MANTERN

Devoted to Politics. Rews. Literature, Africulture, Science, and Phoralics.

SREE, B. CHASE. PROPRIETORS

MONTROSE, PA., THURSDAY, MARCH 18, 1852.

VOLUME IX. NUMBER 11

por's Corner.

TOur readers, who are foud of a stirring If our reactes, will shank us for publishing the gree of party, which is found in a London paper. The Voice of the Exile.

On a red sword her ill-knit bulk up propping, The anarch Force I saw; Acres her knees was laid a Knout blood drop Beresth her feet was Law. Each with his heel upon a nation's forehead,

Her armed guards stood around, Nations-that, stripp'd of all wherein they glo Were lying gagged and bound.

Then Italy, still lovely through her auguish, Bled, but disdained to weep ; ler cheeks were sank and white, like theirs who For years in dungeons deep.

Germany, with her kind features made for loving, Now written, sharp and sour, erer and anowher large limbs moving, Half conscious of their power.

menate Poland her children hand was clench-

While her full Eastern eye, With fires of hats perennial and unblenching, Glared upward to the sky. and Erin, with her robe of Emerald trailing.

Her harp strings snapt in twain; Vith strained eyes sends forth her sad bewailing To friends across the main. and like a war-spent soldier, faint and breathless

Hongary, prostrate there, lay, seeming wounded to the death; but death-t first, the seat where aparch Force was sitting. Seemed set in living stone, d all those mail-clad guards, supporters fitting For such a firm based throne.

at lo! the clamps which chain to base did fasten Were almost eat away; And the blood dropping from the knowt did haster A change of rock to clay.

ad those huge guards, whose firm and even-Seemed proof 'gainst overthrow, foothold wet with gore of their own shedding, Slipped, swaying to and fro.

ben she and they, with jubilant acclamations, Their song of triumph sung impious Te Deum o'er the nations That 'neath their feet were flung.

all at once that song did check and waver, Then stopped with sudden jar, nice came, low first, but aweiling ever-

A voice heard from afar. Surrylke a cared bird, in spite of chains. ied calumny and wronghis one who, looking from the plains.

Sees morning strike along. muntain-tops, and telishow with the day The sunlight will descend, ad thee the mists that choke the valley gray Maffling it end to and. on from hope rising into defiance.

It spoke with trampet tone. alling mankind to holiest alliance 'Gainst brute Force on her throne.

ed, though in a strange tougue with wondrous That deep voice filled the land.

anach Force upon her throne did cower, Her sword shook in her hand : id her huge guards were sudden terror-stricken. With dull brows ashy white:

Thile those down-troiden nations seem to quicken With new-awakened might, lled by the power that in their half numbered

Amused the pulse of men, the seer's word that kindled life's dead emin the dry bones again.

TR COUNTRY. In 1792, the corner stone se honor the new seat of Government was the 4th of July, 1851, the corner stone of becretary of State made an address, in the tion. entive condition of our country at the

we had fifteen States, now we have misse. The our whole population was three millow it is twenty-three. Then Boston had eighteen thousand people, with one hundred and thirty-six thous-Philadelphia had forty-two thousand, now has four headred and nine thousands has fire hundred and fifteen thousand. Then our imports were thirty-one million they are one hundred and seventy-eight he area of our territory was then eight thousand square miles, it is now three three hundred thousand.

The re had no milroad, now we have three se hundred thousand miles of it.

After Todonia.

From the Evening Bulletin. HARRIET BEVERLY

A STORY OF THE REVOLUTION.

BY JOS. S. COBB-AUTHOR OF "THE CREOLE."

(COXCLUDED.) And then the decks and ringing of the Vulture, but a single moment before so profoundly quiet, became suddenly alive with an hundred human beings; sails were hastily set and unfurled, and as if some magic had been con-nected with the discharge of that solitary gun, the stately vessel was seen dropping swiftly down the stream. Before she had gotten fairly under way, another heavy gun sounded, and the shot were distinctly heard tearing through her spars and masts.

God of heaven they are firing on the Vulture from the shore; hastily exclaimed the young officer, starting frantically from his feet. Harriet, Harriet, I fear your forebodings were out too just." These words had scarcely escaped from his lips, before hasty footsteps were heard sound-ing heavily along the corridor, the door was precipitately opened, and two men rushed into the room. The tallest of these, walking rapidly towards the lovers, thrust a small piece of paper into the hands of the British officer with haste and agitation.

