port's Corner.

She Came and Went.

BY JAMES RUSSELL LOWELL.

a twig trembles, which a bird Lights on to sing, then leaves unbent, So is my memory thrilled and stirred: only know she came, and went.

As clasps some lakes, by gusts unriven. The blue dome's mensureless extent. So my soul held that moment's heaven : I only knew she came and went.

As at one bound, our swift spring heaps The orchards full of bloom and scent, So clove her May my wintry sleeps; I only knew she came, and went.

An angel stood, and met my gaze,
Through the low doorway of my tent; The tent is struck, the vision stays: I only knew she came, and went.

Oh, when the room grows slowly dim. And life's last oil is nearly spent. One gush of life these eyes will brim, Only to know she came, and went.

A Pair of Goms.

The following beautiful little Poems are the ductions of a Scotch lady named Lunday mean, who wrote them for her children: A CHILD'S MORNING PRAYER.

I thank Thee, Lord. for quiet rest, And for thy care of me;
O, let me through this day be blest,
And kept from harm by Thee.

0, let me love Thee ! kind Thou art To cherish such as I; Give me a gentle, holy heart. Be shou my friend on high!

Help me to please my parents dear, And do whate'er they tell; Bless all my friends, both far and mear, And keep them safe and well

Till sunset, that we may repent; which doing, The record of the action fades away, And leaves a line of white across the page."

Misceliancoma.

بهيارهادودودوه Marcelline's Triumph.

ET STLVANUS CODE, JR. Some ten or fifteen miles beyond the mounins in the immediate vicinity of Triste, over my the rugged passes of the Carnic Alps, is a small hamlet of huntsmen's dwelland among them, though somewhat isod, is a sort of rough inn, which used to te as a wassail-house for the hunters, and aing in March, and though there was no whistling, whirling and howling down the main sides, failed not to drive the people

Within the bar-room of this humble inn fae collected some half a dozen of the Aland anon bending a willing ear to the roomen, strangers in the place, who had d just at nightfall and engaged entertaind rest for the night. These two travslooked not much unlike common men, t there was something about their counfacily as honest men would be suppoto have behaved, for in all their moveand there was an evident aim to escape a so critical observation. They had horses in setable, and were also provided with large ing sacks, which were entirely or nearly Ever and anon one of the hunters and once or twice they endeavored to the twain into conversation; but the two esisted in remaining by themselves, and they retired to the room which had who stood behind the bar, "does Altsir," returned the girl, "he comes not has your master left you alone?" ask-

Altzorf has left Lubin with me." Lubin is only a boy—a mere lad."

, what of that?" replied Marcelline,

What an idea," she said. "Why, what for take them for?" All is not impossible that they are robbers," famed the first speaker.

bestir yourself and show us where they are." snow is dee
"I shall shrick, sir! I shall cry out for dig paths?

at the same time laying a rough grasp upon our sufferings and grievances. Can we not exthe maiden's arm and drawing a pistol from cite sympathy, if we speak of our unredressed apparently of a higher caste, called and inqui-his pocket. "Your stable boy is already se wrongs? Now I propose to call a man's conto you; but if you do not-"

In March, and though there was no per the blasts, as they came sweeping ance, but she soon found that she could gain pigs, sheep and oxen, and then, dressing and lam sides, failed not to drive the people only threatened her life, but they world that ing very thankful it dear woman would just be traced by government spies, and every more and then, dressing and trought me from the collection of the freside.

