ANALES IN WASHINGTON-THE FISHEBY DIFFI-CULTT, ETC.

Washington, August 9. I learn that Mr. Stanton, the able chairman of the House Naval Committee, contemplates introducing an appropriation, for a screw pro-peller ship, to be about two thousand tons Inthen, with thirty-nine inch shell guns, eleven inches on the upper deck. This is with a view of testing the experiment of such a ves-sel; and if it succeeds, there is no doubt all the ressels of the navy will be provided with steam and similar armament-thus making it far more efficient.