'Oh, my God you are lost, you are lost, you are in the hands of Gen. Arnold himself,' creamed Harriet as her eye lighted on his countenance. Oh, how could you be so crue!? she said again, as she fainted away in the arms of her cousin, Joshua Smith, who had accompanied Arnold into the room.

'Sir, I have no time to lose,' said Arnold addressing the British officer, there is a pass with my seal and signature. The vulture is fired on by some of my command, and you cannot reach her now. Smith has my orders to rewide you the many and and the fire is at pass yet at North Castle.

Then heaven protection to the first the first terminal and the first terminal to provide you the means and safely conduct you through the American lines. You have ill the papers necessary for our transactions. advise you to place them in your boots, between your sock and your foot; and look you if mischance should befull you, mind and not call names; if you should, no one can rescue you, and you involve us all: now farewell and

A short time afterwards the sound of hoofs rance of a servant in the livery of the Robin-linging along the high way, which led to King's ferry, told that the arch traitor was off, and that he had deserted his victim, at a time who handed him a note, without fold or substant him the storm was about to overtake and erush him. Smith and the young officer have not officer have not

When Harriet awoke again to conscious ness, she found herself in her bed; and her as bearer of despatches from head-quarters to faithful waiting woman seated by its side. The sun shone brightly in at the windows and the landscare without looked as calm and beautiful beneath the effulgence of its genia mys, as though all else was as bright and

But within there were hearts closed with gloom, in melancholy contrast with the brightness around; sick with the anguish of hope suspended—and chilled with reflections and fears which shut out all sympathy with smiltwo present Capitol at Washington, was been the witness, and poising her fears be expected to raise the question. If the page At that time General Washington, in tween the safety of her lover, and the welfare was granted by a competent authority under the boot the new seat of Government was of the American cause, which she felt was in the law, then it should have seemed his life. de officiated. Pifty years atterwards, viz: jeopardy; she casually witnessed another inthe 4th of July, 1851, the corner stone of cident which filled her with the wildest hope, ttlension of the building was laid; and threw her into the most distressing agitatreating of State made of the state of law, and in this

Midway of the vast river which stretched Results were looked to and example was necout before her, she described a small cance or essary. long boat, vigorously rowed by several stout The case of Nathan Hale may elicit more oarsmen, and steering its course direct to the sympathy from American hearts, and humani-position of the British sloop below. A soli-ty may revolt at the brutal details connected tary white flag was seen floating from the with his execution—but there is not the same stern, and beneath its folds could be distinctly array of extenualing facts connected with it seen the figure of a man closely muffled in a Hale embarked as a spy and fully counted the great coat, with his broad hat pulled closely cost before he started. Andre went as an down over the eyes. These circumstances, agent was involved in the predicament under the corresponding dress with that in which she invitation from an American officer, and had had last seen her lover, all, tended to per- orders not to enter an enemy's lines or to Mer. lork hat thirty-three thousand, now sunde her that this was Andre making his eschange his clothes.

She gazed with the intensity of wild There is then some difference, but humanity the cape. She gazed with the intensity of wild the cape. She gazed with the intensity of wild the cape. despair, as the boat shot rapidly down the must ever weep over the fate of both, for both stream, but when at length she observed it to nobly gave their lives in the honest endeavor pull up under the bows of the Vulture, her to serve their countries. heart leaped with irrepressible joy; she now But policy demanded the sacrifice of Andre's breathed freely, and trusted to God and to life and he was doomed to die. On the mornin danger. when the winding tones or a bugge rang much and then died away in faint, trial he had demeaned himself with the frankwhen the winding tones of a bugle rang thro, again to see. Throughout the scene of his melodious echoes on the broad bosom of the ness and dignity, of a brave and noble soldier, bousand dallars, now it is five million from which the sound came, and a troop guilt, and disclosing more than a just sense of ite only a few facts going to show of eight or ten horsemen in the gay uniform produce, or a proper regard for his safety, of Washington's guard, were seen dashing up could sanction. His greatest solicitude was acceledition have to do to secure the into the yard a handsome young officer, who is to into the yard a handsome young officer, who is to see it to love, fear was in command of the squad, gracefully way.

The grad of our fathers; to avoid in saluting her; and then hastily own unwary confessions scaled his fate.

The time appointed for the execution was incoming from his charger, was soon by the father a true pales. The sum had the little bondoir.

