Moet's Corner.

From Arthur's Home Gazette. There are few of our readers who are not familiar with Mrs. Howitt's sweet domes tic poem, begining-

The clock is on the stroke of six, The father's work is done. Sweep up the hearth, and mend the fire. And put the kettle on." In the same spirit, if it is not in fact an im-testion of the above mentioned poem, and mite as beautiful, is the following, which a thoughtful friend has clipped from a newspaper, and sent us for insertion in the Home Gazette .-I wait for Thee. The hearth is swept, the fire is bright,

The kettle sings for tea; The cloth is spread, the lamps are light, The hot cakes smoke in napkins white. And now I wait for thee. The clock ticks listeningly;

The blinds are shut, the curtain down. The warm chair to the fireside drawn, The boy is on my knee. Come home, love, home—his deep, fond eye Looks round him wistfully. And when the whispering winds go by.

As if thy welcome step was nigh, He crows exultingly. In vain; he finds the welcome vain, And turns his glance on mine So carnestly that yet again

His form unto my heart I strain-That glance is so like thine. Thy task is done-we miss thee here: Where'er thy footsteps roam, No heart will spread such kindly cheer,

No beating heart, no listening ear, Like these will wait thee home. At last along the crisp walks fast That well known step doth come; The bolt is drawn, the gate is past, The babe is wild with joy at last-

A thousand welcomes home.

Good Morning,

"Oh, I am so happy a little girl said, As she sprang, like a lark, from a low trundle-

"Tis morning-bright morning! Good morn-Oh, give me one kiss for good morning, ma-

Only just look at my pretty canary, Chirning his sweet good morning to, Mary; The sun is peeping straight into my eyes-Good morning to you. Mister Sun, for you

Early to wake up my bridle and me, And make me as happy as happy can be." "Happy you may be, my dear little girl," As the mother struck softly a clustering curl "Happy you can be-but think of the One

Who wakened, this morning both you and the

The little girl turned her bright eyes with a

"Ma, may I say, then good morning to God?" "Yes, little darling one, surely you may, Kneel as you kneel every morning to pray." Mary knelt solemnly down, with her eyes Looking up—carnestly into the skies. And two little hands that were folded togeth-

Softly she laid on the lap of her mother. "Good morning dear Father in Heaven," she

"I thank thee for watching my snug little bed For taking good care of me all the dark night. And waking me up with the beautiful light; Dear father who taught little children to pray! An angel looked down in the synshine, and

But she saw not the angel, that beautiful

Comforts of an Editor. If he does not fill his sheet with news of importance, whether there be any or not, it is condemned for not being what it purports to be ery week with something laughable, his folio is pronounced uninteresting. If a public nuisance should exist, notice of it would be censured. If he does not publish all marriages that oc cur in the world for twenty miles round." whether he hear of them or not he is not fit for an editor.

If every paper does not contain a goodly por tion of suicides, horrible murders, and melanchily accidents, it is dulf, and an unwellome

If alf the gloomy transactions that occur are recorded, it is spurned as a vehicle only of

If his paper contains advertisements, the

If a dozen friends call on him while he is correcting a proof sheet, and one error escapes delecting, he is the greatest hunderhead in the

(PUBLISHED BY REQUESTAL AN ADDRESS Delivered before the Union Literary Society

West Harford December 22d, 1852. BY REV. A. O. WARREN. RESPECTED AUDITORS :- We are assembled

this afternoon for the furtherance of a cause at once important and deeply interesting every lover of happiness, and true friend our race. That cause is clearly set forth the title of this society, by whose untiring perseverance and unprecedented prosperity this commodious hall has been crected, us a fit place for its future councils and seasons of rejoicing. The title to which I refer is this; Union Literary Two worthier objects rare ly engage the attention of mortals, yet, alas! how few, (I believe is speak advisedly,) how few labor zealously forboth. While we study to promote the one, we overlook, and often Come home, love, home—thy task is done : trample under foot the other; seeming to regard these objects as the two masters, which we cannot serve at pace. But let us take courage and press forward, for the history of this society shows us, that the two objects may be united, and prosperity attend the union, and rest upon the society that labors for their promotion.

