Joe was an over grown, half witted, profane lad, and the boys anticipated considerable fun out of him; but the answers to the various questions propounded, were given so readily and correctly, that no one could for a moment suppose that he was not fully versed in theological lore. Joe was duly ushered in and placed on a settee in front of one on which his friends were seated and the recitation commenced. The teacher first questioned the class on their regular lesson, and afterwards, turned to Joe. "My friend," said the teacher, "who made the world we inhabit?" ne world we inhabit :

- "Eh ?" said Joe, turning up his eyes like an expiring calf. "Who made the world we inhabit ?" Just as he was probably about to give the answer, one of the beys seated behind insert: ed a pin into his pants, about nine inches below the ornamented buttons on his coat. "God Almighty," answered Joe, in an elevated tone, at the same time rising quickly

"That is correct," replied the teacher," but from his seat. it is not necessary that you should rise in answering; a sitting position is just as well." Joe was seated, and the catechisin proceeded. "Who died to save the world?" The pin was again inserted, and Joe repli-ed, "Jesus Christ," in a still louder voice, rising as before from his seat. That is also correct, but do not manifest so much feeling; do be more composed and more reserved in your manner," said the teacher in an expostulating tone.

After Joe had calmed down, the examination went on. What will be the final doom of all wick ed men?" was the subject now, up for consideration, and, as the pin was again "stuck in,"

Joe thundered out, with a higher elevation of his body, "Hell and damnation." "My young friend," said the instructor, "you give the true answers to all these questions; but while you are here, we wish you to be mere mild in your words. Do endeavor, if you can, to restrain your enthusi-asm and give a less extended scope to your

WOMEN NATURAL ORATORS.—This par age occurs in a work recently published abroad on the "Art of Public Speaking:"-"Women naturally speak better than men. They express themselves more easily, more vividly, and with more arch simplicity, because they feel rapidly, more delicately.— Hence the loquacity with which they are reproached and which is an effect of their constitution and temperament. Hence there are so many women who write in an admirable and remarkable manner, although they have stidled neither rhetoric nor logic, and even without knowing grammar or orthography. They write as they speak; and they speak pretty much as the birds sing, and their language has the same charm. Add to this the sweetness of their organ, the flexibility of their voice, and the variety of their intonations, according to the feeling which animates them; the nobility of their physiognomy, which greatly increases the effect of words, picturesqueness of their gestures, and in great variety, just received direct from the Manufactures, and in great variety, just received direct from the Manufactures, and in great variety, just received direct from the Manufactures, and in great variety, just received direct from the Manufactures, and in great variety, just received direct from the Manufactures. in short the gracefulness of their whole exterior; thus, although not destined for orators by their sex or social position, they have all the power of the orator and all his success in their sphere and in the sind of their activity, for none better know how to touch, persuade, and influence, which, I think, is the end and the perfection of eloquence."

The Best Mode of Drying Pumpkins. We love pumpkin pies, even when there is an abundance of tree fruits, and we shall this year love them all the more because the tree fruits are scarce. We have tried all modes of drying pumpkins, but no plan is, we think, equal to the one we recommended a year ago, and which we have recently tried on a larger scale than hitherto. It is this: Take the ripe pumpkin, pare, cut into small pieces, stew soft, mash and strain through a colander, as if for making pies. Spread this pulp on plates in layers, not quite half an inch thick; dry it down in the stove oven kept at so low a temperature as not to scorch it. In about a day it will become dry and crisp. The sheets thus made can be stowed away in a dry place and they are then always ready for use for pie or sauce. Soak the pieces over night in a little milk, and they will return to a nice pulp, as delicious as the fresh pumpkin—we think much more so. The quick drying after cooking prevents any portion from slightly souring; as is always the case when the uncooked pieces are dried; and the flavor is much better preserved. The after cooking is saved, this plan is quite as little trouble as the old mode, to say nothing of its superiority in the quality of material obtained. Try it and you will not return to the old method we are sure, and you will also become a greater lover of pumpkin pie "the year round," and feel less the loss of the fruit corn.—Am. Ag. -

THE FARMER'S LIBRARY.—It need not be large nor expensive. It need not be purchased all at once. The reading of it need -not detract one hour from the important labors of the field. But every farmer should hy all means have a library. He needs one for his own benefit. He should have some scientific knowledge of the various operations he is daily performing, both for his own enjoyment, and so as to be able to give a reason for every thing he does on his, land. His children should be taught the philosophy of agriculture more or less thoroughly, that they may be attached to the calling, and may. make improvements in it.—Am. Ag.