What can it avail you to know the such a guilty offender! But to satisfy you, I duties did not allow him ever to leave the twill tell you that he is called John Anderson scene of action. in the despatches I am conveying to General

Greene. And is this John Anderson, the only person of that description who has been arrested room, arranged for her exclusive use, and determine. or detected?

from Arnold, and I know not if any other even though distinctive traces of the eminent beaunassed the American lines."

have you seen him yourself, and did you know

No. dear girl, I have not seen him. He is my than to the general in-chief himself. Then heaven protect us, for I fear he is lost, said the frantic girl, as she sank senseless and swooning to the floor.

God of heaven, Harriet, what can you mean! exclaimed William Heathcote, as he stooped to raise her. ! Hand me water, girl, alie has fainted."

being before him once more on that bed, able grace, the charms of that courtesy and afwhich to her was indeed the hed of sorrow, fability, for which she was so universally disspot, since enriest childhood, had been her fear; quick and angry of speech, and forgotten Capt. Heathcote was surprised by the entinguished, and which has been the theme of dwelling place.

are writing, the stern convictors of policy, which induced and demanded its fulfilment, to avert the current of sympathy which min- on an errand of sorrow, to solicit the mercy of you hall; as its mistress, neither care nor sor- ment that would divert the suffering from my gles forcibly with the stream of imperious jus- your influence, for with you is connected the ing nature. Thus Harriet felt, as with the aid tice, and dwells around the memory of this has gleam of hope.'

of her servant, she feeled walked to behold victim to a traitor's baseness. After all, the 'Alas! my child,' said the tender hearted of her servant, she feebly walked to behold victim to a traitor's baseness. After all, the of her servant, sho feebly walked to behold victim to a traitor's baseness. After all, the 'Alas! my child,' said the tender hearted ing nother, her features withhe day, and to act must find its sanction more in the iron lady; I fear that I already divine your errand, 'Give me bread, his mother dies,' cool her fevered theeks with the refreshing rules of policy and example, which govern belong am prepared to weep with you. You are 'Not with hunger; thy mother is aged; breeze of the morning. Thus too felt her lighteen hations, than in the strict letter of the the daughter of our honored friend Col. Bey. Death has crept near, and Time beckons him the same house, he turned his eyes towards bold that the invitation of an officer holding a young man who is to suffer at noon? the waters of the Hudson, and saw far away commission from the American Congress, and the tall masts of the noble vessel, which now entrusted with a most important commandwas beyond his reach. The broad Banner that the entrance within the American lines which still floated from her deck, brought to being involuntary and under a guarantee of mind many a lively vision of that distant clime safety in the form of a free pass—that his hav-of which it was the proud emblem, and where ing made no discovery of himself, but was were gathered all the associations of his boy- merely an agent deputed to receive certain particle of the second agency and agency agency agency agency and agency agency agency agency agency and agency agen hood's years, when life sparkled with the baoy-nacy of unclouded hope, and misfortune was ing forced to occupy a position which might never thought of. But reality suggested in subject him to the suspicion of being a spyother picture now, whose dark outlines were that all these, even clear and strong grounds impenetrable to thought or sight, yet none the of acquittal from the charge alleged against less appalling. This was the morning of the him. Having the chief command in the dis-22 d of September, the last which ever dawn- trict, Arnold most unquestionably, had a full ed with hope to Andre. right to grant passes. The validity of this — Two days afterward as Harriet again pass could not be questioned, only because it sat by the same window, anxiously revolving afterwards appeared that he meditated and had the mysterious incidents of which she had projected treason, nor could Andre have been view the sentence of Andre may be justified.

Washington to save America, if America was ing of the second of October he turned his she was still laboring under this excitement, rising of that sun whose decline he was never pride contention and greedines and the sword in saluting figs, and then as the word in saluting figs, and then as the word in saluting figs, and then as the word in saluting figs. A late writer any the quickest way to dismounting figs, and then write in saluting figs. A late writer any the quickest way to dismounting figs, and then writer and the word in saluting figs. A late writer any the quickest way to dismounting figs. A late writer any two will and especially when abroad I think it is writer and dismounting figs. The time appointed for the execution was dismounting figs. The time appointed for the execution was a limited out to be the dismounting figs. The time appointed for the execution was a limited out to be the saluting from his charger, was soon by The time appointed for the execution was a limited out to prove the principle with a first and with a whole of the dismounting from his charger, was soon by The time appointed for the execution was a limited out to be the will confort you. The time appointed for the execution was a limited out to write any to have a larger of the write and please him above in the world, which is the world with the dismounting from his charger, was soon by the world with the world was a provided in the world with the dismounting from his charger, was soon by the worl

eyes sparkle like jewels of the first water, and son shone with the bright reflection; whilst under some circumstances to look from carth

Well Gen. Arnold has deserted to the Brittle. The house in which Washington at that ish, after first trying to betray West Point; time held his head quarters was a near and and a spy has been arrested within our lines. The house in which Washington at that your prayer, replied the lady, whose feeling hand a spy has been arrested within our lines. A spy affected; screamed Harriet, almost village of Tappon, and fitted up in a style becoming the wealth and habits of the commandative on this subject?

