To the People of the United

In our own names and in the name of the great party which has made us its representatives, we pronounce all such statements wholly

The present attitude of the Democratic party in this State, is of itself, when rightly considered, a standing and most elequent proof that the allegation referred to cannot be true. Mr. Buchanan has not been brought forward as a candidate for his enemies. The carnest and sincere attachment of his fellow citizens, who are urging him will not be doubted. Is it likely, that with such feelings, they would seek to expose him and themselves to the mortification of a defeat? Still more absurd would be the opinion, that a people as true-hearted and zealous in the support of Democratic principles, as those who compose the great body of his friends would be willing to endanger the success of the party by the nom-ination of a weak candidate. When has the Democracy of Pennsylvania been wanting in fidelity to their bretheren? When have we tried to destroy the hopes of our political associates, or attempted to impose on them by any pretence whatever? We feel that we can confidently, if not proudly, claim for our party Police officer Ridgely, of the firm of Zell & Ridgely, of this city, was the party who shot in this State a character too high to be suspected of uncandid, double dealing. Besides, our motives for desiring the nomination of the strongest man in the Union, are as powerful as those which operates on other minds. We are embarked in the same ship with you, and have as deep an interest as any of you in choosing a pilot who will take us safely thro the prisoner, who was making a desperance Blanding, aged one year and six months.

it remains only to show that we are not mis-taken in our judgment. We claim to know what the state of public feeling on this subject is. It is not possible that nine-tenths of the party can be laboring under a delusion about so plain a fact, as the popularity of one of our own citizens, who has been the subject of more or less discussion in public and private for a quarter of a century. To say that three fourths of a Convention, fairly chosen from among the

We have yet to learn that any of Mr. Buchanan's competitors for the nomination have escaped this universal for the nomination have escaped this universal fate. But when we do ascertain that either of them has passed through life unassailed by detraction, we are prepared to express our there is much feeling here in relation to the killing of the slave yesterday. The Governor fast been apprised of the transaction, and will probably be called on to make a requisition on the Governor of Maryland for the surrenders of the officer of President: "Wo unto him of whom all men speak well." Among the many elements of popularity which Mr. Buchanan combines, not in the least is the character of the officer on a charge of murder.

The choice of the party in this State has been for ten years past vania is now as she has been for ten years past in favor of James Buchanan. Some of the Whig presses, however, and a few of Mr. Buchanan's personal enamics, have endeavored to create the impression abroad that he is not asset, that if nominated he could not carry the asset, that if nominated he could not carry the Clectoral vote of this State.

The purpose of this State.

The purpose of this address, is to give that assertion a distinct and emphatic contradiction.

The choice of the party in this State bas been for ten years past in the port of the proposal white posts ready to perform their whole duty, and to present as they always have presented, a living rampart between the Constitution and its foes. But if they are permitted to do battle under the leadership of their own fellow-citizen—the well-tried friend, whom they know, and of the well-tried friend, when they know, and the well-tried friend, when they know, and the well-tried friend, when they know, and they are inversed to meet death.