I congratulate you upon the great success that has hitherto rested upon your efforts, that lias enabled you to collect choice gems from the inexhaustible treasure of mind and to store them for future use in this well chosen spot, this temple of progress. Here you may resort from time to time, and study the great past, encourage and strengthen each other by expressing your own convictions of the future, or you may delineate human duty, and the responsibilities that rest upon each American citizen, that would wish to see ammortalized, not only the fame but the existence of his beloved country. A broad field and a great prosperity continue, and your past exertions thinments are interwoven with the welfare of

Let what anion now exists in the various departments of life, like a solitary lamp, that casts its friendly light upon the traveler's path that lays along the edge of the precipice, be stricken out and what is the fate of man, or keep the council fire replenished and burning or could you retain the festive kirong at their history of the world shows us that every thing can be accomplished without union among its operators. Look at the works of art. whose ponderous fragments are scattered over all the east, and tell me by what means they were wrought. No single hand is adequate to the task. They are the work of thousands, for a term of years. Those age lasting pyramids, thosewast artificial lakes, that once spread far a plainly show us that the spirit of puion was no stranger among that people. It must every good work. But not here alone is seen the beneficial object of our creation. That one thing is diidation to every undertaking.

Well has it been inscribed upon our banner united we stand divided we fall." Let me impress it upon the minds of all, especially the as the great prize of life. With this every extend to the future, the borders of your influithing else is attainable in the outer world. earth" What more appropriate theme can I wrought, wealth is acquired, and all that is Prior to that, literature or learning was conss of man fined to a very few; books were unknown, when mortals gazed upon the heavens, they icedful for the permanent happine opens a broad expanse before us, where are is performed. How pleasant to epitemplate save in manuscript. But with the invention could read and understand all their movements into the heavens and regales itself amid its seen the choicest blessings mortals can post upon the condition of that nation, society, of type and the art of printing, literature re- and appearance. The law of gravitation was splender and rolling spheres or it descends to sess. That you admire the idea expressed by neighborhood, or family, that are bound to ceived a new impulse. Books became more no longer an unsolved problem. Wonder after the bowels of the earth, and analyzes its conglimpse of that blessed society above who man and what advance had society made du- unknown. A height was now attained of which in every clime and land? Has literature and know no discord forever more. A man sen- ring that period? Over what seas and oceans cancient ages know not, but this was far below union asserted their mild yet potent influence sible of a tie of union binding him to his fel- floated the white sail, or what land was tray- us of the present day. What light is here en- the wide world over? Alas! less than one low can not be a bad man while he follows the direction of that impulse. O no, it is the fostering angel of our peace, that leads him direet to the temple of virtue. It ever aims to sands for the common people, or what nation favor. the prospect before the world? Could you uproot the last root of bitterness in society, and thus to purify the world. But we need not confine ourselves to these facts alone tho unfinished banquet! Indeed could anything of not to be mistaken in their instruction, for value be accomplished, or one step towards when we look into the book of books the prosperity be taken? Doubtless each individ- same truth appears distinctly in view. Says ual is prepared to answer negatively. The one inspired, "be of one mind," and again "stand fast in one spirit, with one mind, striis dependent upon union. It is the great foun-ving together." The reason for these, and dation upon which rests peace harbiness and similar exhortations, was because this union every species of prosperity. The very pillars or openess was sure to be followed by sucthe universe rest upon union. Without it cess in their great undertaking. A few men onfusion reigns over the earth, and society truly bound together will give stability and returns to barbarism, and each man becomes a character to any cause, and roll it on to comwanderer alone, opposed to every one. This pletion. Then lose not sight of union. It is is not idle conjecture: the divine word shows the basis of all good society and with it no he this fact in an item of history, and a max- worthy object can fail of ultimate success. im of truth. In history it tells us when men As it has brought presperity in the past to spoke on language, they planned for the cree your enterprise it will continue to extend it in tion of a lower for refuge. Union was there, future. True it may be applied to an unworboth in tongue, desire, and toil, and the work thy object, or directed to a bad end. This, went bisvely on till their language was con- however, will depend upon the influences arated from his brother and fled into the wil- springs. If the subjects bound together are derness. There was no longer union among enlightened with true wisdom, then will the divided against itself cannot stand, but is bro't human society. Thus far I have spoken of not heel the voice of wisdom and labor more even then we have seen it beneficial. but to zealously than ever for union? No enterprise see it extending through every purpose, desire, wish and seeming interest, or linking the whole soul it becomes doubly beneficial. But the first step must be taken and then the second follows more readily. Apprised of its outward benefits we more readily open the door of the soul, so to speak, that it may pervade the whole man and surround his path across the vallies of hgypt or those dwellings ion in its broadest sense, that your cup of encontinually. Let your efforts then be for unof the dead, cut along the rocky mountains joyment may be filled to overflowing. It will indeed give the boon you seek. We have thus far seen union blending with have not only pervaded one age but contin. every enterprise of life and becoming the ned from age to age, and from generation to foundation, or propelling power in every degeneration. A work began by one was pros. partment. One thing only is needed, as alecuted with the same zeal by another to its ready hinted, to enable us with its aid, to atend. This should be the course adopted with tain the very pinnacle of human acquirements in every respect; even to accomplish the full general reader murmurs; if it does not the business man will not patronize it.

