Mr Buchanan as Minister to England—False Rumors about the Cabinet—The President—Appointments, Etc.

Washington April 11.

The presiding officer of the Senate this morning notified Senators that he had received a message from the President of the United States, requesting them to meet to day, as he had business to communicate to the Senate.

When the Senate met the nomination of Hon. James Buchanan was received and confirmed as Minister to England. It was for this purpose the President desired the attendance of the Senate.

The rumors of changes in the cabinet, which have been gossiped about the streets for the last two days, and even found their way into the Intelligencer, are utterly unfounded in fact The pertinacity with which they are adhered to affords a good deal of amusement to the secretaries.

President Pierce having got rid of the Senate, found time this afternoon, to take a walk on the avenue.

FIRE AT NEW BEDFORD—AWFUL MURDER.

Boston, April 11.

Booth's clothing store, situated in Tallman's block, New Bedford, was consumed by fire on Saturday.

An awful murder was committed at Fall River, on Saturday evening. A man named John Murphy seized his wife, and after tying both her hands and feet, poured oil of vitriol down her throat, burning her to death.

EMANCIPATION OF DAPHNE—THE SLAVE WITH HER CHILD.

Washington, April 11.

The Intelligencer of this morning publishes a card signed by Charles Lanman, Benjamin P. Poor, and George J. Abbot, Esq., announcing the receipt of eight hundred dollars for the purchase and emancipation of "Daphne" and child, the wife and daughter of the slave belonging to the late Hon. Daniel Webster, known as "William," and who was emancipated by Mr. Webster some time before his death.

The money subscribed for the purchase of his wife and child has been paid over, and both are now free.

Hon. James Buchanan arrived in this city yesterday.

Later from California.

Another great fire. Loss of the Steam-ship Tennessee.

NEW ORLEANS, April 6th.

We have advices from San Francisco to the 16th, being two weeks later than previously received. The trip has occupied but 21 days.

The most important intelligence is the wreck of the United States mail steamship Tennessee, while on her way from Panama to San Francisco. She is a total loss. The passengers and mails, however, were taken off and saved.

A destructive fire had occured at Weaversville, in Trinity county, the loss by which is stated at over $100,000.

The mining news is of a satisfactory character.

Second Despatch.

The Tennessee was lost on the morning of the 6th March, when within only a few hours sail of San Francisco, every effort was made to save the vessel but they were of no avail.

The Tennessee is an old vessel, and valued at $175,000, the greater part of which is believed to be insured.

The Tennessee belonged to the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, running between San Francisco and Panama, and left the former port on the 16th of March.

Foreign News.

The arrival of the steamship Europa, from Liverpool, at this port, yesterday morning, put us in possession of three days later news from England, and the continent of Europe. English local politics were dull, owing to the late parliamentary recess; but the leaders of every party were anxiously waiting for the promised explanation of the policy of Lord Aberdeens's government, which, it is said, will be made simultaneously in both houses of the Legislature, immediately after they reassemble A fearful riot had occurred at the Blackburn election. The contest had terminated in the return of Mr. Fielden, liberal and free trader. The trade and laborer strikes at Liverpool continued and were progressing. Everything was quiet in France. The panic upon the Bourse, noticed in the mails of the Arctic, had completely subsided, and the funds raised from the temporary depression. In Italy and the Roman States, political combinations and executive punishments were of daily occurrence. A rumor—uncredited—of a speedy extensive revolution in Germany, had reached London. The eyes of the European cabinets were all turned eastward. The prevailing impression was, that the threatened rupture between the Czar and the Sultan would be arrested. The departure of the French fleet for Constantinople was credited very generally. English fund holders were a little nervous, and the financial statement of the Chancellor of the Exchequer was anxiously looked for. A full detail of the news, with the latest commerical and monetary remarks and transactions, will be found in another part of this paper.—Herald Apr, 10.

Extravagance and Folly.

The New York Journal of Commerce says: Men who were here in 1836 and saw the abounding in "wealth," splendid equipages, brilliant furniture, magnificent parties, &c., &c., of that day—and who, a year or two afterwards, saw a large part of those foolish spendthrifts bankrupt and ruined, cannot avoid such reminiscences, when they see the far greater extravagance of the present day. They cannot help asking themselves if the end will not be the same. A New York correspondent of the Boston Transcript notes a few items of this extravagance, in the words following:

Allusion was made in a former lteter to the lavish prodigality with which money was expended in this city the hotels and stores.—Upon further investigation, I find that in respect to extravagance in other matters, the New Yorkers are now in advance of all former times. The rage for showy and costly articles for private dwellings, far exceeds the emulation which exists between the rival hotels up town. As a matter of curiosity to the Transcript, a few of the fashionable styles of parlor ornament will be stated. One of the latest patterns of parlor tables or light stands is made of the richest decorated French porcelain, set in a gilt frame and stand. These are very beautiful, the price ranges from $200 to $300 each, according to the value of the painting.

French porcelain ornamental gas fixtures for an mantel, are imported and sold for $180 a pair.

A pair of bronzed mantel, candelabra, with a clock for a centre piece, are for sale at $800 a set. An importer stated that he had sold four sets for one house, $3,000.

A novel and unique mantel clock, valued at $500, would be a rich mantel ornament. This clock has no hands. The hours and minutes are denoted by figures which revolve like a modern whist counter.

