

THE DEMOCRAT.

MONROE, PA. Thursday, May 31, 1849.

General Commissioner. COL. ASA DIMOCK.

Subject to the action of the Democratic State Convention.

The Steam Grist Mill.

We were most agreeably surprised to find this week by the receipt of a bag of superfine West Flour, (a donation from the Messrs. L. P. & Co.) that the new steam grist mill, recently completed in the upper part of the village, is now completed, and in successful operation.

Death of General Worth.

The announcement, by telegraph, last week of the death of Major General Wm. J. Worth, proved too suddenly correct. He died at San Antonio, Texas, on the 21st inst. He was one of the greatest warriors of the country. He was one of the greatest warriors of the country. He was one of the greatest warriors of the country.

Look to the Senate.

We need offer no apology, we are sure, for giving the following article from the Pennsylvania Commonwealth in our column. It makes out a strong, clear case, and suggests the proper remedy. To allow such vile imputations and insinuations upon the late administration, and its unimpeached and appointed, as that of being one of the most corrupt administrations in the history of the United States, is a little less than a libel.

Removal of Gen. Cass.

The work of removal proceeds with extraordinary rapidity. Never before, in our political history, has anything been witnessed equal to it. In all our history, there has been no longer a man, but a hundred. Every man is being pushed to the front. Every man is being pushed to the front. Every man is being pushed to the front.

Modest "Suggestion."

Our Whig neighbor has just been lectured by a new and "important suggestion," as he calls it, which originated with the editors of the Bradford Argus, or rather, perhaps we should say, with the very fussy gentleman who does the thinking and writing for that print.

Is It So?

Some of the Whigs themselves, themselves slurred at a table, and then, in the next breath, they are the same as the Whigs themselves, themselves slurred at a table, and then, in the next breath, they are the same as the Whigs themselves, themselves slurred at a table.

Senator Benton's Appeal.

It is probably known to most of our readers that a majority of the members of the Democratic Legislature, at its late session, had resolved to introduce a bill for the purpose of repealing the act of the Legislature of 1848, which introduced the territories of California and New Mexico, and directing him to carry out, so far as in him lay, the provisions of the act.

To the People of Missouri.

The General Assembly of our State, at its late session, adopted certain resolutions on the subject of slavery, and gave me instructions to obey them. I have obeyed them, and I have obeyed them, and I have obeyed them, and I have obeyed them, and I have obeyed them.

The Gold Dollar.

We have actually possessed ourselves of a gold dollar, (Printer though we are) one of those beautiful coins. It is a trifle smaller than a half dime, on one side is the head of Liberty, surrounded by thirteen stars, representing the original thirteen States, and on the reverse the words "United States of America," with a wreath encircling the inscription.

Who are the Proscriptivists.

The Washington Union publishes the table below as an answer to the charge that the Democratic party carried proscriptivism to such a length as to hurl from office all who hold opposite political principles.

Great Branch of Promise Case.

A good deal of attention has recently been excited by an important trial for a Branch of Promise, now in progress. The parties are highly respectable, and the circumstances very entertaining.

One Week Later.

By the Steamship Caledonia, (which arrived at Halifax on Thursday evening,) arrived at Halifax on Thursday evening, we have one week later and important advices from Europe.

General Intelligence.

The commercial news presents no new feature. The money market continues easy, and the heavy feeling which prevailed in the grain trade per last advices, continues, with no perceptible variation of prices. The Caledonia brought $300,000 in specie.

Who are the Proscriptivists.

The Washington Union publishes the table below as an answer to the charge that the Democratic party carried proscriptivism to such a length as to hurl from office all who hold opposite political principles.

Great Branch of Promise Case.

A good deal of attention has recently been excited by an important trial for a Branch of Promise, now in progress. The parties are highly respectable, and the circumstances very entertaining.

One Week Later.

By the Steamship Caledonia, (which arrived at Halifax on Thursday evening,) arrived at Halifax on Thursday evening, we have one week later and important advices from Europe.

General Intelligence.

The commercial news presents no new feature. The money market continues easy, and the heavy feeling which prevailed in the grain trade per last advices, continues, with no perceptible variation of prices. The Caledonia brought $300,000 in specie.

Who are the Proscriptivists.

The Washington Union publishes the table below as an answer to the charge that the Democratic party carried proscriptivism to such a length as to hurl from office all who hold opposite political principles.

Great Branch of Promise Case.

A good deal of attention has recently been excited by an important trial for a Branch of Promise, now in progress. The parties are highly respectable, and the circumstances very entertaining.

One Week Later.

By the Steamship Caledonia, (which arrived at Halifax on Thursday evening,) arrived at Halifax on Thursday evening, we have one week later and important advices from Europe.

General Intelligence.

The commercial news presents no new feature. The money market continues easy, and the heavy feeling which prevailed in the grain trade per last advices, continues, with no perceptible variation of prices. The Caledonia brought $300,000 in specie.

Who are the Proscriptivists.

The Washington Union publishes the table below as an answer to the charge that the Democratic party carried proscriptivism to such a length as to hurl from office all who hold opposite political principles.

Great Branch of Promise Case.

A good deal of attention has recently been excited by an important trial for a Branch of Promise, now in progress. The parties are highly respectable, and the circumstances very entertaining.

One Week Later.

By the Steamship Caledonia, (which arrived at Halifax on Thursday evening,) arrived at Halifax on Thursday evening, we have one week later and important advices from Europe.

General Intelligence.

The commercial news presents no new feature. The money market continues easy, and the heavy feeling which prevailed in the grain trade per last advices, continues, with no perceptible variation of prices. The Caledonia brought $300,000 in specie.

Who are the Proscriptivists.

The Washington Union publishes the table below as an answer to the charge that the Democratic party carried proscriptivism to such a length as to hurl from office all who hold opposite political principles.

Great Branch of Promise Case.

A good deal of attention has recently been excited by an important trial for a Branch of Promise, now in progress. The parties are highly respectable, and the circumstances very entertaining.

One Week Later.

By the Steamship Caledonia, (which arrived at Halifax on Thursday evening,) arrived at Halifax on Thursday evening, we have one week later and important advices from Europe.

General Intelligence.

The commercial news presents no new feature. The money market continues easy, and the heavy feeling which prevailed in the grain trade per last advices, continues, with no perceptible variation of prices. The Caledonia brought $300,000 in specie.

Who are the Proscriptivists.

The Washington Union publishes the table below as an answer to the charge that the Democratic party carried proscriptivism to such a length as to hurl from office all who hold opposite political principles.

Great Branch of Promise Case.

A good deal of attention has recently been excited by an important trial for a Branch of Promise, now in progress. The parties are highly respectable, and the circumstances very entertaining.

One Week Later.

By the Steamship Caledonia, (which arrived at Halifax on Thursday evening,) arrived at Halifax on Thursday evening, we have one week later and important advices from Europe.

General Intelligence.

The commercial news presents no new feature. The money market continues easy, and the heavy feeling which prevailed in the grain trade per last advices, continues, with no perceptible variation of prices. The Caledonia brought $300,000 in specie.