Was given to he by a water that my too 1steps of water that my too 1steps of water that my too 1steps, and every more than my too 1steps of water that m they would break in sunder every door and come out to the eart, and point with her jew-partition in the house till they found the box. eled inger at the piece she would like for the unters, who passed the mug and tankard best to reveal the hiding place of the box, and amon bending a willing ear to the trusting, however, that something might yet up from the deep mines where they live, two d joke, while nearer to the blazing fire turn up to assist her, and accordingly she led miles from daylight, and never seeing the heavsmall apartment. Taking a key from the mo- with their little lamps in their caps, and all ney drawer, she unlocked the door of the back covered with couldnot! No, they would not > session, and so, if you would open it, you must blasting-powder. What heart in th needs force the lock."

said one of the robbers, as he cast a scratinisubterranean eaverns, and when the buried cried zing glance into Marcelline's face. "I fear to out against the wrongs imposed on my sextrust you too far, so you must excuse us if we There are, it is said three millions of men con-piece of stout cord, he proceeded to lash her wreck, going down to watery graves,—and for to a chair. She stoutly resisted, and even at what? Why, that our dear ones may have their tempted to utter a cry, but a napkin soon stop-silks, their shawls, their laces, their china, and ped her power of utterance, after which her their perfames! It is estimated that fifty thou who stood behind the bar, "does Altsir" who stood behind the bar, "doe > alone, she almost gave up in despair; but her woman's wit soon came to her aid, and a gleam where the villains were at work they could tar to build the fine houses, who are obliged not look into the bar-room, and after listening to handle pork and tobacco, train oil and sugar, minute to burn off, the cord that secured her to be seat in the cars, till the ladies are provided for, and then bending over, she took the back of her chair in her teeth and carefully moved it out of the way. Then she turned again and placed the cord that bound her head of the table, where I understand the cape.

1974 - 1972 Sec

that came over her. While the staiwart hunters had been there, she had felt bold and safe in but now that they were gone, she could not banish the spectre that intruded upon her lone-liness. The two men—the stronger travell-lers—had indeed exhibited anything but pleasing countenances, and poor Marcelline now being a very different view of the case, has ing a very different view of the case, has fing a very different view of the view of the case, has fing a very different view of the case, has fing a very different view of the case, has fing a very different view of the case, has fing a very different view of the case of the view of the case of the view of the case of the view of the view of the case of the view of the case of the view of the view of the case of the view of the case of the view of the ca respond to her summons in case she should have occasion to call him during the night.—

The boy then went to his bed, and once more the maiden was left alone. Nothing broke the stillness of the night save the blasts that howled among the Alps, and for half an hour Folsom, Garrison, et omne id genus all on the chief men of these reliances that the fast description given in our passports. The saw the longer she sat by the fast description grayers in abundance to the ladies, dear souls, and in raples:

"As soon," says Dr. Alton, "as the anchor them, and for half an hour treatment of the same treatment of the same in raples:

"As soon," says Dr. Alton, "as the anchor was down a strong posse of police officers in jumped on board to inspect the passengers. We were ranged on the deck for the purpose, the stillness of the night save the blasts that disclosures of unsuspected facts, from Abby the fast description given in our passports. The In all the first shift for any step of the start of the first start of the start of the first start of the start of the first start of the start of the first start of the start of the first start of the first start of the first start of the start of the first start of the start of the first start start of the first start of the first start of the first insign the phrase merely from the force of habit.

"Yes, pretty one, I do," the man returned, but what then? Are they have to use a side-will want Altzorf's strong box."

"Merey, sir! You would not rob us?"

"O, no—not you. It's only those bandles which belong to the convent that we want; so bestir yourself and show us where they are?"

"I shall shrick, sir! I shall cry out for the family,—because I knew she there again, on my arrival, I was ordered to drive off to my hotel. Here again, on my arrival, I was ordered to register myself in every particular as before—then then? Are they fave to use a side-side of the family,—because I knew she there again, on my arrival, I was ordered to register myself in every particular as before—then then? Are they fave to use a side-side of the family,—because I knew she could do it better than I; and I have given my daughters the best education possible, and far there again, on my arrival, I was ordered to register myself in every particular as before—then the force of the family,—because I knew she could do it better than I; and I have given my daughters the best education possible, and far register myself in every particular as before—there again, on my arrival, I was ordered to register myself in every particular as before—then I had,—but what then? Are they fave to use a side-structular as before—there again, on my arrival, I was ordered to register myself in every particular as before—there again, on my arrival, I was ordered to register myself in every particular as before—there again, on my arrival, I was ordered to register myself in every particular as before—there again, on my arrival, I was ordered to register myself in every particular as before—the again, on my arrival, I was ordered to register myself in every particular as before—there as the here again, on my arrival, I was ordered to register myself in every particular as before—the day of the beas the level again, on the level day of the beas the level as the register myself in every particular as before—the

to start for the stairs.

