LOCAL MATTERS.

The Big Calf Beat Again.—Mr. T. M. Oakley of Brooklyn, owns a calf that weighed 114 pounds, when three hours old. And again we ask who can beat it?

The Art of Singing.—We are glad to learn that Prof. Tillotson has decided to commence teaching here. All persons desirous of availing themselves of his instructions, are requested to make application at once.

Soldiers' Aid.—South Bridgewater Soldiers' Aid will hold their next Mite Society at the house of Samuel Sherer, on Friday evening, May 19th, 1865. We trust it will be well attended, as the time seems approaching when these efforts in behalf of our brave soldiers will no longer be needed.

By order of the Society.

South Bridgewater, May 15th, 1865.

Uniform Currency.—The act of Congress, as finally passed, relative to the currency, imposes a tax of 10 per cent., after the 1st of July, 1865, on all State bank paper paid out by the National banks. This will, as a matter of course, drive out of existence all State bank circulation, and leave the field entirely to the National banks, which is an admirable arrangement.

Concert.—Professor Tillotson's musical entertainment last week gave great satisfaction to the music-loving public present. Considering the state of the weather the attendance was very good. We believe Prof. Tillotson expects to remain for some time in Susquehanna County, and those musically inclined can avail themselves of his instructions both in Montrose and in other towns of the County.

Our Young Folks.—The May number of Our Young Folks has all its articles illustrated. Gail Hamilton, Edmund Kirke and Mrs. Stowe are among the contributors. The articles in this number will not only awaken interest, but also convey a large amount of useful information. It is one of the best journals for young folks—as well as the middle aged—that has ever been published in this country. Published by Tecknor & Fields, Boston. Terms $2 a year.

Atlantic Monthly.—The May number of this excellent Magazine is more than usually interesting. "Out of the Sea" is a beautiful story, full of power, pathos, and beauty. It begins on the ice shore of New Jersey, and introducing a quiet Quaker girl of Philadelphia, who had taught the freedmen at Port Royal, and gone to Gettysburg and Antietam with sanitary stores. Mr. Gottschalk contributes another paper on "Notes of a Pianist." "Castles" is a splendid poem and will be read with interest. Ticknor & Fields, Publishers, Boston. Terms $4 a year.

Altered Fractional Currency.—Fractional currency notes, raised from 5s to 50s, have made their appearance, and they are calculated to deceive any one who does not closely scrutinize them. They appear to have had the fives on the face and the fives on the backs erased neatly, and the fifties inscribed in smaller figures, while the bronze on the front is left on so heavily that the lettering beneath does not show through, only two letters, "fi," showing at the side of the bronze. The yellow back of the five-cent note has also been changed to dirty pink.

How to Keep Seven-Thirties.—The question is being asked by the papers, how are seven-thirty bonds be kept safely without deposit with the Bank? By filling up the blank left for the name of the person to whom the bond is to be paid, no one else can make use of Uncle Sam's promise to pay. Seven thirty becomes as safe as an ordinary note. Should it be lost, a duplicate will be issued on proper proof. For this purpose, a memorandum of the number and date of the bond should be kept distinct from the bond itself. Farmers and others will do well to bear this fact in mind.

How Bodies are Embalmed.—By embalming, people generally are apt to imagine that the modern process consists of saturating, filling, and surrounding the dead body with spices, gums, and other preservative substances, as is understood to have been the process practiced by the ancients. Such, however, is not the case. The modern process is about as follows: The blood is drawn off through the jugular vein. An incision is then made on the inside of the thigh, through which a chemical liquid is injected by mechanical means. The liquid permeates all the veins and arteries, taking the place before occupied by the blood, and in a short time renders the entire body as hard as stone, and as rigid as a statue. A portion of the scalp is removed, the brain scooped out. The chest is opened and the heart, lungs, and the viscera are abstracted.—When the process is completed, the body is reduced to a mere shell, having only the outward semblance of the departed individual. How long a body thus prepared will remain unchanged we cannot say—the process has only been employed for a few years—since the war commenced, we believe—so that time sufficient has not elapsed to test the indestructibility of bodies thus prepared.