His name, William—his name?

A box on the commandative of the c By heavens. Harrie, you look as though week previous to the day last mentioned, La-you would go wild either with joy or terror! dy Washington had arrived in camp on her andy Washington had arrived in camp on her annual visit to her illustrious husband, whose where she received such visiters as she chose The only one, I believe, that is even susting to see privately. At this period, Lady Washpected. He had all the papers, besides a pass ington had passed the prime of woman's bloom, ty for which she had been so remarkable in thing from the poignancy of his reflections to her carlier life, and which has become so faquick tone, that escaped but now, under a miliar to thousands of her admiring comiry.

I Lady Washington was too thoroughly white flag to the Vulture?

Ah, did you witness that shrewd maneured weeps nor his strauton.

Lady Washington was too thoroughly men from the circulation of engravings taken to the warm. Sympathy to the warm of the circulation of the circulation of were say more in answer, and she assisted the weep-Why that was the traitor General him- still clearly discernable. Her presence never ing girl to where her coach awaited her; and self.'

Oh. Willie, Willie—my dearest consin—have you seen this John Anderson—oh, say have you seen him yourself, and did you know benefits whele she kept in du.

of these annual visits which she kept in du.

of these annual visits which she kept in du.

of these annual visits which she kept in du.

of these annual visits which she kept in du.

of these annual visits which she kept in du.

of these annual visits which she kept in du.

of the annual visits which she kept in du.

of the annual visits which she kept in du.

of the annual visits which she kept in du.

of the annual visits which she kept in du.

of the annual visits which she kept in du.

of the annual visits which she kept in du.

of the annual visits which she kept in du.

of the annual visits which she kept in du.

of the annual visits which she were the discount of the annual visits which she were the discount of the annual visits which she were the discount of the annual visits which she were the discount of the annual visits which she were the discount of the annual visits which she were the discount of the annual visits which she were the discount of the annual visits which she were the discount of the annual visits which she were the discount of the annual visits which she were the were the annual visits which she were the were the were the annual visits which she were the well were the were the were the were the were the well were t ring the whole progress of the war, afforded and sensitive disposition, and had taken root hardly less pleasure to the officers of the ar. in the tenderest and least guarded spot of her

During her stay in camp, the parties and levees at head-quarters were frequent and agreeable, and as she never came until the sea-At the moment that he was placing the fair Washington was wont to display with remark and gratification.'

Heaven bless you sweet lady, for your required to be doubly fortified by investigation, kind words, sobbed the weeping girl. Leome obedience to thy wishes, to bear thee hence to ning; while he or I might plan some amuse

'No, dear lady, no, I am not the miserable jewels; thy bright womanhood shall be

His life we have despaired of.' vhich now flowed as freely as her own. "Where is this poor girl, my dear?" she where she has been staying for several weeks,' reason that she is scarcely conscious of any-thing that is passing around her. She has been in this state since she received a letter from Sir Henry Clinton, who, by acquainting her with the facts, hoped to obtain her father's influence in commuting the mode of punishment which is so revolting to our unfoltunate friend.

'Has Col. Bayerly interfered for this purpose, Miss Clara?'
Oh yes, my dear madam, ardently and imploringly; but he was told that such could not be entertained, as it might imply a doubt in the mind of the general-in-chief as to the jus-tice of poor Andre's sentence.'

the case. I fear my feeble influence can avail my entreaties when his convictions of duty to tion of an avil thought. She retraced her his country are once settled. And is the noble Washington so stern?

sked Clara in a tone of the deepest melan-"Ah, child you little know his heart if you never survive such a shock, exclaimed the girl as she fell weeping at the feet of Lady Washas sae felt weeping at the feet of Lady Wash-ington. Oh, Lady, our last and fondest hope Make them cover the entri s gone. Say not so, my dear girly answered Lady Washington, We are told that there is a Being whose province it is to temper the wind have not leather enough, to the shorn lamb. Put your hope and trust in son shone with the bright reflection; whilst to heaven, and to yield with resignation all that ministers to our happiness here, for the willian, though the latter has been nearer my heart for many days.