"No, no, sweet one," the villain returned, into the enemy's camp a little, and speak of cured, and we shall treat you in the same way. vention in some important place, say Matilda. But mark me—if you are quiet and tell us town, and to have a meeting of the greatest where the box is hidden, no harm shall come and best, the wisest and the boldest, and see if we can't emancipate ourselves from this throlroom, and pointing to a small box in the fur-ther corner, she said:

Toy and pointing to a small box in the fur-But they should send up their story of wrongs "As something about their country, sine said:
"There, sine, sine that closet is the monk's and oppressions, aid tell the Convention how the hunters. They did not besession, and so if you would see the monk's and oppressions, aid tell the Convention how the search as honest me exactly as honest me. eeds force the lock."

"You are ready with your wit, pretty one," moved, when the voice came from those dreary Ever and anon one of the hunters cast a furtive glance towards the stranthe one or twice they endeavoyed to > door.

>
> Horse Marcelline had been left slavery to which ye have sunk my kind! And the Convention should be electrified by woman's wit soon came to her aid, and a gleam the eloquence of men who fill our streets, who for hope lighted up her countenance. From bear burdens, who carry all the brick and mor-

"Hal hal ha!" laughed Marcelline. "Robbers in such a place as this! Let's sco—there are about twenty groshed in the drawer, and I have exactly seventeen cruitzers in my little box up stairs! What a place for insolate the box up stairs! What a place for insolate the box up stairs! What a place for insolate the box up stairs! What a place for insolate the was a few manufacture of the money to Triste, save what I have named."

"Marcelline, aid the first numer who had she was the cover the bar, "do you not know if your master received in trust a large wooden box from an old monk, who went lately to the convent of St. Celia."

"Yes, he received as an advertise the convent of St. Celia."

"Yes, he received as an advertise the convent." The monk left it till his return."

"Yes, he received and or an one," replied the maiden, "and even now it is locked up in his strong room."

"That box contains the mastle silver plate and she when an other of the wood of the convent." The monk left it till his return."

"That box contains the mastle silver plate and convent." The monk left it till his return."

"The manufacture of this," Marcelline replied, betraying a slight surprise at the knowledge she had just received; and if they did, they would not sure ly too the house."

"I don't know about that" returned the hunter. "Even in large cities these robberies take place. You had better let Jantin or Ro-land creaming in the house to anight."

The little in is still open to travellers, but wished as manufacture, and in the house to anight. The let was been and help replication of the precise of the work and that we could not him had the work of a few moments to rouse some of the house."

"That little inn is still open to travellers, but with she manufacture of the work and the work of a few moments to rouse some of the work and the work of a few moments to rouse some of the work and the work of a few moments to rouse some of the work of a few moments of the work and the work of a few moments to rouse some of the work of the work of clothes, when he would be received with all courtesy; but he went off rather surprised and indignant at my assurance.

