Special Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Consumerci President Johnson's Policy.

WASHINGTON, September 19, 1865. Washington, September 19, 1895. The fears which have been quite generally enter-tained that the opening of Congress would lind the President and a considerable portion of the Repub-lican members in irretonelled antagonism are now set at rest. The broad and tolerant views expressed by Mr. Johnson has weak to a New Bogland Soma-tor, as given in your telegrams from here, have set-tied that question boyond a peradventure. The Sen-ator referred to was Henry Wilson of Massachus-tis, when this will employ by anywretic the set of the set of the set operators of the set of the set operators of and contact these who are norther with such a de hasion. It is a juty to have them take on so, an become the laughing stock of the world Address of the State Committee. John Cessns, chainess of the State Central Com ator referred to, was Henry Wilson.of Massachus-tia, whose frankly put questions were statemanike in secordial and frank as they were statemanike in sentiment. Much more than has been published was said during the interview The President was repeatedly emphatic in controvering the notion that he intended to cut adritt from any part of the great bedy which elected blim, and of whose cen-tral ideas he is the representative. Mr. Wilson, who came here somewhat impressed with the gloony view of thugs which he found so common smorg Northern radicals, returns much clated with the prospect before the party and the country, to er-tusiastic in his estimate of the character and abili-tics of Mr. Johnson, comparing him favorably with mittee, has issued and address to the people of the State, which is marged by the about for which its author is distinguished, the refers to the triumph ant close of the war, and the victory achieved by the Government over its encodes in the field, as well as their complete disconding: at the ballot box, and hen proceeds to discuss the questions of to-day. We make room for the following extract in reference to the effort made by the Democracy to secure the tuberatic in me estimate on the character and anni-tics of Mr. Johnson, comparing him havorably with his illustrious predecessor. The Precident's frankness and sincerity in con-vestation are among the most marked elements of his character. They were well illustrated in his daily reception of the pardon-seeking throng, as in his talk with Senator Wilson, or the remark, men-tioned in a trevious letter, to another New England Senator, (Mr. Clark, of New Hampshire,) that he could only pray for his Democratic adulators. There and mer have been any micronorption as to his course, yet there has been considerable, and these assur-ances have already perceptibly quieted the nervon-mess of some trouble-gathering radicals who have. Those who fancied they saw an irreversable sys-tem of restoration heirg established in the interest of those who had but just throw down heir arms now see only the creation of temporary institutions. Because a vigorous prosecution of the war for suppression of the Robelion has ever been urged the Union party of the country. Because the war has never been sustained or vocated by the leaders of the party opposed to a decision to the set of the party opposed to ellion has ever been urged advocated by the leaders of the party opposed to the Administration. 3. Because the friends of the Unlon cause have always anstained such assuperted the solders in the field, and the baders of pretended Democracy have ridicated and derived the solders of the Union, caldag them "Lincenty Directings," "roblers," "plonders," and other epithers well for reputition. 4. Because when voltateers were called for they demanded a draft. 5. Because when the draft came, they opposed the commutation clause, and declared it was a discrim-ination against the poor man. 6. Because when that clause was repealed they complained that the only hope of the poor man was

w see only the creation of temporary instituti whose presides merit is that they are so, and that their workings will allord a sure light for the guid-arec of hold Executive and Congress when they finally address themselves to the work of a perma-

and to hold in the time elves to the work of a permi-tically address themselves to the work of a permi-nent reconstruction. That Mr. Johnson does not consider it improbable that a longur probation and a more decided inter-ference by the General Government with the do-mestic affairs of the revolted states, may be made necessary by the bindness of the Southern people in struggling against the logical consequences of the war, which are not simply the form, but the spirit of ennancipation—not primarily negro suf-frage, but aultersal freedom and its necessary sale-guards—is shown by his frequent declarations that circumstances will be allowed to dictate or modily his policy. A sounder theory of government than this for the Chief Magistrate of a republic could lardly be imagined. Let events be our trachers. It is also certain that Mr. Johnsen fully appre-ciates the proper limits of Executive power, and does not intend to treuch upon the prevince of the Legislature, nor even to forestall its action. Thus he emphatically and repeatedly proclaims that his or-ganization of civil governments is but a temporary exadient made necessary by extraording appro-7. When the amendment of the Constitution was submitted to a vote of the people, mity, of the so-called Demoganization of civil governme its is but a temporar ganization of civil governments is but a temporary expedicut made necessary by extraordinary con-ditions. He exercises the power to create such or-ganizations as a war power by virtue of his authority as Commander-in-Chiet, and they do not differ es-sentially from the establishments under the Military Governors of President Lincoln. We may be assured, to view of all these circum-stances, that there will be no sp it to impair the usefulness of the Republican party; and, what is of equal importance, that the President and the Repub-lican majority in Congress will work together har-monitously. When they were in the service and could not vote they could call them " Lincoln's hirelings," and could vote solid against their right to the ballot. If "niggers" could vote they would say of them as they now do of "old Abe's hirelings :" " Living, they shall live in our warmest affections-and dying, their memories will be cherished for all time to come."

NATURE OF THE FIGHT.

" The Rebellion has been transferred to the Northern States," exclaims a lately pardoned editor of a Southern journal. " Our friends must finish the good work at the polis in the North?" declares General Lee. It will thus be seen that the whipped traitors of the South look as a last resort to their sympathizers in the North, for results which may be claimed as justifications of treason. However the "Democracy " may endeavor to conceal the fact, it is nevertheless true that every vote cast for a Copperhead candidate will be counted and claimed as a ballot in favor or vindication of the leaders of the slave holders rebellion.

KILL THE SNAKE.

To such Republicans as this paper may reach before election, we would make a last earnes appeal for a general turn-out and a full Republican vote. Our wily opponents will be on hand in full force Their object is to gain " the spoils" through the advocacy of principles most pernicious and dangerous to the country, however patriotic and loval they may just now pre tend to be. Not having been as thoroughly conquered as their robet friends at the South, their pro-slaveryism has not been so nearly whipped out of them; they still believe in slavery,

They must determin whether the applicant is over or under twenty-one years of age ; whether he is white or black; whether he has or has not resided within the State or the election district a sufficient length of time to entitle him to vote. They must also determine whether he is sane or an idiot or madman; whether he is a native or a

Position of the Sham Democracy. MAHANOY CITY, PA., Oct. 1st, 1865

MR. EDITOR: The cessation of the slaveholders' ebellion in this country left the so called Democracy robelion in this country left the so called Democracy beached. The tide that swept away the institution of slavery, removed beyond the use of the leaders of that party the only means of acitation, which op-erating on the minds of the knownat, projudiced and immoral, benefited their party organization. The poverty, premonitory apparently, of dissolution, which has overtaken the so called Democracy, is exhibited in their abandoning in New York, in their State Convention, all the ideas that actated the Peace Democracy, and in ther virtual surrender at discretion, to the Republican party. The Chicago Platform is not only sammarily kicked overboard by the New York Sham Democracy, bat they have nominated for the principal State officers military men, Republican in principle, who were prominent in the "enslavement and degradation" of their Southern friends.