One firm here have a small mantel clock for which they ask $1200. Two birds come out and sing from the clock each hour.

Bronzed vases with bas reliefs, are plenty at $300 each. Porcelain tea sets, of thirty-six pieces, are held at $180 a set. And so one could go through the list of household articles of elegance and utility, and name prices would not do except in an "age of gold."

One cannot fail to call to mind the common illustration suggested by the upish tendency of all property in this city, and to state that we are now witnessing the brilliant ascent of the rocket; the no less certain descent of the valueless stick may not be so agreeable, particularly if it should hit us, or one near to us.

There is one point which seems to be overlooked in the fitting up of public and private houses at the present time. This is the consideration of the effect of use and time upon the expensive ornaments and extravant fittings now in vogue. There is nothing more repulsive to the eye than dinged and faded finery. Shabby gentility is generally despised. "A patch on both knees and gloves on" is suggestive of a fall from competence to indigence. A dirty white vest is a sure indication that the wearer, like the garment, has seen better days. Twenty-four gas burners in a bed room twelve feet square, decorated procelain spittoons, and seven hundred dollar bed coverings, may excite wonder and attract for a time, but such matters are of short duration from the very nature of things.

Information Wanted.

Left his home in Centre county, about the last of March or first of April, 1836, a young man, named Mark Watson Shields, aged 19 years. He was altogether deranged at the time he left, and it is supposed he is so yet if he survives. any person or persons knowing anything about the young man would confer a particular favor on his parents and friends by informing them of the same by letter or otherwise. It is supposed he went westwards.

Editors thoroughout the western States will further the cause of humanity by copying this advertisment.

Died,

In Barbacoa New Grenada March 15 Mr. WILLIAM H. VAN HOUSEN, formerly of New Milford this county, aged 24 years 7 months and 24 days.

Mr. Van Housen left his parents and friends in the month of December last, in good health and fine spirits. He went with others to work on the public works on the peninsula, intending to return again after a brief stay. Sometime in February he was attacked with the fever so common there, but recovered and again resumed his work, when he was taken down with the most malignant form of Dysentery and survived but a few days.

Thus has gone to his last rest another of our most worthy young men. He was steady, upright, faithful and enterprising, ever striving to make himself useful, and those around him happy. He was universally [illegible] respected by all who knew him. Foes, he had none, for his moral worth won the respect and confidence of all. His acquaintances testify that his character was above reproach. But in the bloom of manhood he has been removed to a furer world where sickness, sorrow and death never come. Though dead we yet hear him saying.

Here on earth no more I wander,
My communion is on high,
Kindred spirits greet me yonder;
Jesus calls me to the sky.

Wrapped in blissful contemplation,
Earthly scenes I bid adieu,
Heav'n with all its bright creation
Opens to my ravished view.

Then weep, dear friends, no more for me,
Then to thoughts of God on high;
He all your lonely grief doth see,
He will sooth thy anguished sigh.

The consolations of the gospel were presented to the family, and a large concourse of sympathizing friends, March 10th, by the writer, A. O. WARREN.

In Gibson March, 8 ult., JAMES ERASTUS, only son of John and Keziah Smiley, aged 10 years, 7 months, and 18 days.

E're sin had stained the infant gem,
Death came and plucked the flower,
Withered the heart of the parent stem;
Alas! how sad the hour.

Rough as the hand of death has been,
Dark as the grave appears,
How sweet to think that James E., lives,
A cherub free from tears.

Soon did his earthly mission close,
Kind heaven saw it best,
Eternal glory he beholds;
And is with Jesus blest.

In Great Bend, April 8th, after a short but severe illness, W. ALANSON CHAMBERLIN.

The deceased was a son of Wright Chamberlin one of the earliest settlers of Great Bend. He has left a gray haired father and mother, and a large circle of brothers and sisters, sadly mourning their bereavement. He was a consistent member of the Presbyterian church, and a worthy citizen. Upright and obliging, he was esteemed by all. He was a dutiful son, an affectionate brother, and was fondly loved in return. But, just merging on manhood's prime, death has smitten him, and left his place in community and among friends vacant.

TO COUNTRY DEALERS.

Silks and Fancy Dry Goods.

NICHOLSON & WRIGHT, IMPORTERS AND JOBBERS

Of Silks and Fancy Dry Goods,

HAVING removed from 54 Cedar street, to the, New Marble building, 93 Liberty street, four doors west of Broadway, would invite the attention of dealers in distant cities and towns to a very extensive and rich stock of silks and fancy dry goods, consisting of Ribbons, Laces, Embroideries, Dress Trimmings, White Goods, Gloves, Silks, Delaines, Shawls, Parasols, Millinery Articles, &c.

An examination of our Goods and prices, will we think, convince country dealers that we can offer them fully as advantageous terms as any house in New York—if not better. We pay particular attention to the Auction sales; and if goods are selling at less prices than they can be imported—as is sometimes the case—we shall see that our customers shall realize all the benefit accruing from such sales. We are at all times willing to exhibit our stock to buyers, whether they purchase or not; we do not consider it any trouble to show our goods.

☞ Cash and close time purchasers are especially invited to give us a call. From our facilities we are convinced that we can sell them at such rates as must prove satisfactory. NICOLSON & WRIGHT.