Having issued out of the bath and hedroom, and sat down to breakfast, two police officers, the facts, and when these did not seem to be satisfactory, I threatened to eat my breakfast in silence, inless they became remarkably civ-The villain silently finished the sentence by the second remarkably civalence for the hunters, and is a shelter for travellers on their way to form Lapbach. It was a cold, blustering in March, and though there was no large in March, and though there was no large in March, and though there was no large in March and though the second in the mark of the second in had brought me from the custom-house to the no money? hotel, was already under examination as to all from home, and seemed desirious to point out and don't want to hear of you again. But I any thing worth seeing. By and by he began want my fare and must have it.'

to talk more generally, then he complained of the constituted authorities and seemed to be 'I have only an order for million,' he said. found at, my elbow an intelligent gentleman set up a horse laugh. Just then an 'Agent de who spoke English fluently. He was so re Cliange came by, and Baron Rothschild bermarkably obliging that my suspicious were expressed of him the six sous. cited. He was very delicate and dextrous in trying to draw out my sentiments, but in three minutes I was convinced that he was a govern-

No Idle Time.

Dr. Rush was, perhaps, one of the most unphysicians were conversing in his presence, one of whom said, When I finished my studies provi-low. I Mr. Smith O'Brien allows $200 a year to you—and those who don't like it may go to Even in large cities these robberies take place. You had better let Justin or Roland remain in the house to-night."

"Oh, no, I had rather not-folks would all Attorf keeps it no longer. Justin, the adeep blush upon two fair youths among the hunters, who had been thus designated to her. Marcelline remained firm in her determination to accept of no assistance, or rather guard from the hunters, and ero long they departed to their several homes. The maiden was left in the stable; and as she found herself thus solitars she could not repress the feeling of fear the works and are holds they were not chimneys too. I find the stable; and as she found herself thus solitars she could not repress the feeling of fear the works they are of all didn't known that they were gone, she could not the works and the stable; and as she found herself thus solitars she could not repress the feeling of fear the works they are a said tory hard came over her. While the stabwart hunters had been three, she had felt bold and safe; but now that they were gone, she could not repress the feeling of fear the wrongs they are enduring and if possible but now that they were gone, she could not repress the feeling of fear the works and suppression that their rights are very much ingression that they are a stall the works that women wanted to be compared with the ladies of Philadelphia, Baltin or any ward to be some them like heroes, and suppressed that do had safe for the beauty women I had ever they done the maid may be not an any country. I believe it is noted as formed and most beautiful women I had were the form the not relieve the in any country. I believe it is noted as the formed and most beautiful women I had ever the house of the hunters, and end of the beauty of its fenale pape pape and on the them of the beat of the hunters, and end of the hunters, and end of the hunters, and ever hunt women in the hunters, and that came over ner. What they were gone, she could not but now that they were gone, she could not banish the spectre that intruded upon her lone. Incss. The two men—the stronger travellers—had indeed exhibited anything but pleasing countenances, and poor Marcelline now becking a very different view of the case, has finally dared to give utterance to his thoughts and print them for reflection of all. We thank him for his courage in such a crisis. These

Anocdote of Rothschild.

There is a good story told recently of Baron Rothschild, of Paris, the richest man of his class in the world, which shows that it is not only "money which makes the mare go," (or horse either for that matter,) but "ready monthe daring way I had ventured to do. I stated ey," funlimited credit to the contrary, notwithstanding.

were dismissed little more than half-satisfied, bob of finance" alighted, and was going away were dismissed little more than half-satisfied, one or mance angues, and was going and Abnor the sword and sugments are sword:

I sallied forth to see the lions, when the hint without paying. The driver stopped him and No, my lord, for it sconged the Dutch Marin
The driver stopped him and No, my lord, for it sconged the Dutch Marin dens by a waiter that my foot steps demanded his fare. Rothschild felt in his pock deos out of the fine towns of Belgium, back

"I am Baron Rothschild!" exclaimed the

I had said and done since I landed two hours great capitalist, and there is my card. before. When sauntering along the streets a The driver threw the card in the gutter. a man accosted me in English, asked for news Never heard of you before, said the driver.

pumping all my sentiments on these subjects. Give me change, and he proffered a coupon When the hour for dining approached, I sat for fifty thousand france.

down at une table d'hote bien servie, when I The conductir started, and the passengers