Stamp Duty on Notes. The following decision in reference to Stamp Duty on Judgment Notes is of interest to all our readers:

MONTROSE, April 24th, 1865.

E. A. ROLLINS, Deputy Commissioner—Sir: What stamp duty do the enclosed Judgment Notes require? Does the seal make any difference in the character of the instrument and amount of duty? Suppose the sealed note had been drawn for a sum less than one hundred dollars, what stamp would it have required? My attention has been called to a letter to D. K. White, Collector for 20th District of Pa., under date of February 9th, 1865, from you, but as I have no means of knowing what kind of blanks he sent, I write for information. In this District the forms I send have heretofore been stamped as Promissory Notes, and where judgment has been entered, the additional fifty cents has been collected by the Clerk of the Court making the entry.

Respectfully, Yours,

W. H. JESSUP,
Assessor of 12th District Pa.

FIRST FORM.

April 1st, 1865.

Ten days after date, for value received, I promise to pay A. B. or bearer, one hundred and five dollars, with interest, and without defalcation or stay of execution. And I do hereby confess judgment for the same sum, with interest and costs of suit, a release of errors, a waiver of all rights to inquisition and appeal, and to the benefit of all laws exempting real or personal property from levy and sale.

Witness my hand and seal.

C. D. [SEAL.]

DECISION.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF INTERNAL REVENUE,
WASHINGTON, April 27th, 1865.

W. H. JESSUP, esq.:

Sir:—Your letter of the 24th inst., in regard to stamp duty on Judgment Notes, is recieved.

In reply I have to say that the first note, No. 1, when executed requires a stamp duty of five cents for each hundred dollars or fractional part thereof, as a promissory note, and also a stamp of five cents on the agreement to waive inquisition and appeal, and if judgment should be entered up upon confession, it would then require an additional stamp of fifty cents as a confession of judgment.

The second form submitted by you, being under seal, is subject to a stamp duty of twenty-five cents as a bond not otherwise charged; if for an amount not exceeding one hundred dollars. If the amount exceeds one hundred dollars, it is subject to stamp duty as a personal bond for the payment of a definite and certain sum of money, and upon judgment's being entered up an additional stamp duty of fifty cents as a confession of judgment.

Very Respectfully,

E. A. ROLLINS,
Deputy Commissioner.

Rogues Caught.—On Thursday last, a man named Edwin C. Albertson came to Great Bend, in this County, peddling a "patent right drink."—When called upon for his Government license, by Albert Truesdell, Assistant Assessor, he was found to be destitute of a revenue license, but well loaded with counterfeit money, which he said he got at a shoe store, in Binghamton. Knowing from the manner in which he told his story that it was false, Mr Truesdell concluded, at the urgent solicitation of Elijah Barnum, esq., who offered, if the trip proved a failure, to pay all expenses, to go to Binghamton with Albertson, and assist him in finding the man who paid him the bogus money.

