Spring is Coming. Hark! I hear an angel sing ! Angels now are on the wing,

And their roices singing clear. Tell us that the Spring is near. Donthon hear them, gentle one? Dost thou see the glorious sun, Rising higher in the sky,

As each day passes by ? Jast beyond you drift of snow Silver rivers brightly flow ; Smiling woods and fields are seen, Manued in a robe of green.

Birds and bees, and brooks, and bowers, Tell us all af vernal hours; There the birds are weaving lays, For the happy Spring-time days. Springy breezes kisses bring

And her choir, of warblers made, Soon will give a serenade Look! oh, look!-the southern sky Mirrors flowers of every dye;

From the ruby lips of Spring-

Tripping o'er your flowery plain-Spring is coming back again ! Winter's toggery is old, Rotten in its every fold-And our portion of the globe

Soon will don a fairer robe. Spring is coming-shout for joy ! Man and woman, girl and boy; Soon you'll hear her busy hums-Yes, she comes! she comes! she comes!