'Indeed; and are you clearing upjust when the storm is blackening, and years of toil are about to be nullified by an act of the basest treachery?

'Oh heavens, you terrify me, gasped Harfield. Explain what you thean, my dear coustin.'

'Explain what you thean, my dear coustin.'

'Why have you not heard? he asked.—

son shone with the bright reflection; whilst to heaven, and to yield with resignation all to heaven, and to yield with resignation all that ministers to our happiness here, for the looked forth from his gloomy prison. The merry jingle of the market carts as they rated that may seem to you incoherent—do pardon something to that frantic grief which almost the rolling of the drums as they sounded the rolling of the drums as they sounded the rolling of the drums as they sounded the assembly beat, all, gave token of that in inimation and vivacity which no longer abode within his heart, and of which he was soon to take his farewell lorever.

My dear child it grieves me deeply to be

Not that I have ligard, was the answer. Well, then, my dear girl, said Lady Washington, willing to assuage, even temporarily "I will promise you that if such a request i cene of action.

On the morning in question, after having with the general, in his favor. With what breakfasted with the general and the officers of success, God, and his own just disposition, his family, she had sought a retired sitting which ever leans to the side of mercy, must

Thank you, oh, thank you, dear madam

Evil Thought.

affectionate heart.

A girl, young and beautiful, stood on the son for active operations had passed, the neighborn of a hill; with saddened gaze she looked me, he shall say that his home is the very boring gentry with their wives and daughters on the deep valley and rooted hut, she called prottiest, neatest, cheeriest place in the wide flocked in with eagerness to tender their comliments to the accomplished lady of the verdant meadows, waving confields and turn est object in the universe. It is true that I American hero. On such occasions, Lady retted halls; all bore the impress of peace and have met with a great many things to-day that plenty, all but that little charge of her maid, and departed on his errand the lady, the girl sank down in the chair by rolled away, she saw an ancient mansion nevest; and it she can be pleasant then, she can lips he bowed before her.

"Why so sad, fair one? I have come in hear it every five minutes throughout the everow shall assail thee." As he thus spoke, she thought of her stary-taught her to bow her knee to the great tood ting beside me, as richly attired as a king, in the she has been staying for several weeks, answered Clara.

'At the house of our relative, Joshua Smith, to ask His protecting care through the dark my eyes. Then there is another secret that where she has been staying for several weeks, and when poverty and prosecution had driven them to that lonely cot, and humble, are supported as a king, in the same way eyes. Then there is another secret that wives ought to know, and that is, "clearing driven them to that lonely cot, and humble, a family to be as prim all the times is fittle to that dear mother than the is searcely conscious of any."

'At the house of our relative, Joshua Smith, to ask His protecting care through the dark my eyes. Then there is a nother secret that wives ought to know, and that is, "clearing driven them to that lonely cot, and humble, a family to be as prim all the times is fittle to that dear mother than the is searcely conscious of any."

'At the house of our relative, Joshua Smith, to ask His protecting care through the dark my eyes. Then there is a nother secret that wives ought to know, and that is, "clearing wires ought to know, and that is, "clearing my eyes."

'And is she necquainted with his door ?' To that dear mother wires ought to know, and that is, "clearing my eyes."

'And is she necquainted the rich there is a nother wires ought to know, and that is, "clearing my eyes."

'And is she necquainted the inclusion wires ought to know, and that is, "clearing my eyes."

'And is she necquainted the inclusion wi God terribly punish such desertion, such in- at all hazards should the wife look clean and gratitude?

