TO AN ANGEL SISTER.

By Mrs. M. W. COBB.

Many years have flown, dear sister,
Since thy spirit took its flight
To that bright ethereal region,
To that land of pure delight.

Long, long months we mourned thy absence,
From our happy earthly home,
But hearts grown old with sadness,
Yet then seemed but gone to roam.

Every New-Year's eve, dear sister,
I must sit and think of thee,
And ever and anon I might be
To glide across that dark wide sea.

A few years, on earth thou lingered,
Still with strength the love-cords twined,
For thou wert ever the true friend,
That time ne'er again could find.

Oh, how noticeable did that angel
Come with wings of love and peace;
Bearing away the darling daughter,
God had given but as a lease.

There at sad and lonely twilight
Of that old and lonely home,
We received thy "good night"
That we never more shall hear.

Thy arms the angels have thee,
Far away to God's bright land,
Where there are no tender mercies
And no more earthly pain.

When the New Year dawns to beauty
Dawned upon our hearts of gloom,
Then hadst thou our love of glory,
And in springtime's dewy morning
Did I wander to the grave,
With love's fingers twine the roses,
And in prayerful tones I said,
Oh, how I long to look down upon thee,
From thy heavenly home afar.

Then again thy holy station,
And in prayerful tones I said,
State Normal School, Millersville, Pa.

DIED IN PRISON.

[Died in the Military Prison, at Monaca, Georgia, Sept. 1, 1864.]

Alfred M. Murray, commanding Battery F, 1st Artillery, was born in Cambridge, N. Y., July 15, 1840, graduated at the State Normal School, Millersville, Pa., entered the army June 1862, was wounded and captured at Atlanta, Ga., July 22, and died August 28, 1864.

A Southern patriot, of high mind and high spirit, he was a man of noble character and high standing in his community. He was a man of noble character and high standing in his community. He was a man of noble character and high standing in his community.

A BULL-FIGHT FOR A WIFE.

An Adventure in Spain.

We were English residents in Malaga, my sweet Alice, her father, and myself, when a terrible misfortune assailed us. Mr. Croft, in one of his excursions, was assailed by a robber-chief, and conveyed to his fastness in the mountains, from whence he demanded a ransom of five hundred dollars. My wife, who was with me, was seized by the robber-chief, and conveyed to his fastness in the mountains, from whence he demanded a ransom of five hundred dollars.

TWELVE AND A HALF YEARS IN PRISON.

By Mrs. CALVIN FAIRBANK.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE INDEPENDENT:

More than thirteen years ago the reading, humane public were astonished at the barbarity of Kentucky in kidnapping and dragging me from the State of Illinois into her own dominion, without due process of law, and then sending me to prison at Frankfort, where I remained until the 15th of April, 1852, when I was expected by every one that before this a book would have appeared exposing that inhuman and unchristian act. But upon my pardon, I was enabled to study, or write. Last November the work was attempted, but finding my resources exhausted, I was compelled to suspend my pen for a season, in order to improve my health and replenish my purse. During those years of idleness I have been forgotten by many, and people often ask where, for what, and how long I was imprisoned? I submit this exposure of the public mind to the memory of the world, and in the words of Mr. Tilton himself, "that the world may know that the Kilmish Inquisition was a real and not a pretended slavery."

MR. HASBY REBUKES SLAVERY.

Gov. Bramlette forbade it, and was involved in difficulty with the Government; and in order to hold a collation, relative to Washington, I went to the State of Kentucky, and in the presence of the Legislature, I read a paper, which was published in the "Independent Republican," and in the presence of the Legislature, I read a paper, which was published in the "Independent Republican," and in the presence of the Legislature, I read a paper, which was published in the "Independent Republican."

SONG OF A THOUSAND YEARS.

By Mrs. CALVIN FAIRBANK.

Lift up your eyes, ye people of the earth,
And look upon the things that I have done,
For I have done great things for you,
And ye shall know that I am God.

HOW HE HAD HIM.

By Mrs. CALVIN FAIRBANK.

A man named Wells kept a tavern in one of our western villages; but though his house had a very good name, it was more than he had himself; for it was a place where the law was not respected, and where the law was not respected, and where the law was not respected.
