MONTROSE, NOVEMBER 24, 1853.

Dutchy Ahead.

An old, plain-looking and plain-spoken Dutch farmer, from the vicinity of the Holderburg, in pursuit of dinner, the other day, dropped in at the Excelsior Dining Salloon, in Nassau street. Taking a seat along side a dandy lassimo sort of a fellow all perfume, moustachois and shirt collar—our honest Mynheer ordered up his dinner.

"What will it be, sir?" asks white apron.

"You got goot corned beef, hey?" says Dutchy.

"Yes!".

"You got sourkrout, too, hey?"

"Oh, yes!"

"Vell, give me some of both!" says Mynheer.

Off starts white apron on a keen ju mp, and presently returns with the desired fodder. The sourkrout was smoking hot, and sent forth its peculiar flavor, evidently satisfactory to Mynheer's nasal organ, and vice versa to that of our dandy friend, who after the dish had been deposited on the table, and Mynheer was about commencing an attack on it, exclaimed:

"I—a—say, my friend—a—are you going to eat that stuff?"

Mynheer turned slowly around, and looking at his interrogator with evident astonishment, says he,

"Eat it? Vy, of course I eats it!

"Well," says dandy, "I—I—would as lief devour a plate of guano!"

"—ah well," replied Mynheer, pinching into the sourkrout with an evident relish," dat depends altogether upon how von was brought up!"

Gone Astray.

Cold words to fall on a loving heart—he has gone astray. And is this the time to desert him? This the time to taunt him with words that roll like lava from your passion, and only sear his soul? No! he passes under clouds; be his light now; perhaps he has no other.

Many a true heart, that would have come back like the dove to the ark after its first transgression, has been frightened beyond recall by the angry look and menace, the taunt, the savage charity of an unforgiving soul. Be careful how you freeze the first warm emotions of repentance. Beware lest those pleading words, unheeded now, sting you in some shadowy vale of your future sorrow. Repentance, changed by neglect or unkindness, becomes like melted iron hardened in the mould. Trifle with it never. Be the first to meet the erring with outstretched arms. Wipe the tear from his eye—pour the balm of consolation on the wounds that guilt has made. Let your hearts be the grave for his transgressions, your pity find vent in bearing his burden, not in useless words. O, forgive the erring! Did not He who died on Calvary? Shield him from the contempt of grosser minds; make brightness and beauty where all was a cloud and storm before his sad life.

Beautiful effects of pain.

One of the most beautiful effects of pain is its tendency to develope kindly feelings between man and man,—to excite friendly sympathy on part of others towards one immediately afflicted. No sooner is a person attacked with illness, than a corresponding degree of interest is excited in his behalf. Expressions of solicitude for his welfare are put forward, offers of assistance are made, old friendships are revived, and new ones developed—all this, it is to be remembered, is essentially connected with the sufferings of sickness. Were it not for this, there would be no manifestation of it.

Every man would be left to battle with the attack of illness as he could, and no kind voice would be raised to cheer him in his hours of solitary gloom—no tender hands put forth in offices of kindness—no midnight watches volunteer to attend his bedside.

VOTE FOR HIM!—Lewis, the fun-loving editor of the "N. M. Union," (says an exchange,) is a candidate for the Legislature. In the last number of his paper he publishes a circular to his fellow citizens of eight columns. Whereupon he says:

It may be asked why I write so long a circular. An anecdote will illustrate my answer. Once upon a time an old lady sent her grandson out to set a turkey. On his return, the following dialogue took place:

"Sammy, have you set her?"

"Yes, grandma."

"Fixed the nest all up nicely?"

"Mighty fine, grandma."

"How many eggs did you put under her?"

"One hundred and twenty, grandma."

"Why, Sammy, what did you put so many under her for?"

"Grandma, I wanted to see her spread herself."

My opponents will pitch into this circular—I hope they will have a good time in making a large per centage off of it. A short one would be as much as they could get over, but I want to see them spread themselves.

We say Hurra for Lewis!—Let his friends vote for him—just to see him "spread himself." He's one of 'em—he is.

A MEAN MAN.—There was a man who came into a country store with an egg, which he wished to exchange for a darning needle to oblige him the storekeeper agreed to trade. The bargain over, the egg dealer asked:

"Don't you treat when you've driven a trade?"

"Not for so small a trade," answered the merchant.

"A trade's a trade, whether it's for one egg or a thousand!"

Aghast at the man's meanness, the storekeeper complied, and asked; "what will you take?"

"I like a glass of wine with an egg beat up in it," answered the mean man.

The storekeeper said nothing, but took the egg which he had recieved from the man and broke it. It happened to be a double yolked egg.

"There!" exclaimed the mean man, now you must give me two needles, cause that's a double egg I gin you."