than ever thy prayers asked of heaven. Then the maiden knew him who stood be-Then the maden knew num was score one every uning shope what the months of the menside her, and, felt that her envious feelings Washing days—those blue days to the men—enemies as these to encounter—men who seem had even him power over her. With a sry, she would at dinner time thrust the tubs all to take a certain flendish delight in seeking to the mind of the general in-chief as to the justice of poor Andre's sentence. The case, I fear my feeble influence can avail the mothing! The general will not listen to the poor of the case, I fear my feeble influence can avail the mothing! get thee hence, tempter, elle's prang from his and et most a vestage of confus and lot she had been eleeping grasp; and lot she had been eleeping on that gentle hill, and the ancient manishing on that gentle hill, and the ancient manish and was young and inclined to convivisity; the bright temper were but the creation of an evil thought. She retraced her steps down the flowered declivity; towards her other resorts; instead of which, he read in lowly hame. As, she entered the shaded strictive works, applied his new-gained knowl- is that these miscrable fasterers eringe and dorway, and looked on the humble board adject to his business; and the consequence fawn as basely as they makine and relieved and read with frangle fasterers eringe and annual with frangle fast eres and relieved to the humble board adject to his business; and the consequence fawn as basely as they makine and relieved to the bright to seeking to depress everything like genuine enthusiasm and brown and the bright boy, or the bright boy, or the bright boy, or the bright boy, or the bright boy or the bright boy. The second depress everything like genuine enthusiasm and depress everything like genuine enthusiasm and some ships of confusions and the bright boy or the bright show and the bright boy or the spread with frugal fare, she was told the lais, he is now worth his thousands, and may be him; and would him crowd out of his sight dy of the castle had heard of their distress. I had some share in their accumulation, too." imagine he is stern. No one is so sensitive to and sent the present supply with a future the voice of humanity, but when his sense of promise of further assistance, her very heart day. wept for thankfulness as she beat her knee

A buck, while being measured for a

A late writer says the quickest way to Maiscellaneous.

From Dickens' Household Words. Nover Despair. The opal-hued and many-perfumed morn

From gloom is born; From out the sullen depth of ebon night. The stars shed light; Goms in the tayless caverns of the earth Have their birth ;

From wondrous alchemy of winter-hours. Come summer flowers : ... The bitter waters of the restless main -Give gentle rain; The feding bloom and dry seed bring once more

The year's fresh store; Just sequences of clashing tones afford The full accord; Through weary ages, full of striff and rath, Thought reaches truth ;

Through efforts, long in vain, prophetic need Begets the deed : Nerve then thy soul with direct need to cope Life's brightest hope

Lies latent in fate's deadliest lair-

Never despair.

The True Wife-A Soliloguy. BY M. A. DENISON.

I will set his chair by the hearth, place his dippers before it, make the room look elean and cheerful, trini the lamps to a bright flame, draw up the little table, place thereon some choice books; I will arrange my own dress as tastetully as I am able, and strive to banish the little perplexities of the day from my mind that they may not shadow my brow. I will smooth my hair and try to look as young and merry as when I was a happy bride; I will meet my husband with a smile, so that when he comes home and looks around him and at prottiest, neatest, cheeriest place in the spot, that alone will trouble me; manifold are the crosses of the resolutions I have so often made; but onth of life founded before her.

Why should all things rest but I! The home to forget them. Now I have learned a Calify yourself, my dear child, said Lady beauty was marred by a sande of sauness, or forever declaiming about ill health? Once Washington in a tone of the kindest sympathy, and tell me what causes you thus to which every reader of American history must know is connected with the time of which we have a saure yourself, that if I can dry your though it spring to meet him, as with sailling he is; as he cannot help me, it would only an mind.

If wives would be happy, they must study that fire, conscience, was one of a series of these little things that seem so insignificant as maxims which Washington framed or copied often to elicit no serious thought for a mot for his own use when a boy. His rigid adment. What rian is there now on the face of herence to principle, his steadfast discharge of breeze of the morning. Thus too felt her ligherent nations, than in the strict letter of the the daughter of our honored friend Col. Berbreeze of the morning. Thus too felt her ligherent nations, than in the strict letter of the the daughter of our honored friend Col. Berbreeze of the morning. Thus too felt her ligherent nations, than in the strict letter of the the daughter of our honored friend Col. Berbreeze of the morning. Thus too felt her ligherent nations, than in the strict letter of the the daughter of our honored friend Col. Berbreeze of the morning. Thus too felt her ligherent nations, than in the strict letter of the the output of the unfortunate to enter; think not of her, a life of pleasants is likes to be flattered?—no, I wont exactly say served devotion to whatever, interests were before thee. I will adorn thy beauty with flattered, but attended to remembered, it you committed to his care, attest the vigilance No, dear lady, no, I am not the iniserable jewels; the bright womanhood shall be spent will, that they may see that they are of some being you surmise, though I know not that amid courts, where all shall offer homoge to importance. And as like begets like, if a wo she con suffer more than I do. I am her coust thy surpassing leveliness; all that comprises in Clara Robinson—the friend of the unfor the happiness of earth shall be thine. in, Chara Robinson—the friend of the unfor the happiness of earth shall be tunate.

