Among the stubbled coro The blithe quait pipes at morn, The merry particles drams in hidden places ; And gittering insects gleam Above the reedy stream Where busy spiders spin their filmy laces. At eve, cool shadows full Across the garden wall, And on the clustered grapes to purple turning, And pearly vapors lie Along the Kastern sky Where the broad harvest moon is redly burning. Ah ! soon on field and hill The winds shall whistle chill, And patriarch swallows call their flocks together To fly from frost and anow, And seek for lards where blow The fairer blossoms of balmier weather. The pollen-dusted bees Search for the honey lees That linger in the last flow ers of September, While plaintive mourning doves Coo sady to their loves Of the dead Summer they so well remember. The cricket chirps all day, "Oh, fairest Summer, stay !" "Oh, fairest Summer, stay !" rrel cycs askance the chesthits browning ; The wild fowls fly afar Above the foamy bar ten sonthward ere the skies are frowning.

SEPTEMBER.

• Sweet is the voice that calls From babbling waterfalls In mendows where the downy seeds are flying ; And soft the breezes blow, And eddying come and go In faded gardens where the rose is dying.

IN THE SCHOOL HOUSE. Surely God the Lord was with us, In the school-house just up there; Did you hear the little children Lisping such sweet words of prayer? All without a beavenly halo, And within a throne of light, Where the King, with bosts of angels, Came to see the wond'rous sight;

Came to hear them tell the story, Of His never changing love; Came to see them paint the glory That was waiting them above.

Surely 'twas the Savior talking In their volces, soft and low; He had quickened, He had taught there Else they ne'er had loved Him so.

Do you ask mc, "Where is heaven ?" In the school-house just up there; Where you'll hear the little children Lisping such sweet words of prayer.

SPEECH OF HON. HENRY WILSON, t the Great Mass Meeting in Philadelphia September 10th, 1865.

The enthusiantic and long-continued applause with which the speaker was received having somewhat subsided, be spoke as follows: MR. CHAIRMAN AND FELLOW-CITIZENS :--I thank you sincerely for the kind welcome you have given me. To be welcomed by the men of Philadelphila, whose particitism, whose liberality, whose devotion to the country during the last four years is in the heart and on the tongen of the American people, is a compliment of which any man may be proud.-The slave-holders' rebellion, by the ballots of Amer-ican freemen, and the ballets of American solders, has gone down; the rebel chiefs are haprisoned or in exile; the rebel confederacy lies proxizie under

The slave-holders' rebellion, by the ballots of American freen freenen, and the ballets of American soldiers, has gone down; the rebel chiefs are imprisoned or in exile; the rebel Confederacy lies prostate under our feet; and the nation stands before the world stronger than when traitors related their hands to smite it. When the nation was plunged into the fire and blood of civil war, patriotism bade us to forget party, and appeal to the heart and conscience of the nation. Hart now appeal to you, men of Philadel-phia, and Pernagivanis, you who in November last carried your city and State triumphantly for Abra-ham Lincoln and Androw Johnson, to stand where you then stood. I ask every man of you, from the Delaware to the Ohio, to go to the ballot-box in October, and stand by your county now as you stood by it then. The bullet has done its work, the rebelion has gone down in fire and blood; the duty of statesmanship now begins. You, men of Philadelphia and of Pernsylvania, are called mpon now as strongly as you were called upon last No-vember to the the Obling hearts for their murder-els and theolbing heartered in your streets with tearful eyes and throbbing hearts for their murder-ed President, whose remains were shone massing to their last resting-place. You loved him; you glor-their kas trasting place. You loved him; you glor-ther the publican party of the United State-[Great applause.] Thongh not yet ten years old. the Republican party has indeliby written its nam-upon the records of the country as the champion of therised of of the Republican party of the United States. There is the record. It is a record that speaks of particism, of the crastion has done so much to markind as the Republican party of the United States. There is the record. It is a record that speaks of particism, of theory and the graitude of markind as the Republican party of the United States. There is the record. bellion, was fired by a man who would vote the Democratic ticket. We want no reverge upon our southern people. I can say here, in the presence of Almighty God, that, in spile of all their erneity and outrages of the last four years, I nover had an ankind sentiment in my herit towards the people of the Bonth. I look-ed upon them as mad and drunk with slavery ; that it had poisoned the very fountains of their feelings ; that they had rushed into fire and blood to estab-lish a great slaveholders' confederacy that was to embrace as slaveholders', confederacy that was their principles, their measures—they, themselves— he prostrate nder the heel of American patriotism. Since the morning of creation no set of men were ever as subjugated, so conquered, se absolutely ground to powder, as the rebels in the United States. They are uiterly prostrate at our meroy, creeping and crawling up the stairways of the White House, berging for a pardon! [Loughter.] They have then his bitter stands? Jocent not set for a great-er puishment upon them than that with which they have already been visited. What we want of them is simply this: we want this matter of roor guitation to be so settled that it shall be settled forever. Remember, gentlemen, that mangt is sec-ted that is not right. President Johnson can make his nome as dear to his conntrymen as did the sain-struction will either bring honor or dishonor. I have contributed of your substance to establish and main that noble institution which the sain-tom of aneontry, and the right of all men in A