The absence of the Editor sometimes brings minutes I was convinced that he was a govern-ment inspector. And thus, from day to day, out bright flashes from Inky. Hear how wool of him, which had been weighed and paid will not be back in a season, I ween, to give dealy and robusing the man for his theft, as tiring students that ever lived. Two young you a touch of his writing so fine, and so I will, another would, thereby losing his custom forgive you a touch of mine; I'll give all the late ever, the crafty old gentleman gave the thief news that's occurred in the town, and I think his change as if nothing had happened, and "When you firshed your studies!" said the you'll admit that I've done it up brown. Mr. then under pretence of lifting the bag to lay it then you firshed your studies!" said the Crain has bought out the Book store below, on the borse for him, took hold of it and ex-"When you finished your studies!" said the Crain has bought out the Book store below, on the horse for him, took hold of it and expect to finished so young. I do not expect to finish mine while I live.

He was once asked how he had been able to collect such an immense amount of information and facts as his publications and leed turns once on the collect such an immense amount of information and facts as his publications and leed turns once on the collect such an immense amount of information and facts as his publications and leed turns once on the collect such an immense amount of information and facts as his publications and leed to do it," replied he, "I think a good move. The Kirks well, we wont dispute the matter, it have sent on to New York for their goods, and in so easily tried," and Mr. S. put the bag on expect a fine lot as o'er sold in the woods. I the scales again, "There," said he, "I told

Well wind of the man, evidently early aboy—a more lad."

In the somewhat inquisitive glance at the somewhat inquisitive g . Hoow.

Yours Votes

Memory.

Soft as the rays of sunlight stealing
On the dying day;
Sweet as chimes of low bells pealing
When eve fades away;
Sad as winds at night that roam
Through the health of supportains low

Through the heath o'er mountains lone, Come the thoughts now gone On manhood's memory. As sunbeams from the heaven

Hide at eve their light; As bells when fades the even Peni not on the night; As the night winds cease to sigh When the rain falls from the sky, Pass the thoughts of days gone by From age's memory.

Yet the sunlight in the morning Forth again shall break,
And the bells give sweet-voiced warning
To the world to wake.

Soon the winds shall freshly breathe like the anointed rod of the high priest, it has at other times, bl ssomed into flowers to deck the freeman's brow. (Vehement applause.)

Abhor the sword and stigmatise the sword? In the Cape of Good Hope to March 27th, give some accounts of terrible cruelties perpetrated by the Knffirs upon some of their English prisoners. Mr. Hartung, band-master of the treeman's brow. (Vehement applaase.) Abhor the sword and stigmatise the sword? rian and won an immortality for the peasant 27th regiment was cut to pieces while living: of innspruck. (Hear.) Abbor the aword and his fingers and toes were cut off inch by inch, stigmatise the sword? No, my lord, for at and when at the close of the third day the On a very wet, and dissagreeable day, the waters of the far Atlantic, and by its magic Baron took a Parisian omnibus, on his way to the fettered colony became a daring free peoits blow a giant nation sprung up from the wretched man asked for food, a piece of flesh-waters of the far Atlantic, and by its magic was cut from his own body and given him.

Abhor the sword and stigmatise the sword? still more horrible. He was found by dees out of the fine towns of Belgium, back cifixion, being extended upon his back on the into their own phlegmatic swamps (cheers) and knocked their flag, and laws, and sceptre, and bayonets into the sluggish waters of the and ankles, and a fifth through his body. Sheldt. (Enthusiastic cheering.) My lord, I learned that it was the right of a nation to govern itself, not in the hall, but upon the ramparts of Antwerp. (Cheors.) I learned the first article of a nation's creed upon those ramparts, where the possesion of the precious gift vas purchased by the effusion of generous blood: (Loud cheers.) My lord, I admire the Belgians, I honor the Belgians for their sourage and their daring; and I will not stigmatise the means by which they obtained a citizens king, a Chamber of Deputies."

A Good Story.