If he publishes the laws of the State old and young made gramble; if it does not not, civilians frown.

If he steers an imparisal course, he is said to be on the fence; if he jumps off, he is sure to be besmeared.

But not here alone is seen the beneficial object of our creation. Where shall we obtain direction in exceptions in exceptions and it developing in exceptions and particular to be considered to the second to be on the fence; if he jumps off, he is sure to be besmeared.

But not here alone is seen the beneficial object of our creation. Where shall we obtain direction. What shall constitute the helm to guide our back in safety to its desired haven. Without seems plot to direct, pitiful is the let of the doomed sailor. Numberless concessed rocks, spring up and extended their borders and their fame forests have been considered to by imm, that seem to thirst for his destruction, urient fields of grain, and the direct desert made to house the helm to guide our rection. Where shall we obtain direction. What shall constitute the helm to guide our back in safety to its desired haven. Without seems plot to direct, putiful is the let of the doomed sailor. Numberless concessed rocks, spring up and extended their borders and their fame forests have been considered to by imm, that seem to thirst for his destruction, urient fields of grain, and the director desert.

active as opening of prosperity and a fair the bought wire bought wire bought series will every one might be one a fair the bought series to the bought series and the bought series are the bought se see how closely, both Union and Literary at measure of happiness. Indeed we obtain a years had now passed since the creation of ened in the great workings of Nature before blessed? Do the same blessings fall upon all ersed by the iron horse? What country was joyed in contrast with age on age that has eighth of the great family are enlightened. groped in darkness, or depended upon those A few years only pass ere the whole phenon. philosophers and orators, rather than their own ena is explained, and the power ensity directknowledge. They had indeed given attention ed. The fluid is collected at will, and life and to architecture, sculptor and painting, but let property is secure from its approach. The scipression were prevalent, and the mass of the our full comprehension. people knew not their rights or God's gift to Thus we might go on minutely naming the

had said should increase in the earth.