To KEEP MEAT FROZEN.-After the meat is well frozen, I tie it in papers and pack in a flour barrel with clean straw, pushing the straw down tightly with a thin lath. I then put the barrel in a box, five or six inches larger than the barrel every way, and fill the space with dry saw-dust. Last Winter I kept meat thus in fine condition until April.

CURE FOR BRONCHITIS,—One of our cleverest and most reliable friends informs us that common mullen leaves, smoked in a new pipe-one in which tobacco has never bronchitis. The remedy is simple and innocent, and within the reach of all. Recollect that this is not the remedy of a retired phy-sician whose sands of life have nearly run out, but is given to us by one who has tried it himself, and seen it tried with others, and has never known it to fail in effecting a permanent cure. The remedy is simple, and we can certainly discover no harm likely to arise from a trial. - Scientific American.

"SORGUM" NO FAILURE.—In Guadalupe County, Texas, there are several mills engaged in manufacturing eyrup from the Chinese sugar-cane, and nearly every farmer there, will have enough of it for home con-Elimonation. The same may be said of many an. He is toions of Texas. sns,"—Albany Jo

A Light! A Light!

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS,"
That I, the undersigned, have on hand for sale Peters' Non-Explosive, Self-Generating Gas Lamp, Peters' Non Explosive, Self-Generating Gas Lathp, the BEST, safest, and most economical light over produced, equal if not superfer the best Coal Gas. It is perfectly adapted to Churches, Hotels, Stores, Reading Rooms, Frivate Dwellings, &c., &c. It only requires a trial to prove it superior to every other portable light now in use. The material used for generating Gas is Barning Fluid or Aethereal Oil.—The Gas is generated in the Burner by evaporizing and decomposing the Fluid by its own heat forming pure Hydro-Carbonic Gas which is all conveyed to the Burner, leaving no substance unconsumed. The pure nydro-caroonic cas which is an conveyen to the Burner, leaving no substance unconsumed. The Burner can be fitted to any ordinary Lamp, guaran-teeing it to be perfectly safe and free from any dan-ger of explosion and is entirely free from smoke and Cloths, &c., unpleasant smell.

The following calculation will show its econor over other substances used for Light:

Peters' Self-Generating Gas Lamp with Fluid or Aethereal oil, at 60 cts. per gall., six jet Burner, 1 ct.T Camphene at 55 cts. per gall., 1; " Lard Oil, at $1,25 2; " Sperm Oil, 2,50 4 4 5 Fluid with com. burner, 600 cts per gall. 1; " Gas at $2,25 per 1000 feet,

It may be distinctly understood that this Burner will produce more light than any other Portable Light whi produce in the provided to call and examine this premium Lamp for themselves, before purchasing elsewhere, this being the only Burner having a non-conductor.

Read the following Letter. HOME TESTIMONY. Te have received the following letter in relation Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills. AUBURN FOUR CORNERS,

Susq. Co., Pa., Sept. 28th, 1856. Messrs A. J. Whire & Co., New York:—
"The Morse's Indian Root Pills had from you giv universal satisfaction, in EVERY INSTANCE, and our formers use them for almost everything. The Dra-ENTERY has been raging in this section to an alarming extent, for the last six months, SCARCELY A SINGLE family having escaped, EXCRPT THOSE WHERE your pills have been usen as a Preventive, in which case

pills have been used as A RERVESTIVE, in which case they have NEVER PAILED. I will inform you shortly how to send a further supply. Your ob't. Serv't."
ALPHONSO H. SMITH.
Such letters as the above need no comment from us,
they ought to convince all of what we firmly believe, that Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills are the very best Pill ever made.