Sheaf, a grocer in Portsmouth, New Hampshiro :

It appears that a man had purchased some ment inspector. And thus, from day to day, out bright flashes from insy. Hear now wood of him, which had gone to the desk to get my steps were traced, and my every idle word that personage goes off in a late number of the for, and Mr. Sheaf had gone to the desk to get change for a note. Happening to turn his change for a note. Happening to turn his head while there, he saw in a glass which the negro race, &c., has become somewhat no-The oliter is gone, a circumstance rare, and swung so as to reflect the shop, a stout arm ted, speaks as follows of poor white men:

so cannot fill the Editorial chair—he has gone reach up and take from the shelf a heavy away down south, to the country of Green, and white oak cheese. Instead of appearing sud-rights or too caverally to assert them. —N.

Yours.

Yours.

Yours.

Yours.

Yours.

Yours.

Yours.

Yours.

Typographical Spirit of Evil.

Typographical Spirit of Evil.

Yours.

Gen. Pierce in Mexico.

VOLUME IX. NUMBER $7

Rend the following evidences of General Perce's conduct in Mexico, from the official reports made by the G-nerals in command. We hope the Whirs will not dispute Gen. Scott. their own candidate:

Gen. Scott, in his official report of the batiles of Confrerns and Chernbusco, says, "Gen, Pillow was now joined by the gallant Brigadier Gen. Pierce, personally thrown out of activity late in the evening by a severe hers received from the fall of his horse."

He again says: Next I sent Pierce (just able to keep his addle) to attack the enemy's right and rear." He says again --

" Brigadier Gen. Pierce from the hurt of the evening before, under pain and exhaustion, ainted in the action."

"Gen. Worth, in his official report of the same battle, says—

"He cannot forego the opportunity to ex-press his admiration of Major Gen. Pillow and Brigadier Generals Shields, Cadwalader and Pierce, with whom he had the gratification of concert and co-operation at various critical periods of the conflict."

Gen. Pillow, under whose immediate command Gen. Pierce served, in his official report of the same engagement, says-

"Brigadier Gen. Pierce, though badly injured by the fall of his horse, while gallantly leading his brigade into the thickest of the battle ou the 19th, did not quit the field, but continued in command of his brigade."

from pain and exhaustion, and was carried from the field."

We write amidst the roaring of cannon, the cheers of gratified thousands, and the shouts of revelry, for the nomination of General Scott. Be it so.

Let others hail the rising Sun,

We bow to those whose course have run-CRUELTIES IN SOUTH AFRICA -- Advices A few hours afterwards death terminated his sufferings. The case of Sergeant Lange is countrymen expiring under the horrors of cruground, to which he was fixed by stakes of wood driven through the palms of his hands

ROTHCHILD THE HEAD OF ISRAEL. The following strange news is given by the Paris cor-respondent of the Evangelist, as rumor from Constantinople. It is under date of April 1st: "Syria has been ceded to M. Rothehild, for whether he assumes the title of King or Pacha: it is certain he proposes to build Jerusalem and the Temple of Solomon; there are to be chapels for all religions, a line of railway from Alexandria to Constantantinople. The new states of M. Rothchild abound in iron and ore, and forests of valuable timber. The following excellent story is told of Mr. It is said that M. Rothchild will appeal to his co-religionist to return to the land of their fathers, to possess the tents of Abraham and

* * " the poor are too stupid to know their rights or too cowardly to assert them."-N. Y. Tri nine. A more villelnous slander than this was never attered by an enemy of democratic government. Kossuth addressed the Germans of W York hast week, in which he gave the While platform a raking. At the conclusion of his speech, resolutions were massed pledging the Gorman vote of New York for the democratic candidates.

Miss Fantods says that if she ain't dead she has lost her 'vital' spark,' the young man used to sit up with her. Maybo she diden't know how to urn hor cocoa-ch!

"My dear sir," said an electioncering acquaintance, accosting a sturdy wag, on the You needn't be-Pye voted.'