

viced, deny to him the intellectual qualifications necessary to render his administration of the Government, wise, able and successful. Besides, unless I am greatly mistaken, he possesses decided character and energy of will, without which no individual is fitted to perform high and responsible Executive and administrative duties, such as pertain to the office of President of the United States.—

The Democracy will not ask that his right be indefinitely postponed, and advocated, in a speech of some length, the retention of the religious test and the property

qualification in the constitution.

That same Mr. Chamberlin, who advocated the retention of the religious test, was the Whig candidate for Governor in New Hampshire, and his defeat was deeply regretted by all the whigs in the country. But we would not be surprised to hear that he would now take an active part in circulating the base falsehoods of his party, has started against Mr. Pierce on this subject. The man or party that will advocate a religious test under our form of government, is malignant enough to commit any act of baseness.

Judge Woodbury replied to Chamberlin's narrow-minded appeal in favor of religious prescription, and said:

That striking out the Protestant test was right, or every sound principle of toleration and equal rights, he had endeavored to show fully at that session of this convention, when this proposition was adopted almost unanimously.

Notwithstanding, then, what has so unexpectedly fallen from the gentleman from Keene (Chamberlin) in favor of this test, it cannot be that a majority of the people of New Hampshire, distrusted by no other issue or excitement, but acting on this question simply, could sanction such an opinion.

They did not sanction it even sixty years ago;

but a decided majority then voted against the Protestant test, and the reason why it has since disfigured the constitution is that the majority then lacked a full vote of being two-thirds—that ratio being required to make an amendment—the question then as now being on striking out this sine teste. And, he asked, have we, in reality, and deliberately, traveled backwards? Are we now in truth, and made to order. Farmers will be supplied with Paus, made of strong materials, at Wholesale prices; all orders for work in his line will be thankfully received and punctually attended to.

JOHN COLSTEN.

Great Bend, July 1, 1852.

A. J. EVANS, No. 2 Old Fellow's Hall,

Washington, April 15, 1852.

EZEKIEL BEDELL.

New Milford, June 21, 1852.

U. BURROWS & CO.

PRINTS, PRINTS, PRINTS.

THE largest stock and greatest variety of handsome styles and patterns ever offered in this market, which we offer at extremely low prices, including a large lot of handsome Prints for dresses at 6 pence a yard.

GIBSON, June 12, 1852.

U. BURROWS & CO.

3000 PIECES OF PAPER HANGINGS.

EMBRACING a great variety of beautiful patterns, which we offer at lower prices than ever before in these parts.

Handsome Paper, 10 to 10 cents a roll.

Chinese, English, French and Domestic Prints &c., most of which they offer considerably lower than early spring prices.

CHARLES L. DOTY.

Great Bend, June 5, 1852.

U. BURROWS & CO.

Administrator's Sale.

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been appointed Administrator of the Estate of Nathan Arnold, deceased, will be sold at auction upon the premises in Great Bend

on Monday the 1st day of July next, at one o'clock P.M.

Administrator's Notice.

JOHN H. DIMOCK having removed from this county, has transferred all his business concerned with Bounty Lands to the subscriber, who is the law and instruction from the Department, now in his possession; and will attend to perform the evidence on claims already filed,

and to receive the same, and will file all claims for the regular Train of the 6th, at 8 A.M.

The Wyoming Hotel will be opened on the 5th for the accommodation of the public.

Tickets for the Excursion, at much reduced rates, can be obtained on application to the Agents at the several stations.

H. H. FRAZIER, Auditor.

June 5th 1852—234

Wool! Wool!

CASH for Wool by H. BURRITT

New Milford, June 1852.

H. D. DOTTERER,

Superintendent.

Scranton, Pa., June 20, 1852.

Edo.

In Liberty, Friday, June 10th PARLORE JANE

STANTON, only daughter of Calvin and Anna

Stanton, aged one year, 3 months and 5 days.

This lovely bud, though nipp'd so soon,

Shall rise and bloom beyond the tomb.

In this Borough on the 24th inst. EUGENE H.

son of John A. and Catherine F. Warner, aged 4 years, 9 months and 24 days.

He's happy now, O blest we are,

That we may deem him so,

And to his spirit look afar.

Through all our woe,

The things, the toys he loved on earth,

As we lie my head;

Which bring sweet thoughts of parted

By words untold.

We mourn, but still a chastening power,

To our lone hearts is given;

For well we know our dear loved flower,

Now blooming in Heaven.

EXECUTORS' NOTICE.

THE undersigned, executors of the last will and testament of Michael J. Sullivan, dec'd, late of Liberty, hereby give notice that all claims and estate must be presented to them immediately for settlement.

FRANCIS QUINN, Esq.

Harford, June 28, 1852—264

Administrators' Notice.

THE undersigned having taken letters of Administration in the estate of Walter Willson, deceased, late of Harford Township, hereby give notice to all persons indebted to said estate that the same will be settled immediately;

and those having claim will present them for ar-recovery.

CHARLES TINGLEY, Adm'r.

with the will annexed.

Harford, June 28, 1852—264

from section 20th the words, "and seized of a freehold estate in his own right of the value of a hundred pounds, lying within this State," and in section 42d the words, "and unless to shall at the same time, have an estate of the value of five hundred pounds, one half of which shall consist of a freehold in his own right, within this State."

Mr. Chamberlin of Keene, moved that the resolution be indefinitely postponed, and advocated, in a speech of some length, the retention of the religious test and the property

qualification in the constitution.

The Democracy will not ask that his candidate be elected, because of his great military exploits.

And, yet, his military services constitute a beautiful episode in the history of life. It is no small distinction, for

Gen. Pierce to have merited and received the official and emphatic endorsement of the Community of our army in Mexico, (an army composed of heroes,) for gallantry and good conduct on the field of battle.

Colonel King, our candidate for Vice President, I can say emphatically, that he is one of the purest, the best and the most sound judging Statesmen, I have ever known.

He is an eminent, unwavering Democrat,

and a man of the highest personal qualifications.

The Democracy will not ask that his candidate be elected, because of his great merit and popularity.

But why should I insist upon the merits and qualifications of our candidates?

Their nomination by the highest tribunal of Democracy is the strongest presumptive evidence of their worth.

As Democrats, we believe, that not only the protection and welfare of the country, but even the preservation of our blessed Union, depend upon a faithful observance of these principles in the administration of the Federal Government.

And, if we do not do our duty, we shall deserve to be arraigned before the bar of history.

I am, etc.

W. J. WOODBURY.

Montrose, June 28, 1852—264

What hair magic power to trace
Beauty's lovely form and grace,
Or the plump, homely face!"

DAGUERREOTYPE!

What infant smiles engage—Daguerreotype! His middle sig.,
Or the hoary hair of age?

DAGUERREOTYPE!

What attracts the lover's eye,
Calling forth a smile, sigh,
Though the loved one is not high?

DAGUERREOTYPE!

What gives comfort to the heart,
When our dearest friends depart?

It's this wonder-working art—

DAGUERREOTYPE!

This is a hollowed feeling feeds,
And for absence makes amends,

When we hold some cherished friend's

DAGUERREOTYPE.

What can infant smile engage—
DAGUERREOTYPE!

What attracts the lover's eye,
Calling forth a smile, sigh,

Though the loved one is not high?

DAGUERREOTYPE!

This is a hollowed feeling feeds,

And for absence makes amends,

When we hold some cherished friend's

DAGUERREOTYPE.