BOLD AND ACCOMPLISHED RASCALS.—The Chiro (Illinois) Sun relates that two men recently stopped at the store of Mr. Dishon, in Jonesborough, Union Co., in that State, and requested permission to place a box which they had in their wagon in his house for the night. Mr. D. at first objected, but finally consented to take the box in his store room. The men then put up their horses for the night. Early on the next morning they had their wagon at the door of the store to get their box and start away from the town.—Mr. Dishon missed a half of broad-cloth from his counter, and on further examination found that $500 had been taken from his desk drawer during the night. He then refused to let the men have the box until it was examined. They swore that they would have the box and as they rushed forward to take it, Mr. D. stepped out of the door and locked them in. Having obtained assistance the door was opened and the men arrested. On opening the box a stout, daring looking man sprang out, and the missing cloth and money, and some silks and a dark lantern were found in the bottom. The fellow pretended to turn "State's evidence," and declared he had long sought an opportunity to leave the other men; that to have left them voluntarily would have brought their deadly vengence upon him; that he had never been detected before, that he remained with them only because he was compelled to do so to preserve his life, that there were now six hundred men in the United States engaged in the same business; and that the last time he was at the general money deposited station the company had over fifteen bushels of silver and gold. He would not be put in the same room with the two accomplices, fearing they would kill him. The two men swore to the officers that it was folly to put them in jail, for they had money and friends, it would take at least one hundred well armed men to guard them and notified them that they could not possibly be detained three weeks.

GREAT SOUTHERN RAILROADS.—The Nashville, Cattanooga and Charlston Railroad Company we learn from its report, has a capital of $2,560,755; Charlston has ausscribed $500,000 each, and the Georgia Railroad Company $250,000. It is expected that seventy miles of the road will be finished during the present year. The report estimates the cost of completing the entire line from Charlston to Cairo, Ill. at less than $15,000,000. The Jackson,—Madisonville and New-Orleans Railroad Company are looking to Congress for a grant of public land to aid the construction of this road. The company have a right of way, and have obtained $50,000 by subscription. There have been two meetings at New Orleans lately on the subject, and one party rejected the Madisonville route, as it terminates opposite New Orleans, and a ferry would have to be used. Both are confident of success. The road will be 200 miles long, going into Mississippi.

DANIEL WEBSTER'S CARELESSNESS IN PECUNIARY MATTERS.—The Oswego Palladium relates the following anecdote, as never before given to the public. It is a good one, and characteristic to:

A few years ago he took a trip west, visiting Milwaukee, Chicago, &c. As usual he was out of money, but his friends made up a purse of $1000 for him and one or two of them went along to look a little after financial matters. He reached Albany on his return with a hundred dollar bill in his pocket, and hopes were entertained that this would enable him to reach home.—Webster and his friends passed a night in the city, and when they were about to proceed in the morning it was found the Godlike's money was gone. "Where is that hundred dollar bill you had when we reached the city?" inquired one of his friends. Thunder," replied Webster after fishing for it awhile in his vest pockets, "I gave it to the porter for blacking my boots this morning.

SHORT DRESSES.—Mrs. Bloomer, editor of the Lilly, has adopted the "short dress and trowsers," and says in her paper of this month, that many of the women in that place, (Seneca Falls,) oppose the change; others are still in favor; "and many have already adopted the dress" She closes the article upon the subject as follows:

"Those who think we look 'queer' would do well to look back a few years, to the time when they wore ten or fifteen pounds of petticoat and bustle around the body, and pillows on their arms, and then imagine which cut the queerest figure, they or we. We care not for the frowns of over fastidious gentlemen; we have those of better taste and less questionable morals to sustain us. If men think they would be comfortable in long, heavy skirts, let them put them on—we have no objection. We are more comfortable without them, and so left them off. We do not say we shall wear this dress and no other, but we shall wear it for a common dress; and we hope it may become so fashionable that we may wear it at all times, and in all places, without being thought singular. We have already become so attached to it that we dislike changing to a long one."

BANES.—There is no surer sign of overaction in trade and speculation, than the rapid increase of Banks. It was so in 1836, and is so now. A large number of new Banks have recently been created in this State, and the number is constantly increasing. The case is similar in other States. The Bank Committee in the Massachusetts House of Representatives, have recommended an increase of banking capital to the amount of $5,936,000. In Kentucky, eight new banks have been established, with an aggregate capital of $2,500,000. In Ohio, two new banks, with a capital of $300,000. In Mobile, one new bank, with a capital of a million. In Savannah, one new bank, with a capital of $300,000. Several new banks are also about to be established in New Jersey.—Journal of Commerce.

