Short Patent Sermon. NUMBER R My text, follow sinners, is as follows: We

We will divide the discussion into two heads; and then close with some remarks which we trust will produce as much consternation among you as the sudden appearance of a henhawk among a flock of tip-ups. You, mechinic, hammering away at your toil, from morn till night; do you expect to haul in the dimes by the ring of your implements alone? If you do, you will be griovously mistaken as Aunt Tabby was when she hunted her night-cap in the dark and tumbled down stairs. How far is your hammer heard? a fourth of a mile! Well, will a circle comprising that area, sustain your Suisiness? No-why then do you not go to the printer, joyfully, as a mooly ox goes to his feed box, hand in your advertisement, pay for it, and then hire a lot of jours, rush back to your shop and behold the increase of business that awaits you ? The newspaper comes to your door; it tells you of latitude and latherboxes, climates, and climbing roses, of wagons and water wheels, calicoes and mousetraps; no article you stand in need of, but you wan ascertain where it may be procur'd cheapest, Now why have not you sufficient discrimination to put yourself on a par with others by doing the same thing? Awake thou that sleep-

" It giceth yet wareth rich," just like Mrs. Suitles nest eggs, it gaineth an enormous interest, and therefore my dear sinners your, inconsistency, becometh a more crying evil. Who is there among my hearers that puts his "every day clothes" on to pay a visit? Not ene, some of you no doubt would even do as Mrs. Sniffles hen did, but east off guinea hen feathers in your tails if you were able. Who is there that does not put the clean side of his dickey outermost? Who is there that don't whitewash the outside of his fence, even, though he leaves the inside of it natural dinly because you are too stingy to advertise. You do these other deeds I spoke of : why then don't you extend your circle of influence Newspapers travel faster than you, and more regularly, and will be believed where you would be doubted. Then, dear sinner, let them bell your story, come at once to the Democrat office, advertise and get your stock, sold off; replenish and let the dear people be cognizant of it through your advertisement, and they will throng your shop, or your store, to make their purchases, and the dollars will be as thick in your pockets as tumble bugs in a sandy road. You can then sit under the shade, of the trees of comfort, smoke the pipe of tranquilty, and the crickets of domestic joy will linger and chirp in your fire place, while you can feast on buckwheat slap jacks of delight smeared with the molasses of satisfaction. CONSUMPTION OF COFFEE IN THE UNITED STATES .-- An article in Hunt's Merchants' Magazine, for July, says, the coffee consumed in the United States during the year 1851 amounted to the enormous sum of one hundred and forty-nine million pounds. Of this amount, 107 from Brazil, and the balance from Cubs, St. Domingo, and Java. The average consumption in 1821 was one and a half pounds per head for each inbabitant; in 1830 it increased to 3 pounds; in 1840 to 51 pounds, and in 1850 to 61 pounds. The increased consumption of coffee in Europe is also very great binder of Breslau has made an album of nothbut by no means equal to that of the United ing else, the pages of which turnes flexible as States. In 1850, the latter, with a population the finest fabric of linen rags. of 23 millions, consumed in round numbers 119 millions of pounds; while Great Britain with a population of about 30 millions, consumed only about one-third of that amount. The consequences of this gradual increase of lime; rement the pieces and set away to harthe trade, has been attended with the usual den. housands, and a friend at our chow says he has himself served an effectual partners, and the said by plaint from the use of this remedy. We are convinced that, in the use of these bitters, the patient constantly gains strength and vigor—in fact worthy of great consideration. They are pleasant in 'aste and smell, and can be used by persons with the most delicate stomach with safety, under any circumstances. We are speasing from experience, and to the afflicted we advise their use.

Scott's Weekly, one of the best literary papers published, said, August 25th—
