

Agricultural.

growth of plants is produced at the period when they are maturing their seed. The rapid flow of sap, produced by these influences, may cause the sap vessel to burst, which would produce premature decay, and in most cases a total loss of crop.

Deep Culture. ITS BENEFIT—HOW EFFICIENT. It was strange that, at the late dinner given in the history of American Agriculture, when a committee of farmers met to find out who was entitled to the credit of the adoption of an improved system of agriculture as the old-fashioned Canadian farmer of the West.

Plowing has been the mainstay of the professional and unprofessional agriculturist, and I have to believe it will continue to be so for some time. It is a means of doing what no other means can do.
