

THE DEMOCRAT.

The Largest Circulation in Northern Pennsylvania—1888 Copies Weekly.

B. B. & E. D. CHASE, Editors.

MONROE, FEBRUARY 1, 1853.

Our thanks are due to Hon. G. A. Grow...

Gen. Horstow has received a telegraphic despatch from New Orleans...

Commenced.

Week before last, a Bill was reported in the House of Representatives...

For the past few months, we have frequently seen it intimated that a project similar to the one developed by the introduction of the Bill...

Several weeks ago, the Supreme Court at Philadelphia, after the most patient investigation...

It requires no sagacity to see that the moment the Bill, now before the Legislature, shall pass...

The Columbia Railroad was built by the State, and by paying a large dividend...

Give to the Central Company "an inch and they will take an ell." This is as certain and natural as that selfishness is found in human nature...

We observe that this Bill lay in the hands of the Committee but a short time after it was "read in place."...

A Telegram to the Pacific. A memorial was presented to Congress on Wednesday, asking for a grant of 7,500,000 acres of land...

DEATH OF Mrs. JACKSON in 1838. The sad bereavement of the family of the President...

It was unquestionably the greatest and most interesting stroke of the old General's life...

On Saturday, March 20th, the Committee on the Judiciary...

Free Banking Again.

Another communication upon this subject will be found in this week's paper. "X" is mistaken when he supposes that we will not disagree about the necessity of a limited paper currency...

But is the system of Free Banking as it is now in operation in several of the States, more secure than our present system? Undoubtedly, so long as the stocks are paid; but if the State should fail to pay the interest on her debt...

They may also be depreciated by the consequent effects of a redundancy of paper money upon trade, and indeed we think that this is the inevitable result of the system.

Editorial Correspondence.

House of Representatives, Jan. 23, 1853.

The Story of Harris—State Agricultural Society meeting—Mr. Walker's Corn-Secretary Hughes, &c.

There is a romantic incident connected with the early history of Harrisburg, from which it derives its name. A gentleman by the name of Harris, of daring and adventurous spirit, penetrated alone into the wilderness...

But, say the advocates of Free Banking, we are not in favor of Banks or an extended banking currency; but as long as other States have adopted this system, and issue notes of all denominations...

But we would by no means attempt to destroy a plan, without suggesting some other in its place. If the people wish the State to hold the securities of banks, which as the writer of the communication alleged to believe, would be a greater security against frauds...

1. Gold and Silver being the only lawful, legitimate currency of the country, all representative currency should be based upon it.

2. It will not depreciate in value, hence the security of the bill-holder is greater.

3. When banks will not engage in hard times, force them to wind up, the bills can be redeemed immediately by the State officer, who has in charge the deposit, without first forcing stocks into market to be sold at a great loss.

4. As the profits will be less, scheming, dishonest brokers will not engage in the business; they can make more with their surplus funds in buying and selling stocks; hence our banking capital will be controlled by honest men...

Bank Department receives an equal amount of circulating notes for the stocks, which are deposited. These notes are put into circulation upon which an interest of 7 per cent. is received. An interest of 7 per cent. is also received...

What a miserable place to write, in this confusion! At my left sits the favorite of Plunket—the veritable Morr—who means to be the next Canal Commissioner; and at my right the embodiment of the Berks delegated Democracy—the fat, good natured, ever-living Zexay—the impersonation of fun and good living.

A joint resolution has passed both Houses, inviting Gen. France to visit Harrisburg on his way to Washington, and partake of the hospitalities of the Capital.

House of Representatives, Jan. 23, 1853.

Dear Democrat—Should you "Harrisburg Correspondent" finally fall, don't attribute it to a want of care for the interest of "originality" of your columns.

The most interesting and the absorbing question now is, the Bill introduced last week to allow the Pennsylvania Rail Road Company to take possession for it amounts to a right of way through the State...

Then the Penna. Railroad Company commenced to embarrass the arrangements of the Canal Board, with the evident intention of forcing submission to their demands.

The State Agricultural Society met here last Tuesday. The Report of the Committee on Corn, awarding a premium of fifty dollars to George Walker, Esq., of your county...

Dr. Dewitt, in opening the House with prayer a few mornings since, made a remark a little suggestive to some. He prayed that the members might have grace given them, that their hands might not be polluted with bribes.

You may have seen of late an attack on Mr. Horstow, Secretary of the Commonwealth, in the Bedford Gazette. We have had some instances of such attacks upon prominent Democrats for a year past, by papers claiming to be Democratic.

Now the advocates of this system say they would favor this plan, but no one would invest their specie in this way, as it can be made more productive in other channels. Let us look at a Bank in the State of New York for instance, doing business under the Free Banking system...

he has no business to parade them before the Commonwealth, in language of staid bitterness and vulgar denunciation.

We have had some pretty cold days, but not snow enough to make sleighing, though some have seemed determined to make sleighing of it.

Dear Democrat—Should you "Harrisburg Correspondent" finally fall, don't attribute it to a want of care for the interest of "originality" of your columns.

House of Representatives, Jan. 23, 1853.

Dear Democrat—Should you "Harrisburg Correspondent" finally fall, don't attribute it to a want of care for the interest of "originality" of your columns.

The most interesting and the absorbing question now is, the Bill introduced last week to allow the Pennsylvania Rail Road Company to take possession for it amounts to a right of way through the State...

Then the Penna. Railroad Company commenced to embarrass the arrangements of the Canal Board, with the evident intention of forcing submission to their demands.

The State Agricultural Society met here last Tuesday. The Report of the Committee on Corn, awarding a premium of fifty dollars to George Walker, Esq., of your county...