they went forth, pledged in fidelity, to each ted. We have the desired directory placed has been enlightened, and hearts bound togeth- land to land; now it utters its shrill crys as it maintained, and despotism man. other, to battle against the foe of their peace, before us and within our reach. It is Litera- er by its influence for a march to the summit climbs the hill-side, now it flies along the and refire. Our safety as a march and falling, to water the tree of equal rights ry attainment. With this we have union en- of fame. The western world has been discov- valley, and with its censeless clatter plunges upon the education of the people. with their blood. Alas! many of them did lightened, or educated, for this I. understand cred, then a howling wilderness, but now a into the mountain's side, and afrives at its des young be taught early to prize the importance one hand at a time, this world is not old sun retires to show the beauty of the heavens, unknown, and at once he explains them to his tions now are so many members of one great forth to do good, and be liaply now and for enough to have accomplished them, even if be man gazes upon the twinkling host, without fellows. The sciences as yet had not been de family, each anxious for its fellow and their ever. gan by the first manual labor. The aged fath- understanding their true character. They are veloped, and great was the field before the lib- ultimate, prosperity. God's word seems fast er impressed the importance of union upon the to the untaught, as to the child who thought erated mind; not merely to utter speculations, fulfilling when "nation shall learn war no minds of his sons by a bundle of rods. Each them so many holes to let the glory shine but to demonstrate facts seen by all. Though more," but "shall beat their swords into plow one is but a mere twig, capable of sustaining through from above. And when the moon man had inhabited the earth five thousand but little, broken by the merest trifle, but passes before the sun or itself falls within the years, yet he did not know its relationship or The roar of the cannon and the clash of arms when bound together no power can break the shadow of the earth, causing the colipse which position in the great family of the Universe. is the last resort to adjust diffigulties, and ultibundle. The same is true of man : alone he we calculate with as much exactness as the To ascertain this he now directs his inquiries. mately when every mind shall become truly I am quite sure will make trouble between us. is feeble and can do but little, but when bound miser casts his interest, the uneducated are How great the sensation produced upon the enlightened, intellectually, and morally, peace Will you give up Mrs. May for my sake Ma to his fellow by the cords of union, nothing overwhelmed with fear till it subsides. To public mind, when first it is proclaimed that shall become universal. It is your province to ry? can impede his progress. He has only to go them most of the phenomena in heaven, or earth turns upon its own axis, and revolves aid in this great work. Keep the mental visforward, the elements conduce to perfect his on the face of nature, are blind mysteries, around the sun. The man who first advanced ion clear, and the fund of knowledge well sup pretty face; as she said. You are unreasonable desires, and to aid him to his desired eleva. awakening only fear and gloom. O, how far this theory suffered imprisonment, like him plied, and the work will go on to its compleremoved from this is our lot. Who can hard- who first sold printed copies of the Bible in tion. ly believe such is the condition of any part of France. Such has ever been the fate of great As auxiliaries in this cause are schools our globe, or of any people enjoying the light benefactors; but we have learned this infalli- whether select or free, and Library Societies of the sun. Yet such there are. Let us take blo maxim, that truth is mighty and will pre- of every cast. We cannot foster them with work are before you and should your present young, that union is ever to be sought after up briefly one branch of literature namely his vail. Prison bars cannot secure it or prevent too tender care. Situated as we are, we have tory, and it will throw a world of light upon it from spreading. They may hold the disevery needed aid and means to fulfill the high this very point. It shows us that little more coverer, and the cold world may fail to do him behest of heaven. Freedom and union reign ence, and the reign of your blessings would By it nations mount the pinnacle of prosperity, than four hundred years ago, a majority justice in his life, but the truth will not pass around us only occause the light of literature spread "from the rivers to the ends of the cities spring up, internal improvements are of earth's inhabitants were thus situated away. Thus it was here. The revolutions of and religion shines in every breast. The mind ly renowned orators, but the common people secure my property from the descending bolt? fers were unknown, as we understand them, ence of electricity is now discovered, revealing Mental darkness prevailed. Tyranny and op- the wisdom and power of God to do beyond them. The history of the most advanced na- improvements that have been made in each detion shows us only crime and bloodshed, as partment of science, but is it needful? We their foundation, and only hope of future suc- find literary atthinment blending in every cup cess. But with the art of printing, a new day of prosperity, and it gives new impetus to good dawned upon the world. The fetters of mind wherever it extends. A few startling discov- found the most union and the least discord seemed broken, and it went forth to regale it- cries, each mark an important ern in the histo- the most deeds of benevolence and virtue, and self upon God's full bounty. Then first be- ry of the world, and the development of sci- the least crime and transgression. As the Ah, keep me from naughtiness all the long day founded, and then in haste and fear, each sep which bear upon it, or the soil from which prophets entific and literary attainment. We will refer mind is enlightened it turns from evil; and to but one or two more, and we shall see the believe the history of crime would be the de Books began to be multiplied and offered so same stubbom refusal to acknowledge the first relopement of the bounds of ignorance. Vast derness, there was no longer union among emignience with true wisdom, then with them and the work went to ruin. The max. result of union be to promote prosperity and low that all might obtain them. To show the declaration of their usefulness, yet after their are the means for enlightening the mind with in of truth is "that every house or kingdom shower down manna around the pathway of sudden change wrought by this single improve. full establishment, we shall find them become us. The wide world is before it. The mind ment, we are told that books which were writting swift messengers conveying literary and grasps its vastness, and seems to comprehend to desolation." If we are wise then, shall we union in the aggregate, or outward form, and ten by hand upon parchment, and contained in scientific attainments more widely than before, its former wonders with case. The American a roll instead of our convenient form, that cost and with more ease and despatch. Though a sees at a glance drinks in the all knowledge of £300 fell at once to £60; then to £30. The great degree of knowledge and an increased his own land, and in restlessness wantlers over same are now offered for a few shillings. In strength of union had obtained generally, net foreign lands, beholds their wonders, their some places this change, so beneficial to all, all the mind desired was far from being ac- wisdom and their folly, and in a twelve-month was regarded has dangerous innovation upon complished. So widdy separated are the parts returns to his former home. All this is done the rights of man, and the venders of those of the great body that sensations of joy and speedily, because of the inventions sought out productions, though it were the Bible itself, sorrow did not each from one part to the offi-by enlightened minds, and put in operation by were cast into prison, from which they escaped er in season for a hearty and healthy co-opera-industrious hands. How great the overturns only by paying a heavy fine. But light cannot tion. The cords of union, though felt, bound effected by the discovery of steam power! It be retained forever under a bushel. It will only loosely. But another leaf is about to be did seem as if the last leaf in the book of probreak forth at length, and shine more brilliant turned for the reading of the eager multitude. gress was turned. What shore could be done. for its concealment. The knowledge of letters Tro ignorant and the wise alike had seen the Transportation could now be accomplis increased, and with it a more complete knowl-steam escaping from boiling water, as in tiny from any place in less hours than it former edge of the earth, its products, extent and its clouds it floated upon the air till it disappear took days. But the end is not here. Nex babitants. Man saw with interest his fellow ed, but no one supposed there was a latent comes the telegraph simple in its construction, but wonderful in operation. News is his own wants and rights and become for the by its development. But so it was Aplain now communicated from land to land with as first, a thinking ayippathazing being. What man thought to apply the expansive power of advances society has made since that time, or steam to propel machinery, and after some expansive power within the last five hundred years in every respect. More has been accomplished than the Rude was the apparatus, but it was successful. It is a living agent with its thousand tongues, keenest signted dared to dream: We believe That was a proposed there was a latent comes the telegraph, simple in its construction, but wonderful in operation. News is now communicated from land to land with as man thought to apply the expansive power of steam to propel machinery, and after some expansive power.

