Lines on a Keg of Brandy.

Within these prision walls repose
The chattering tongue, the horrid oath;
The first for fighting nothing loath;
The passion quick no words can tame,
That bursts like sulphur into flame;
The nose with rubies glowing red,
The bloated eye, the broken head;
Forever festened be his door!
Confined within, a thousand more
Destructive fiends of human shape,
Even now are plotting to escape.
Here, only by a cord restrained,
In slender walls of wood contained,
Is all their dirt of death reside
Revenge that ne'er was satisfied;
The tree that bears the deadly fruit
Of murder, maiming and dispute;
Assault that innocence assails,
The images of gloomy jails;
The giddy thought of mischief bent,
The midnight hour in folly spent;
All these within the cask appear,
And Jack the hangman in the rear.

The Thriftless Farmer.

We copy the following from the Fort Wayne Times, and regard it as one of the best portraits of the 'thriftless farmer,' we have ever seen.

The thriftless farmer then provides no shelter for his cattle, during the inclemency of winter, but permits them to stand shivering by the side of a fence or to lie in the snow, as best suits them.

He throws their fodder on the ground, or in the mud, and not unfrequently in the highways by which a large portion of it and all the manure is wasted.

He grazes his meadows in the fall and spring by which they are gradually exhausted, and finally ruined.

His fences are old and poor—just such as to let his neighbor's cattle break into his fields, and teach his own to be unruly.

He neglects to keep the manure from around his barn—if he has one—by which they are prematurely rotted, and his barn entirely destroyed.

He tills, or skims over the surface of his land until it is exhausted; but never thinks it worth while to manure or clover it. For the first, he has no time; and for the last he 'is not able.'

He has more stock than he has means to keep well.

He has a place for nothing and nothing in its place. He, consequently wants a hoe or a rake, a hammer or an auger, but knows not where to find it. He and his whole household are in search of it, and much time is lost.

He loiters awa y stormy days and evenings when he should be prepairing utensils, or improving his mind by reading the newspapers.

He spends much time in town, at the corners of the street, or in the 'snakeholes,' and goes home in the evenings 'pretty well tore.'

He plants a few fruit trees, and his cattle forthwith destroys them. He 'has no luck in raising fruit.'

One half of the little he raises, is destroyed by his own, or his neighbor's cattle.

He has no shed for his fire-wood—consequently his wife is out of humor, and his meals out of season.

His plow, drag, and other impiements, lie all winter in the field where last used; and just as he is getting in a hurry the next season his plow breaks, because it was not housed properly and cared for.

Somebody's hogs break in and destroy his garden, because he had not stopped a hole in the fence, that he had intended to stop for a week.

He is often in a great hurry, but will stop and talk as long as he can find any one to talk with.

He has of course, a little money; and when he must raise some to pay his taxes, &c., he raises it at a great sacrifice, in someway or other, either by paying an enormous 'shave,' or by selling his scanty crops when prices are low.

He is a year behind, instead of being a head of his business—and always will be.

When he pays a debt it is at the end of an execution; consequently, his credit is at low ebb.

He buys entirely on credit, and merchants and all others with whom he deals, charge him twice or thrice the profit they charge prompt paymasters and unwilling to sell him goods at that. He has to beg and promise, and promise and beg, to get them on any terms. The merchants dread to see his wife come into their stores, and poor woman feels depressed and degraded.

The smoke begins to come out of his chimney late of a winter's morning, while his poor cattle are suffering for their morning's food.

Manure lies in heaps in his stable, his horses are rough and uncurried, and his harness trod under their feet.

His bars and gates are broken, his buildings unpainted, and the boards and shingles falling off—he has no time to replace them—the glass is brokenout of the windows, and the hole stopped with rags and old hats.

He is a great borrower of his thrifty neighbors, implements, but never returns the borrowed articles; and when it is sent for cannot be found.

His children are late at school—that is if they go to school—their faces unwashed, their clothes ragged, their hair uncombed, and their books torn and dirty.

He is, in person, a great slouen, and never attends public worship—or if he does occasionally, do so, he comes when service is half over.

Rural Axioms.

It is as cheap to raise one ton of grass or clover, as a ton of burkdocks or pig-weeds.

It costs no more to raise a hundred bushels of cider apples, or ten barrels of Virgalieus or Bartletts than the same quantity of choke-pears.

An axe costing two dollars, with which a laborer may cut fifty cords a month, is a cheaper tool than an axe costing but one dollar, with which he can cut only forty cords.

A 'cheap plough' at five dollars, costing in one season three dollars in repairs and three more in lost time to teams, men, and by retarding crops, in a dearer plough than one at ten dollars requiring no repairs.