When they reached Binghamton, it was ascertained that Albertson was in partnership with a fellow named William Dunlevy, a lawyer by profession, who was recently pardoned out of State Prison by Gov. Seymour, but as the evidence against them was thought not to be sufficient to warrant an examination at this time, it was thought best to bring Albertson back to Great Bend, and give the officers in Binghamton an opportunity to ferret out their operations there. After Albertson got back to the Bend, Mr. Truesdell applied to J. W. Webb, esq, of the firm of Willard & Co., N. Y., and Ex Sheriff Warner, of Montrose, to assist in bringing the operations of Messrs Albertson, Dunlevy, & Co., to light. Mr. Webb took the gentleman in hand, and after using "moral suasion" such as few men know how to use, Albertson made a statement, sworn to before Joseph DuBois, esq., revealing their whole operations for the last two months.—He stated that he bought his counterfeit money at No 16, Houston St., N. Y., that he paid $35 per hundred for Greenbacks, and $15 per hundred for Postal Currency; that Dunlevy, his partner, had counterfeit money on Buffalo City Bank in his House at Binghamton; that stolen property, consisting of silver forks, crockery, leather, and hardware, was secreted near Binghamton, and a bbl. of tea at the Binghamton Depot. This property Albertson said they had stolen from parties at Scranton, Carbondale, Waymart, and Binghamton. Mr. Truesdell, assisted by David B. McElwee, and W. D. Lusk, went back to Binghamton with Albertson, and after making diligent search in the "night time" succeeded in finding the stump near the Asylum, under which they found their dark lanterns, brace, bits, files, &c., and in the abutment of the Railroad Bridge they found their keys, (32 of them,) 15 silver spoons belonging to the Wyoming House in Scranton, railroad checks, &c. They also found the leather as stated by Albertson. At Dunlevy's house they found the bogus money, and goods stolen from the store of Messrs Pendergrast & Co., as stated by Albertson, and also found the bird himself, Dunlevy. Albertson was examined before U. S. Commissioner Hall, and sent to Rochester, N. Y., for trial in the U. S. Circuit Court. Dunlevy is in the Binghamton jail, and will be handed over to the Pennsylvania Courts for trial, after the Binghamton people get through with him. The stolen property, except the barrel of tea, is in Mr. Truesdell's hands, at Great Bend village, Pa., where it can be had after being properly indentified.

Our Fallen Heroes.

DAVIS—At Annapolis Hospital, April 2d, 1865, Ezekiel Davis, aged twenty-six years.

WHITFORD.—Adney Whitford, Orderly-Sergeant of Company I, 199th Regt., P. V., 24th Army Corps, died April 2d, 1865, on the battle-field in front of Petersburg, from wounds received while charging the enemy's works, aged twenty-seven years.

Adney entered the service in the early part of the war, and was afterwards honorably discharged. He enlisted again in the fall of 1864, and had since participated in the active operations of the army of the James, up to the time of his death. He was beloved by all in his company, and is well worthy the name of a Fallen Hero.

At the attack on one of the forts in front of Petersburg, he received two wounds, the first through the hip, and the next through the body. He tried to discharge his gun after the last wound, but, alas! his arm was unnerved, and he soon passed away from the bloody strife to that inheritance which awaits our heroes who have done battle for God and right, in that upper and better world where rebellion is not known.

His dying words were: "Tell my mother and friends I died in a good cause." His friends feel they can have no greater consolation in coming years than to know that Adney was sacrificed on the altar of liberty E.

HOWE.—Another hero has fallen! Died a sacrifice upon the altar of his country—a victim of the slave-holders' rebellion. Corporal Nathan Howe, Co. "E," 9th Penna. Veteran Cavalry, enlisted Oct. 2d, 1861, and re-enlisted with his Regiment January 1st, 1864, while undergoing a severe and hazardous campaign in the mountains of East-Tennessee. On the 12th of April, the evening before the occupation of Raleigh, N. C., while participating in a gallant charge, he fell pierced with a traitor-ball while pressing the enemy's column. His face to the foe, he died nobly in the execution of his duty, and fills a hero's grave.

Our country has lost a brave soldier, who was ever at his post when duty called, and never shrunk from danger. He was ever cheerful, and by his kindness and uniform probity of character won the deepest regard and love of his comrades. In him always was found a warm and true friend, ever ready to share the trials and vicissitudes of his comrades. We sympathize with his bereaved parent and friends, and would remind them of his virtuous life, his chivalrous conduct, and heroic death, and that the path of glory leads but to the grave.

D. A. SHELP, 1st Lieut. Company "M,"
9th Penna., Vet. Cavalry.

BOLLES—Jasper A. Bolles, the subject of this notice, son of Avery and Eunice Bolles of Dimock, Susq. Co., died in Andersonville prison, Ga., on the 10th of December, 1864, aged twenty-nine years, two months and five days.