Stretch along its iron nerve then over high hills and deep valles, from country to country to country. keenest sighted dared to dream: We believe That was a proud day for man when the in-

work of minor II is find wide minory do minory d

shares, and their spears into pruning hooks."

spanned by telegraphic wires, or in what cit rolled to the tomb of the past. What aid to Great as are the improvements around us nu ies were books and papers issued by thou union is here gwen, but it is not a tithe of its merous as are books and the means of instrucsands for the common people, or what nation favor.

had the means of general education? Alas! Look again upon the face of nature; the viv- and people. Millions have not dreamed of the ignorance prevailed over the wide carth; the id lightnings flash across the heavens, followed wonders and conveniences wrought, out by wealthy only were educated and they but poor- by the deafening thunder peck. They direct steam, or the blessings arising from union lit ly in contrast with the present generation of their course to earth, shivering to fragments erary societies. These, words are unmeaning our beloved land. True, Greece and Rome the stoutest trees. The trembling soul be- to them. But be not discouraged. Lef the had its constellation of philosophers and tru- holding inquires, who shall deliver my life, or throbbings of the iron heart continue to beat -it will at length send sensation to every remote part. It will awaken life, and impart a healthy vigor. Literature and its light cannot be always obscured. It will shine forth upon grateful hearts. Union must ultimately pro vail throughout the world, linking each to his follow, and all to their ultimate happy destiny Union and education are emanations from the mental and moral darkness from society. We confidently predict this from past accomplishments and present indications. Where the people are the most enlightened there is fall around the very spot of its planting, but to be the meaning of the term. How great most flourishing country, teeming with every thation in safety. By its pleans the old and of education. On it depends the future prosfall around the very spot of its planting, but to be the meaning of the term. How great most nourishing country, teeming with every tination in safety. By its means the old and of caucation. On neutron production, the work and wealth of an enlightness thus imparted, the tree has the blessings and wonders brought to view by production, the work and wealth of an enlightness from tea to sea. The same is true of every undertaking that engage is man or what can society be without it?—

same is true of every undertaking that engage is man or what can society be without it?—