A cow bought for ten dollars, whose milk but just pays her keeping, affords less profit than one at thirty dollars, giving double the value of milk afforded by the former.

Common dasher churn at two dollars, used one hundred times a year, is not so economical a purchase as a Kendall churn at four dollars, requiring but half the labor to work it.

A ten acre field, costing fifty dollars per acre, and ditched, manured, and improved at fifty dollars more, so as to give double crops is much more valuable and profitable than twenty acres unimproved, costing the same money.

The laborer who wastes half his strength in working all day with a dull saw because he cannot give a shilling or afford an hour to get it sharpened, will waste at least twenty-five cents per day, or six or seven dollars per month.

The man who loses half an hour of time worth one shilling, and wears his wagon and team, equal to two shillings more, by going over a long and rough road, to avoid a plank road toll of a sixpence by the operation. This does not apply to the loaded wagon, where the loss is much greater than in smaller loads.—Albany Cultivator.

A WORD TO LITTLE GIRLS.—Who is lovely? It is the girl who drops sweet words, kind remarks, and pleasant smiles, as she passes along. Who has a kind word for every boy or girl she meets in trouble, and a kind hand to help her companions out of difficulty. She never scolds, never contends, and never tesses her mother, nor seeks in any way to diminish, but always to increase her happiness. would it not please you to pick up a string of pearls, drops of gold, diamonds or precious stones, as you pass along the streets? But these are the precious stones that can never be lost. Extend a friendly hand to the friendless; smile on the sad and dejected; sympathize with those in trouble; strive everywhere to difuse around you sunshine and joy. If you do this, you will be sure to be lov ed.

Some years ago several young Scotchmen came in company to New York. On the following day, which was the Sabbath, it was proposed to go out and see the city and its environs. All assented except one. He had been charged by his father, on leaving home not to break the Sabbath. He would not disobey him. In a few years he was possessor of a large estate, and his companions were in the drunkard's grave. He was visited by a Mr. C—, who asked him, 'How did you accumulate your wealth? He answered, 'By strictly observing the Sabbath, sir.'

ACQUAINTANCE.—If a man does not make new acquaintance as he advances through life he will soon find himself left alone. A man should keep his friendship in constant repair. —Dr. Johnson.

No reform is deserving of that name which stops short of purifying and softening the heart and elevating the mind. The grace of God alone will enable us to do all this.

Fortune frequently favors those whom she afterwards destroys.

For that thou canst do thyself rely not on another.

Intense mental activity, steadily directed to some leading pursuit, is the source of all distinction.

Instead of obtaining success by deceiving the public, the conciousness of any man that he is practising deception will inevitably degrade and corrupt his mind, and disqualify him for the efficient pursuit of lofty enterprises.

If a man deliberately violates his finest sense of rectitude, he inflicts an irremediable wound upon his moral nature, and, as it were, poisons the fountain of his energies.

Bryant House, Great Bend Depot, Pa.

THIS new and spacious building, situated but a few feet from the Depot at Great Bend, is now opened and furnished in a suitable style for a Public House, and will be kept open at all hours, (both day and night,) for the reception of travellers; and especially for the accommodation of passengers travelling on the N. Y. & Erie & L. & W. Railroads, being at the junction of these two roads, and the most convenient point to stop in and take refreshments and be off with the first train, as well as the most convenient house to accommodate the public, because it is NEW, CLEAN and WHOLESOME!—with room enough to accomodate ALL, being fitted up with new furniture to correspond, and tables always set with WARM MEALS and luxuries furnished at a moments warning.

☞ Passengers desiring rest and sleep, can by calling here, avoid the inconvenience of taking an omnibus to find an inn, as well as the delay and uncertainty of returning to the depot at the arrival or departure of the trains; as a porter will be in waiting to conduct them with their baggage to the Bryant House, "just across the way," and conduct them back again without fee or reward, taking special care to wake them if desired at any hour of the night.

The location of the Bryant House, with the natural scenery about it combine to make it a very desirable SUMMER RESORT for business men and others in the city who may wish to "cast off care" for a few days to recruit in the country.

A Large and Commodious Hall

is attached to this building for the convenience of pleasure PARTIES, who may always find good accommodations here, without regard to numbers, with warm stables for their teams, and reliable help to wait on them.

THE ROAD TO HEALTH! HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

CURE OF A DISORDERED LIVER AND BAD DIGESTION.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. R. W. Kirkus, Chemist, Prescot street, Liverpool, dated 6th June, 1851.