The maiden's head was proudly erect as suredly reciprocate with the kindest words and come in the name of that heart-broken girl to with stately microscope her hand to her the sweetest siniles. Now my husband is a ceremonies and some paids taking, he will as: simplore the influence of your intercession, to princely wooer; her fears, her mother's love, mechanic, and far from rich to be sure, yet he save her lover from an ignominious death.— the home of her childhood, all, were forgotten, has his little luxuries for all that; for I like to The proud aspirations of youth about to be see him easy and comfortable when at home, Lady Washington approached the weeping gratified, who now should stay her steps. A so I have made him a dressing gown—it did suppliant, and pressing her fondly to her ma moment; then came rushing o'er her soul the not cost much—and I trimmed up the case appliant, and pressing her tondy to her mamemoriles of other days, when as an infant chair, and it is emphatically his chair; I stole him, families a chair illustration of his ndised at that gentle mother's breast, now her time from my studies, and embroidered a pair habitual exactness, only comfort in sad widowhood; how she had of shoes for him, and I delight to see him sit.

The fact that mere tanght her to bow her knee to the great God ting beside me, as richly attired as a king, in bore the brand of George Washington, Mount to ask His protecting care through the dark my eyes. Then there is another secret that Vernon, was exempted from the otherwise night; and when poverty and prosecution had wives ought to know, and that is, "clearing uniform inspection in the West India ports—ratitade? Nay, believe not, that, said he who still wealthy old lady Bowers told me that when clasped her hands, replying to her unuttered she was married, she had but one little room, knows how common it is for old and middle thoughts, the good I offer thes thou mayest in which were a few chairs, a table, and a high ged men to try to keep young men from itenjoy through an infinity of endless ages. I post cld-fashloned bedstead. She says she ing in the world, by sneers at the youthfulcess will show thee a careless life, surrounded by made a cheap "valence" around that, and for of the aspirants—as in the case of Walpole. all the dazzling, beautiful things of earth, want of cellar they were obliged to put their erdwned as twill be with love, is worth more wood underneath it. But for all the little wood underneath it. But for all the little depress the latter, served to dame their author space, she said she kept scrupulously neat; to everlasting disgrace.

space, she said she kept scrupulously neat; to everlasting disgrace.

No young man of talents, but has had spale board edge to his business; and the consequence fawn as basely as they maligned and ridiculed ery married couple that comes under my ob- genius craves and requires sympathy. It is duty has become once fixed, he has rarely wept for thankfulness as she bent her knee servation, and profit by their failings whereve with him, respecially (and in a measure with been known to undergo a change.

Their must Harriet die too, for she can futureless.—Memory and the servation and profit by their failings whereve with him, respecially (and in a measure with cref perceive them. I notice that some wives all men), in intellectual want as evident as the are exceedingly petulent to their husbands be, coarsest necessary element of existence. fore others; one in particular told me that she put on that appearance, for fear people would that she was too fond; that she sedulous tive charms no longer fills fair woman with ly avoided her husband in company, for it was falarins; when painted roses dorn the sallow that she was too fond; that she sedulous tive charms no longer fills fair woman with ly avoided her husband in company, for it was falarins; when painted roses dorn the sallow that she was too fond; that she sedulous the sallow that she was too fond; that she sedulous the sallow that she was too fond; that she sedulous the sallow that she was too fond; that she sedulous the sallow that she was too fond; that she sedulous the sallow that she was too fond; that she sedulous the sallow that she was too fond; that she sedulous the sallow that she was too fond; that she sedulous the sallow that she was too fond; that she sedulous the sallow that she was too fond; that she sedulous the sallow that she was too fond; the sallow the sallow that she was too fond; the sallow the sallow the sallow that she was too fond; the sallow that she was too fond; the sallow the sallow that she was too fond; the sallow the sallow that she was too fond; the sallow the sallow that she was too fond; the sallow the sallow that she was too fond; the sallow the sallow that she was too fond; the sallow that she was too fond; the sallow the sallow that she was too fond; the sallow the sallow that she was too fond; the sallow that she was too fond; the sallow the sallow that she was too fond; the sallow that she was too fond; the sallow the sallow that she was too fond; the sallow the sallow that she was too fond; the sallow the sallow that she was too fond; the sallow the sallow that she was too fond; the sallow the sallow that she was too fond; the sallow the sallow that she was too fond; the sallow the sallow that sh band better than any body else in the world, when solid graces wield a blanted dark, while and especially when abroad I think it my du-the wife is never displeased when the husband with delicate consideration concedes some little favor, no matter how little, to her, before the world's such things strengthen the holy bond of affection that with long rolling years becomes yet more sacred, more indissoluble, if brightened by such sweet recollections. Some say that they are not at all suited to each other; that their tempers, teates, inclinations, habits, are different as light from dark-ness. Well, I wonder if there ever were two human beings alike? It is foolish, utterly fool sh, to expect such a thing? I even think it is better for opposite temperaments to units. Hissband has a quick temper—a flashy temper, as it is called; it will blaze up in a second. At first I resented it; but happily had vision enough to perceive that he invariably said more than he content to the lines. riably said more than he meant, and if I only held my tongue, he couldn't say as much as he wanted to, little as it might be. Here fald my triumph; I conquered by silence; and thus often saw where I was in fault, and corrected inyself, thereby not exciting his passion un-wittingly. It cost me some trial at first, but the great result paid me liberally for all. I saw that he was very particular; corrected my careless habits; he was inclined to extravagance; I, by a little indicious taste, fitted up old boxes, and made little fanciful ornaments that pleased his eye and saved his spare meney; and I am not sure after all, but they look as well as more expensive upholstery.

