TO THE PUBLIC.

Feeling at all times solicitous for the harmony of the Democratic party, and being at this time especially anxious for the triumphant election of our State Ticket, I have concluded to withdraw my name from the present canvass as a candidate for the office of Associate

Judge of this county, with the hope that this step on my part will in some measure produce conciliation, concession, and union in our ranks and consequently, a more cordial and united support of our Democratic nominees for State offices.

With my thanks to my Democratic friends who have supported and sustained my nomination,

I hereby withdraw my name from before the public as a candidate at the ensuing election for the office of Associate Judge of this county.

AMHERST CARPENTER.

Harford, Oct. 6, 1851.

Judge Jessup's Explanation.

We observe that Judge Jessup is out with an explanation of his inglorious career in the Bank of Susquehanna County, in the Register of last week. Really, Judge, it would have looked better to have left out that self-laudation and signed your own name to the article, instead of the designing cognomen of "Whig."

We do not believe the honest Whigs of Susquehanna county care to be talked to in that style, and further than that, we think they would prefer that other sections of the State should not be left to infer that the Whig party here are engaged in defending the frauds and rescues of that abominable concern. Has it indeed come to this, that the Whigs in this county are to be forced to stand up and defend at the ballot-box, that most corrupt of all swindles?

Is that party to bear aloft on its banners the name of one who was the Chief Commissioner in the whole matter, and sustain him by their votes, thus giving countenance to the swindle? Has that party so deep sympathy for an erring brother as to listen to his appeals for help, when to help him they must endorse his conduct and make themselves parties to the deed? Will they do so, and then hear him boastingly exclaim, see! I am acquitted by the solemn verdict of this community—a community on whom was dealt the merciless blow, that robbed them of their rights and their property? Will they kiss the hand that has smote them, divest themselves of all claims to manliness, and raise Judge Jessup to still higher posts of honor and trust; elevate and defy him in the eyes of the country, and sanctify his acts that have resulted in such outrages? They may do so; but we do not believe they will. We believe them to be honest and independent men. We do not

Gov. Johnston's Visit.

In accordance with previous announcement

Gov. Johnston paid our Town a visit last Saturday, and made a speech. The day was very unfavorable and the gathering small in comparison with the one to hear Mr. Bigler. We should judge that full one-half were Democrats from the vicinity of Montrose.

The Governor spoke two and a half or three hours, and the greater part was devoted to encouraging himself. Any person, a stranger to the politics of the State, would have supposed that the greatest statesman the world ever saw had died, and the occasion was one for passing the most extravagant eulogy over his asses. We say that every sentence contained the personal pronoun I, with a tremendous flourish at the bottom by way of emphasis.

We certainly never saw a man stand up in