To Professor Holloway—Sir:—Your Pills and Ointment have stood the highest on our sale list of Proprietary Medicines for some years. A customer, to whom I have for any enquiries, desires me to let you know the particulars of her case. She had been troubled for years with a disordered liver, and bad digestion. On the last occasion, however, the virulence of the attack was so alarming, and the inflamation set in so severely, that doubts were entertained of her not being able to weather under it; fortunately she was induced to try your Pills, and she informs me that after the first, and each succeeding dose, she had great relief. She continued to take them, and although she used only three Boxes, she is now in the enjoyment of perfect health. She has since sent you many more cases, but the above, from the severity of the attack, and the speedy cure, I think, speaks much in favor of your astonishing Pills.

Liver Complaint,

Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Chronic or Nervous Debility, Diseases of the Kidneys,

AND all diseases arising from a disordered liver or stomach such as constipation, inward piles fullness or blood to the head, acidity of the stomach, nausea, heart burn, disgust for food, fullness or weight in the stomach, sour eructations, sinking or fluttering at the pit of the stomach, swimming of the head, hurried or difficult breathing, fluttering at the heart, choking or suffocating sensations when in a lying posture, dimness of vision, dots or webs before the sight, fever and dull pain in the head, deficiency of perspiration, yellowness of the skin and eyes, pain in the side, back, chest, limbs &c., sudden flushes of heat, burning in the flesh, constant imaginings of evil, and great depression of spirits, can be effectually cured by

Dr. Hoofland's celebrated German Bitters.

Prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, at the German Medicine store, 120 Arch street Philadelphia.

Their power over the above diseases is not excelled, if equalled, by any other preparation in the United States as the cures attest, in many cases after skilful physicians had failed.

These bitters are worthy the attention of invalids.—Possessing great virtues in the rectification of diseases of the Liver and lesser glands, exercising the most searching power in weakness and affections of the digestive organs, they are withal, safe, certain, and pleasant.

Read and be Convinced.

The Editor of the Boston Beecon, December 22d—

Dr. Hoofland's Celebrated German Bitters, for the cure of Liver Complaint; Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Chronic, or Nervous debility, is deservedly one of the most popular medicines of the day. These bitters have been used by thousands, and a friend at our elbow says he has himself received an effectual and permanent cure of Liver Complaint from the use of this remedy. We are convinced that, in the use of these bitters, the patient constantly gains strength and vigor—a fact worthy of great consideration. They are pleasant in taste and smell, and can be used by persons with the most delicate stomach, with safety under any circumstances. We are speaking from experience, and to the afflicted we advise their use.

Scott's Weekly, one of the best literary papers published, said, August 25th—

"Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, manufactured by Dr. Jackson, are now recommended by some of the most prominent members of the medical faculty as an article of much efficacy in cases of female weakness. As such is the case, we would advise all mothers to obtain a bottle, and thus save themselves much sickness. Persons of debilitated constitutions will find these bitters advantageous to their health, as we know from experience the salutary effect they have upon weak systems."

More Evidence.

The Philadelphia Saturday Gazette, the best family paper published in the United States, says of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters—

"It is seldom that we recommend what are termed Patent Medicines, to the confidence and patronage of our readers, and therefore when we recommend Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters we wish to be distinctly understood that we are not speaking of the nostrums of the day, that are noised into notoriety by a brief period and then forgotten or else they have run their guilty race of mischief, but of a medicine long established, universally approved, and which has met the hearty approval of the faculty itself.'

Look well to the marks of the genuine. They have the written signature of C. M. JACKSON upon the wrapper and his name blown in the bottle, without which they are spurious.

DOCTOR YOURSELF

For 25 cents.

BY MEANS OF THE POCKET ESCULAPIUS, or every one his own Physician! The sixth edition, with upwards of a hundred engravings, showing private disease in every shape and form, and malformations of the genital system.

By William Young, M. D.

The time has now arrived that persons suffering from secret diseases need no more become the victims of quackery, as by the prescriptions contained in this book, any one may cure himself, without hindrance of business, or the knowledge of the most intimate friend, and with one-tenth the usual expense. In addition to the general routine of private disease, it fully explains the secret habits of manhood's early decline, with observations on marriage—besides many other derangements which it would not be proper to enumerate in the public prints.

☞ Any person sending TWENTY-FIVE CTS. enclosed in a letter, will receive one copy of this book, by mail, or five copies will be sent for one dollar. Address DR. W. YOUNG, No. 152 Spruce street, PHILADELPHIA, post-paid.

☞ DR. YOUNG can be consulted on any of the diseases described in his different publications, at his office, 152 Spruce street, every day between 9 and 3 o'clock, (Sundays excepted.) 35y1

The People's Friend.