now in the way of man's complete triumph, or for we measure space by time rather than in log you onward, right onward. The future what can prevent him from enjoying his full miles. This same power works the printing may be as fruitful of good as the past. The but by the spirit of union. No society can habitants? I answer nothing. Like the un- measure of good? Time would fail me to hint press, that groans with its endless issuing of past? How enchanting to contemplate; we exist without it. It is the secret cord that taught savage, the limits of our own vision, at all the improvements that have blessed soci- books and papers whereby information is giv. hang upon it as one tells again and again as binds hearts together that otherwise would be or the boundary, marked by our own blue hills, ety within a few centuries. Since the invention people. The beating pulsation pleasant dream. Two hundred and thirty strangers; it makes a diversity of interests would be all the world toius, and our family the same. It seems to give not only direction but makes speed, or adds dispatch and consolor along our sen-board; no gallant ship or ken, and the last hour of darkness to have How numerous and strong the cords of union beautiful land and great people, their descend It has been well said, "Union is strength," steamer careers upon the rolling wave; no come. Rapid indeed has been the march in binding soul to soul. How clear the mental ants so happy, prosperous and enlightened, and each day's life demonstrates this fact. A work railroad cars, with their anxious burthen, are literary and scientific attainment. Every soul light that shines upon the pathway of man?— would they not have supposed they were fathat would baffle the strength of one or that seen threading their way, in every direction seemed alive with new life and enterprise.— It would seem as if the last enemy to human vored with a glimpse of the spirit land. But would require more than the life-time of one, across our land, swift as thought; nor does Narrow limits no longer bind either the body prosperity and perfection were taken away, no it is earth-yet may become near paradise. is readily accomplished by many, in a few days. the telegraphic pulse bent out the converse of or the mind. The one wanders over the earth; and we had only to run and be glorified. With Let not your attachment then to this Society. We see this in our internal improvements; friends widely distant. The hum of the manthe other sours away to heaven, or follows the all these improvements science and literature or its object; become cool. Let this house, our railroads and canals, that wind along our ufactory does not blend with the roar of the developement of God's laws to arrive at true has kept pace. Civilization has extended its which we now dedicate to progress, union and streams, and even mount our bills, are the work waterfall. None of these things are seen wisdom. Man begins to study the wonders of borders, and the word of truth has been car-education, be your frequent resort. Here may of union. If they had been wrought by only where literature is not found. And when the creation whose real characters were before ried and expounded to every nation. The nas your counselings be sweet, and your goings

How Husbands may Rule

Doar Mary, said Harry to ha little vife, 'I have a favor to ask you. You have a friend whom I dislike very much, and whom

A slight shade of vexation crossed Maryla Harry. She is lady-like, refined, intellectual and fascinating, is she not?" 'Yes, all of that; and for that very reason her influence over one so vielding and impulsive as yourself, is more to be dreaded. if units. vorable. I'm quite in earnest, Mary. I could wish never to see you together again:

Pshaw! dear Harry that's going too far; don't be disagreeable, let us talk of something else. As old Uncle Jeff says, How's trade ?

patting her foot nervously, 'I don't see how I can break with her, Harry, for a whim of to was on his way to his office. Maty stood behind the curtain, and looked fifer him as he went down the street. There was an uncomfortable stiffing sensation in her throat, and something very like a tear glittering in her eye. Harry was vexed! she was sure of that; he had gone off for the first time since their marriage, without the affectionate good-bye that was usual with him even whom they parted but for an hour or two. And so she wandered restiess and anhappy, into lick little sleeping room. It was quite a little geme There were slat ietts, and pictures, and vases, all gifts from him either before or since their marriage each one had a history of its own, some tender as sociation connected with Harry There was a boquet, still fresh and fragrant that he had purchased on his way home the day before to gratify her passion for flowers. There was hoice edition of poems they were reading to throne above—are effectual means to dissipate gother the night before, with Mary's lame written on the leaf, in Harry's bold, handsom's hand. Turn where she would, some proof of his devotion mot her eye. But Mrs. May She was so smart and satirical ! she would make so much sport of lier, for being falled so by Harry!! Had'nt she told her all the men were lyrants? and this was Harry's first at empt to govern her. No, no, its wouldn't do So the protty evening dross was taken. the trimming re-adjusted and re-modelled, and and all the little et celeras of her tollette decided. Yes, she would go she had quite made up her mind to that. Then she opened her jewel-case; a little note fell at her feet. She knew the contents very well. It was from Licary, (slipped slily, into ther hand on her birthday, with that pretty bracelet.) It could n't do any hatm to wind it again. It was very lover-like for a year old hiteband; but she liked it! Dear Harry and she folded is back and sat down, more unhappy time every with

> n most pitable state of irresolution > Perhaps after all Harry was right about Mes May; and if he wasn't, one hair of in head was worth piore to her than all the women in the world. 'Ho hid never said an unking word to her never he had anticipated every wish he had been so attentive and sollestons when she was ill. Howecould she grides hims Love Conquered! The pacts robe was folded away the lewels returned to their case her madand's restern.

hor hands crossed in her hip and her mind in that creeps over the month of the Mentiopal of the West of the Poster, printing the West of the Mentiopal of the West of the W