Now I feel assured that these little, thoughtful things are hinges whereon turns our hap-piness; and I know if every married woman would practice them with a hearty good will, there would be tewer indifferent husbands; for home and wife are the holiest possessions out of heaven—"Especially my home and wife!" exclaims a welcome voice. Ah! I am overheard-I have done soliloquizing.

PLEASURES OF MATERIANY - I was married for money. That was ten years ago, and they have been years of pulgatory. I have had bad luck as a wife, for my husband and I have scarcely one taste in common. He wishes to live in the country, which I hate. I like the the thermometer at 75 degrees, which he hates: frome instead of at school, which I hate. I like music, and wish to go to concerts which he hates. He likes roast pork, which I hate; and I like minced veal, which he hates. There is one thing which we both like, and that is what we carnot both have, though we are always trying for it—the last word. There had bad luck as a mother, for two such huge, selfish, passionate, unmanageable boys never tormented a feeble woman since beys began. I wish I had called them both Cain. At this one—Gen. Washington is here—the person more rediant lustre, inasmuch as they were my gently laid their precious burden, now entirely insensible on the isofa, and called in her more of Anderson, has discovered this more exterly beneficial in relieving distress, and called in her more of Anderson, has discovered this more their by the ficial in relieving distress, and the name of Anderson, has discovered this more their by the ficial in relieving distress, and the name of Anderson, has discovered this more their by the ficial in relieving distress, the name of Anderson, has discovered this more their by the ficial in relieving distress, and the name of Anderson, has discovered them. Now I have learned a more tested by a strong guard—this has a wowed himself as Andre. I have not seen the presence of the part to save and desponding, and he is carry the composition of the composi cession of thunder-gusts and hurricanes in the Gulf of Mexico. My new chambermaid bounc the door, overpowered with an emotion of er noticed before; and from its portaled ent by pleasant at home. True, she is not very ed out of the room vesterday, flirting her dust grief which her fortitude could no longer representations of the room vesterday, flirting her dust strong—neither am I; but what good does it hood's prime, of noble countenance, yet its do the aching head to mourn and cry, and be load write salut was marred by a shade of sadness, or forever declaiming about ill health? Once I never see my plump, happy sisters, and then glance in the mirrior at my own cadaverous, long, doleful visage, without wishing myself an old mald. I do it every day of my life. Yet half of my sex marry as I did—not for love, but for fear! for fear of dying old maids.

Mrs. E. B. Hall.

A MAXIM OF WASHINGTON, - Labor to keep with which he obeyed that maxim. He kent minuted his whole life. No occasion was su momentous, no circumstances so minute, as to absolve him from following its guiding ray. The marginal explanation in his account book. in regard to the expenses of his wife's annual visit to the camp during the revolutionary war, with his passing allusion to the self-denial which the exigencies of his country had con a that name being regarded as an ample guarantee of the quantity and quality of any article to which it was affixed—supplies a not less striking proof that his exactness was everywhere understood.

OPPOSITION TO YOUNG MER. Every body whose tount against Pitt so signally failed to

As for as I can Pstudy the character of ev- green age and budding season the yeath of Heavens!! exclaimed the natounded snot, par fashionable to show attention to one's face, and action stuffing gives her every grace; serveying his customer from head to foot. I own. Now I could hardly help holding up when piles of gold—her wire's ill gotted gains, have not leather enough!