T. T. Pond's, of Ithaca, N. Y., Pain Destroyer and Healing Extract.

AN Extract from the shrub called Witch hazel, and purely from that, with the exception of a little Alcohol to preserve it.

It will cure all local pain and inflammation, old sores, fresh wounds and bruises, Piles, and all diseases of the bowels of a chronic nature, tooth-ache, ear-ache, and an excellent remedy for fevers, &c.

It is truly what it professes to be, "THE PEOPLE'S FRIEND." Providence has scattered along the rugged paths of life many things that contribute greatly to the comfort and happiness of every body; hence their great value, and I well may they be called "Friends of the People."

One word here to guard against imposition A man by the name of Spencer has manufactured and offered for sale a spurious article called the "Coryl Extract"—that would be extract from the hazel-nut—the genuine is as white and pure as water, while the spurious article is colored, which enables the public to distinguish.

None genuine but those marked Pond's Pain Destroyer. WILLIAM K HATCH, Montrose, and store-keepers and medicine dealers generally, Agents.

DR. S. E. CRAIN, GERMAN PHYSICIAN, takes this method of informing his friends and the public in general that he has recently returned from California, and located in the village of Owego, County of Tioga, and has established a permanent office on Lake Street, over T. P. Patch's new brick store, and is ready to attend to any business in the line of his profession.

His superior method of arriving at a correct diagnosis in diseases, and his unparalleled success in treating the various diseases incidental to the human system, more especially those of an Acute, subacute, chronic, or complicated character, are all that is necessary for him to offer the invalids and diseased of every character to entitle him to the confidence of a discriminating public.—For the benefit of those unacquainted with the method of practice he would say that he describes disease by a chemical and microscopical examination of the Urine.

Persons may send or bring their Urine in a clean (at least two ounce) vial, the first in the morning is preferred, and as a record is kept of all the cases examined, the name and age of the patient are also required. No charge is made for examining a case where no medicine is taken.

His medicines are principally selected from the vegetable Kingdom, and are administered according to the German BOTANIC PRACTICE.

He would also add, that he has at last made an important discovery in relation to certain diseases of a calculous origin, or Gravel. This is a singular deposition, and may consist of crystalline grains, of a gritty, harsh feel, but not distinctly visible upon a close examination; or it may consist in irregular shaped transparent concretions, sufficiently large to be readily distinguished by the eye, and denominated Calculi.

The preparation that he has introduced is capable of dissolving and holding in solution, calculous, or laterittous concretions, which is the source of irritation, and very often extensive inflamation of the Urinary organs, and thereby allowing the same to escape.

Performers can be had at the Office from persons living in all the Western counties of the State of New York, Pennsylvania, Michigan, &c., who have been given up to die by the most skilful Physicians, hearing of his and uplifting themselves of his skill, have been restored to good health. The great German Remedies for Female obstructions, Worms, Croup and Dysentery, may always be found at the office.

MARRIAGE,

HAPPINESS AND COMPETENCE.

WHY IS IT?

That we behold many females, seared in the meridian of life stricken in health and spirits with a complication of diseases and ailments, depriving them of the power for the enjoyment of life at an age when physical health, buoyancy of spirits, and happy serenity of mind, arising from a condition of health, should be predominant.

Many of the causes of her sufferings at first—perhaps years before, perhaps during girlhood, or the first years of marriage—were in their origin so light as to pass unnoticed, and of course neglected.

IN AFTER YEARS,

When too late to be benefitted by our knowledge, we look back and mourn, and regret the full consequences of our ignorance.

What would we not often give to possess, in early life, the knowledge we obtain in after years! And what days and nights of anguish we might not have been spared, if the knowledge was timely possessed. It is

MELANCHOLY AND STARTLING

To behold the sickness and suffering endured by many a wife for many years, from causes simple and controllable, easily remedied—or better still,—not incurred, if every

WIFE AND MOTHER

Possessed the information contained in a little volume, (with in the reach of all) which would spare to herself

YEARS OF MISERY,

And to her husband the constant toil and anxiety of mind, necessarily devolving upon him from sickness of the wife, without giving him the opportunity of acquiring that competence which his exertions are entitled, and the possession of which would secure the happiness of himself, wife, and children.

SECURE THE MEANS OF HAPPINESS

By becoming in time possessed of the knowledge, the want of which has caused the sickness and poverty of thousands; in view of such consequences, no wife or mother is excusable if she neglect to avail herself of that knowledge in respect to herself, which would spare her much suffering, be the means of happiness and prosperity to her husband, and confer upon her children that blessing above all price—healthy bodies, with healthy minds. That knowledge is contained in a little work entitled