Jasper was an earnest lover of his country, and watched with great interest the progress and developements of the conflict. Having lost his younger brother, Jerry, who fell in the second Bull Run battle, he was a warm friend of the soldiers, and anxious for the overthrow of the Rebellion. In the spring of 1864, he enlisted in the 22nd N. Y. Cavalry, and served faithfully until the 1st of July, when he, with some of his companions, was taken prisoner and conveyed to the Libby Prison where he remained for two months, from which place he was sent to add another victim to the catalogue of suffering and woe, in the awful developement of Slavery's curse, from the prison-pen in Andersonville. Jasper has gone from the fond embrace of aged parents, kind brothers and loving sisters; but in his last letters, sought to comfort them with his confidence in the righteousness of the cause which he was defending and the faithfulness and care of God, in whose hands his life was. He was warm-hearted and faithful as a son, brother, or friend, and many mourn his loss.

Have they died in vain, these slaughtered ones,
Amidst sabre stroke and booming guns?
Or where want, disease, and cruel scorn
Waited noble souls from night to morn?
A land disenthralled, Slavery's broken chains
Answer with joy from mountains and plains.

GATES—Killed, at Rice Station, Va., April 6th, 1865, Elwood F. Gates, Company H, 8th Regt. N. Y. V. His remains, enclosed in a metallic coffin, have been processed to his family, and will be interred at Dimock Corners, Sunday, May 21st. Services at the Baptist church at 11 o'clock A. M.

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

THE sale of the first series of $300,000,000 of the 7-30 Loan was completed on the 31st of March, 1865. The sale of the second series of Three Hundred Millions, payable three years from the 15th day of June, 1865, was begun on the 1st of April, and the SPACE OF THIRTY DAYS, OVER ONE HUNDRED MILLIONS HAVE BEEN SOLD—leaving this day less than Two Hundred Millions to be disposed of. The interest is payable semi annually in currency on the 15th of December and 15th of June by Coupons attached to each note, which are readily cashed anywhere. It amounts to

MORE AND MORE DESIRABLE.

The Rebellion is suppressed, and the Government has already adopted measures to reduce expenditures as rapidly as possible to a peace footing, thus withdrawing from market as borrower and purchaser.

This is the ONLY LOAN IN MARKET now offered by the Government, and constitutes the GREAT POPULAR LOAN OF THE PEOPLE.

The Seven-Thirty Notes are convertible on their maturity, at the option of the holder, into U. S. 5-20 Six per cent. GOLD-BEARING BONDS.

which are always worth a premium.

Free from Taxation.

The 7.30 Notes cannot be taxed by Towns, Cities, Counties, or States, and the interest is not taxed unless on a surplus of the owner's income exceeding six hundred dollars a year. This fact increases their value from one to three per cent. per annum, according to the rate levied on other property.

Subscribe Quickly.

Less than $200,000,000 of the Loan authorized by the last Congress are now in the market. This amount, at the rate at which it is being absorbed, will all be subscribed for within two months, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other Loans. It now seems probable that no considerable amount beyond the present series will be offered to the public.

In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities for taking the loan, the National Banks, and Private Bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.

INCREASE OF RATS.—The Farmer's Gazette (English) asserts and proves by figures that one pair of rats will have a progeny and descendants no less than 650,000 in three years. Now, unless this immense family can be kept down, they would consume more food than would sustain 65,000 human beings.

RATS versus BIRDS.—Whoever engages in shooting small birds is a cruel man; whoever aids in exterminating RATS is a benefactor. We should like some of our correspondents to give us the benefit of their experience in driving out these pests. We need something besides dogs, cats, and traps for this business.—[Scientific American, N. Y.]

We have tried persons, but they feared trouble; but "COSTAR'S" article knocks the breath out of Rats, Mice, Roaches, Ants, and Bed Bugs, quicker than we can write it. It is in great demand all over the country.—[Medina, Ohio, Gazette.