A MELANCHOLY ACCIDENT.—Mrs. Fritz of Manheim, in Lancaster county, attempted to chastise a small child with a switch. The child began to cry violently, became much excited, placed its hands to its mouth and checked respiration, which it had often done before. During this fit of passion it fell upon the floor, where the mother left it, supposing the child would recover from its fit. The mother shortly afterward returned to her child, and upon taking it up she found it dead.

A FEMALE ATTORNEY.—Strange Scene in a French Court.—A singular affair took place on Saturday, the 12th of April last, at the Court of Sessions of the Fourth section of Paris. A lady, Mme. Grange was seated on the bench of the attorney, pleading herself, the cause of her sister, Mme. Gaigneau. This eloquent woman came forward with much calmness and simplicity, took off her bonet and her gloves, put aside her umbrella, arranged the ringlets of her hair, and then spoke for three hours; without the least hesitation, nor any appearence of fatigue. She explained that this speech was not the first she had delivered in public, for, when she was a young woman, she undertook the defence of her mother. The reasons and proofs given by Mme. Grange, in behalf of her sister, were so clear and conclusive that the tribunal decided in her favor.

THE FOREIGN NEWS by the Franklin is important in respect to the insurrection of Marshal Saldanha, in Portugal. Oporto had opened its gates and its arms to receive him, and the movement was spreading throughout the country. The King was retreating upon Lisbon, most of his forces having declared for Saldanha. Unless the Queen should immediately authorize Saldanha to form a Ministry, it was feared that his party would demand her abdication. A Spanish army of observation was gathering along the frontier. In England, the Government has sufferd another defeat but of no great importance, and Lord John, four times defeated, refuses to resign. In France the 4th of May, the Anniversary of the Republic, passed quietly over. In Germany, nothing new but the probable end of the Dresden Conference. A conspiracy had been discovered in Catalonia, in Spain, but it threatens to be of no importance. In Tuscany the reaction is triumphant.

POISONING AND SPIRITUAL RAPPINGS.—On the 6th inst., in Providence, Rhode Island, Almira Beasly, a girl of sixteen, was examined on a charge of poisoning her brother, only fifteen months old, by giving him arsenic. One witness put upon the stand, testified that the accused confessed to her that she gave arsenic to both the boy and her other sister; but she was a professed medium of spiritual rappings; that she bought the poison with money obtained of those who came to witness the spiritual rappings; and that her mind had not been right since she became a medium. She was fully committed for trial for murder

TWELVE PERSONS BURNT TO DEATH.—John Hannegan, of Harrison county, Ia., lately moved into a new house, and in the evening concluded to celebrate the event with a jollification, to aid him, in which he obtained a gallon of whiskey. At 11—o'clock the neighbors discovered the house in flames, nearly consumed, and in it were Hannegan, his wife, seven children and mother-in-law a man named Patrick Slane, and another man, name unknown—in all, twelve persons!—One of the children was found near the door, where it is supposed to have fallen in trying to make its escape.

A very long tunnel has been recently excavated in France, on the line of railroad leading from Marseilles to Avignon. It is three miles in length, six hundred feet under ground, and cut through solid rock.—The height is ten metres, (30 feet,) and the width 8 metres, (24 feet) The work is finished, the cars run through daily, and cost 10,200,000 francs or $2,040,000.

PHILADELPHIA DISTRICT ATTORNEY.—In the case of contested election for District Attorney, between Wm. B. Reed, Esq. respondant, before Judges King, Kelly and Campbell, it was decided on Saturday. (Judge Campbell dissenting,) in favor of Wm. B. Reed, and a formal decree made accordingly. On Monday Mr. Reed appeared in the Quarter Sessions and assumed the duties of the office.

ANOTHER DEN OF ROBBERS. The New Albany (Ia.) Ledger, gives an account of a den of robbers on an island in Beaver Lake, Jasper county in that State, discovered by Mr. Weiss, who went after four stolen horses. In order to save his life, he swore not to divulge what he saw; but he exposed the whole when he got home.

FLOGGING AT SEA is now a dangerous business, since the passage of the act of September 28th, 1851. At a suit in New York, Judge Lynch decided that the act abolishes flogging on board vessels of commerce as well as naval vessels, and a master of a vessel was fined $150 for violation of the statutes.
