Father Kent possessed naturally a strong constitu-ion, with great energy of character, marked with inman truly and morally great and good. For nearly forty a cars he professed and checkshed that faith in the Gospel which embraced the redemption of the the Gospel which embraced the relamination of the world a Such were his, views of the character and government of God as led him finally to believe that the dominion of sin and evil will finally come to an end—holiness and goodness reign triumphant, and all souls become assimilated in purity to the character of their Maken. In this faith he lived, and in this he died. It afforded him peace and consolation amid the titals of life—resignation and hope in death.

For more than thirty years he was a member of the Universalist Society, in this town, and ever the consistent advacate and supporter of the cause of God's impartial grace and truth. For many years he was impartial grace and truth. For many years he was the leader of the choir, and many will well remembe-with what zeal he would hymn the praises of infinite Goodness in the Great Salvation—as though he had caught the spirit with which the angels sing the sones of redeeming love before the throne.

But his mission has closed—his work is done. He have Smith, 4d Estate of S. Was fully ripe, and we trust entered upon that rest which remains for the people of God.

Which remains for the people of God.

Com Champion, Adv. In North Jackson, Dec. 8th, 1858, CYNTHA E., daughter of Nathan and Sybil Round, aged 24 years, 6 months, and 27 days.

At a meeting of "Regulator Lodge, No. 270, "held at North Jackson, on the 20th day, of December, it was unanimously resolved, that Whikhka, It has pleased God in his infinite wiscoun, to remove from our midst our worthy sister, C. E. Round, be it therefore

Resolved, That Brother Frederick Bryant, Sister Lemira A. Wheaton, and Bother A. N. Round be any pointed a committee to prepare a memorial extremistic of our regret at being thus early deprived of the society and counsel of so beloved a sister, and also to show to the friends and relatives of the deceased daughter of Nathan and Sybil Round, aged 24 year to show to the friends and relatives of the decrased that we, as a Lorige, do heartily and sincerely sympothize with them in this their sad bereavement. Resolved. That the committee be also further is structed to forward copies of said memorial to each of the county papers, published at Montrose, for pul-

We of the Committee therefore beg leave to sub-mit the following MEMORIAL: How sad, how sorrowful, and yet how impressive How sail, how sorrowful, and yet how impressive are thoughts of death and the grave. How serious when we reflect upon the shortness of time- and the uncertainty of life, and think that perhaps before another "Lodge night" rolls around, I too shall have bid adiou to all I held dear on earth, and shall have gone to try the realities of the spirit-world. How forcibly have we been reminded by this dispensation of Providence, of the fact that none of us are excupt from the common fate. Although we may band ourselves together—bound by the sacred bonds of affection for each other's mutual benefit and protection—although we may employ the secret signals, the mystichough we may employ the secret signals, the mysti-igns and emblems of the "Order," and thereby keep signs and emblems of the "Order," and thereby keep off all intruders upon our peace and happiness, of a mortal nature—we cannot keep out draith. Not death has at last entered within the precincts of our little circle, and a beloved sister has been taken away, while yet in the bloom of youth. When her heart was light and jayons, she has been called from earth and all its trials, to her home beyond the grave. Little did we think a few short weeks ago, when she who is now the subject of these brief lines was here among us, so gay and happy—now whose chiefs the among us, so gay and happy,—on whose chirek the rose of health was blooming,—that also would so soon be called from time to eternity, and would that evening go forth from our Hall to return no more forever.
But although she has left us, and gone to that undiscovered country from whose bourne no traveler returns, her memory still lingers to cheer those she returns, her memory still lingers to cheer those she has left behind; for by her tender affections she has gained a place in the hearts of her associates, which time will never obliterate. She was one who mingled with her friends with that carnestness of feeling which tells us that she knew no distinction. She had a kind word for all; she laughed with those who laughed, and wept with those who mourned; all found in her a friend such is deserves the smiles of heaven. It was a bitter stroke to all who held her dear; but we will not murmur; we cannot call her back; she is befond the cares of earth, she dwells in that land of light, unconsclus of the tears that are shed for her on earth. And since we cannot call our beloved, sister back to carth, let us strive to so live that we may one day meet her in that blessed world of reunion; where we can dwell in hely communion with all those who have gone before us.

In Springville, on the 25th ult., MINER CHAMPER-LIN, son of Charles and Mary Ann Chamberlin, aged 3 years and 10 months. Seldem are we called upon to contemplate death under such painful circumstances as in the present instance. On Friday afternoon, little Miner and a brother and sister older than himself were left alone. They were hundling. They were building a fire, when the flames burst from the store and caught his apron, burning the front of his body to a deep blister. It is supposed that he inhaled some of the flames which caused his death.