Dr. Dewitt, in opening the House with prayer a few mornings since, made a remark a little suggestive to some. He prayed that the members might have grace given them, that their hands might not be polluted with bribes.

You may have seen of late an attack on Mr. Horstow, Secretary of the Commonwealth, in the Bedford Gazette. We have had some instances of such attacks upon prominent Democrats for a year past, by papers claiming to be Democratic.

Now the advocates of this system say they would favor this plan, but no one would invest their specie in this way, as it can be made more productive in other channels. Let us look at a Bank in the State of New York for instance, doing business under the Free Banking system...

system, and how smaller still the chance for the people to have their rights protected against the force of such great combinations of power and selfishness.

What a miserable place to write, in this confusion! At my left sits the favorite of Plunket—the veritable Morr—who means to be the next Canal Commissioner; and at my right the embodiment of the Berks delegated Democracy—the fat, good natured, ever-living Zexay—the impersonation of fun and good living.

A joint resolution has passed both Houses, inviting Gen. France to visit Harrisburg on his way to Washington, and partake of the hospitalities of the Capital.

House of Representatives, Jan. 23, 1853.

Dear Democrat—Should you "Harrisburg Correspondent" finally fall, don't attribute it to a want of care for the interest of "originality" of your columns.

The most interesting and the absorbing question now is, the Bill introduced last week to allow the Pennsylvania Rail Road Company to take possession for it amounts to a right of way through the State...

Then the Penna. Railroad Company commenced to embarrass the arrangements of the Canal Board, with the evident intention of forcing submission to their demands.

The State Agricultural Society met here last Tuesday. The Report of the Committee on Corn, awarding a premium of fifty dollars to George Walker, Esq., of your county...

Dr. Dewitt, in opening the House with prayer a few mornings since, made a remark a little suggestive to some. He prayed that the members might have grace given them, that their hands might not be polluted with bribes.

You may have seen of late an attack on Mr. Horstow, Secretary of the Commonwealth, in the Bedford Gazette. We have had some instances of such attacks upon prominent Democrats for a year past, by papers claiming to be Democratic.

Now the advocates of this system say they would favor this plan, but no one would invest their specie in this way, as it can be made more productive in other channels. Let us look at a Bank in the State of New York for instance, doing business under the Free Banking system...

of the notes will exceed the amount of stock in circulation twenty to twenty-five per cent. Whereas, under the present system, the notes put in circulation often go to two or three times the amount of the capital stock of the Bank paid in.

What a miserable place to write, in this confusion! At my left sits the favorite of Plunket—the veritable Morr—who means to be the next Canal Commissioner; and at my right the embodiment of the Berks delegated Democracy—the fat, good natured, ever-living Zexay—the impersonation of fun and good living.

A joint resolution has passed both Houses, inviting Gen. France to visit Harrisburg on his way to Washington, and partake of the hospitalities of the Capital.

House of Representatives, Jan. 23, 1853.

Dear Democrat—Should you "Harrisburg Correspondent" finally fall, don't attribute it to a want of care for the interest of "originality" of your columns.

The most interesting and the absorbing question now is, the Bill introduced last week to allow the Pennsylvania Rail Road Company to take possession for it amounts to a right of way through the State...

Then the Penna. Railroad Company commenced to embarrass the arrangements of the Canal Board, with the evident intention of forcing submission to their demands.

The State Agricultural Society met here last Tuesday. The Report of the Committee on Corn, awarding a premium of fifty dollars to George Walker, Esq., of your county...

Dr. Dewitt, in opening the House with prayer a few mornings since, made a remark a little suggestive to some. He prayed that the members might have grace given them, that their hands might not be polluted with bribes.

You may have seen of late an attack on Mr. Horstow, Secretary of the Commonwealth, in the Bedford Gazette. We have had some instances of such attacks upon prominent Democrats for a year past, by papers claiming to be Democratic.

Now the advocates of this system say they would favor this plan, but no one would invest their specie in this way, as it can be made more productive in other channels. Let us look at a Bank in the State of New York for instance, doing business under the Free Banking system...

of the notes will exceed the amount of stock in circulation twenty to twenty-five per cent. Whereas, under the present system, the notes put in circulation often go to two or three times the amount of the capital stock of the Bank paid in.

What a miserable place to write, in this confusion! At my left sits the favorite of Plunket—the veritable Morr—who means to be the next Canal Commissioner; and at my right the embodiment of the Berks delegated Democracy—the fat, good natured, ever-living Zexay—the impersonation of fun and good living.

A joint resolution has passed both Houses, inviting Gen. France to visit Harrisburg on his way to Washington, and partake of the hospitalities of the Capital.

House of Representatives, Jan. 23, 1853.

Dear Democrat—Should you "Harrisburg Correspondent" finally fall, don't attribute it to a want of care for the interest of "originality" of your columns.

The most interesting and the absorbing question now is, the Bill introduced last week to allow the Pennsylvania Rail Road Company to take possession for it amounts to a right of way through the State...

Then the Penna. Railroad Company commenced to embarrass the arrangements of the Canal Board, with the evident intention of forcing submission to their demands.

The State Agricultural Society met here last Tuesday. The Report of the Committee on Corn, awarding a premium of fifty dollars to George Walker, Esq., of your county...

Dr. Dewitt, in opening the House with prayer a few mornings since, made a remark a little suggestive to some. He prayed that the members might have grace given them, that their hands might not be polluted with bribes.

You may have seen of late an attack on Mr. Horstow, Secretary of the Commonwealth, in the Bedford Gazette. We have had some instances of such attacks upon prominent Democrats for a year past, by papers claiming to be Democratic.

Now the advocates of this system say they would favor this plan, but no one would invest their specie in this way, as it can be made more productive in other channels. Let us look at a Bank in the State of New York for instance, doing business under the Free Banking system...