TWO CHILDREN BURNED.—A most distressing accident occurred at the St. Charles House, in St. Louis, on the 4th instant, by which two children were burned to death. A Mrs. Bicks, who occupied a room in the hotel, left it that evening to be absent only a few minutes.—She left in the room her two little girls, one aged three and the other thirteen months, the latter lying on the bed. While she was gone the oldest girl commenced to play with the fire, when her dress accidentally caught, and she ran to the bed where her sister lay, and in a few minutes the bed was in flames. The youngest child was burned to death and very much disfigured by the action of the fire, and the oldest was found in the last agonies of death, and lived only a short time. The father left only a short time since for California.

☞ THE Philadelphia Bulletin denies the report that Ole Bull's colony in Potter county has broken up. It says that the best men still remain there, and that Ole Bull has neither lost money, nor got into a law suit respecting his title to the lands.

Increase of Agricultural Fairs.

The increase of agricultural fairs, throughout the country, is one of the most favorable signs of the day. American farming is confessedly inferior to that of Great Britain, so that whatsoever tends to public benefit, and should be encouraged by all good citizens. The greatest benefactor of his kind, it has been said, is he who teaches two blades of grass to grow where only one has grown before. The fairs, by the emulation they excite among farmers, tend directly to this end. They are to agriculturalists what an exchange is to merchants. Every novelty is there produced, discussed and its merits decided upon.

Consider what these fairs have done for the breed of cattle, horses, and other animals. If the few spirited individuals, who first imported the best stock from abroad, had, instead of exhibiting them at these fairs kept them secluded always on the farm, how little comparitively would have been the good effected.—The breed of cattle on that particular estate, and on one or two neighboring ones, would have been improved, but the great body of agriculturalists would have remained entirely ignorant of the advantages of a superior stock of animals. The difference between Italian farming, where no improvements have been made for centuries, and the moddern scientific farming of Great Britain, is to be attributed to the exchange of ideas among the farmers of England, and the want of such an exchange among the farmers of Italy. A few fairs would regenerate the Italians.

Formerly, these fairs were confined in the United States, principally to the neighborhood of large cities. But now every county in the State is establishing an agricultural fair.—Farming consequently is being quickened to a new life. The venerable jog-trot fashion of tilling the soil are giving away under the stimulating influence of these assemblages, to new and improved methods, just as cocked hats and queues and powdered heads of our grandfathers have succumbed to the more sensible attire of existing generations. The old fogies, in agriculture are getting ashamed of themselves. The most incredulous skeptics in scientific farming and good breed cattle are mortified when an agricultural fair is opened at their doors, and they see with their own eyes, how far they are behind the age.

Give us agricultural fairs all over the land. They will work miracles. What the spinning jenny has been to manufacturers, that agricultural fairs will yet be for farming.

An old proverb. "God hath given to some men wisdom and to others the art of playing on the fiddle.

An editor somewhere in the west, has become so howlow from depending on the printing business alone for bread, that he proposes to sell himself to some gentleman, to be used as a stove pipe.

A shoomaker intending to be absent a few days, lamplacked a shingle with the following, without date, and nailed it up on his shop door: 'Will be at home in ten days from the time you see this shingle.'

☞ 'Mr. Sigbee, you said the defendant was in love—how do you know that?'

'He reads a book upside down, and writes poetry in his day book when it should be cheese.'

'Any other reason?'

'Yes, sir; he shaves without lather, and very frequently mistakes the sleeves of his coat for the legs of his pantaloons, an error that he don't discover till he tries to fasten the tails to his suspenders.'

'A clear case—call the next witness.'

THE INDIAN CLAIM TO NORTHERN VERMONT.—The Indian claim to a portion of Vermont, is no new affair. It was presented first in 1786, and has been renewed at frequent intervals since. It embraces all that portion of the State north of Otter creek, and between lake Champlain and where the water begins to flow into the Connecticut. This territory belonged originaly to the tribe now laying claim to it. They ask that their claim should be fairly investigated, at any rate. The deputation now in attendance on the Legislature at Montpelier, are now awaiting the arrival of Eleazer Williams, of "Dauphin" notoriery, upon whom they rely for a proper presentation of their case.

GRAIN TRADE WITH ENGLAND.—A correspondent of the London Times corrects some grain statistics recently published in that paper. This correspondent asserts that the United States supplies the largest quantity, and proves it thus: "Russia sends 1,301,649 quarters, of which 733,571 are wheat; but upon looking at the importation from the United States of America, and turning the hundred weights into quarters, you will find America bears off the palm. One cwt. represents 3. or 3–10ths of a quarter, and therefore 2,020,069 cwts. represent 786 020–7 quarters, which added to the amount of grain mentioned in the return, make a total of 1,437,906 quarters, 136,347 quarters more than importation from Russia. Of this quantity, also 1,269,589 quarters are wheat, aga inst 732,571 quarters only from Russia. America is not only our best customer for our manufactures, but she sends us more of what we want than other countries—thus obeying one of the inevitable laws of trade."

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH ERECTIONS.—Of the Congregational building fund, the eight thousand dollars assigned as the share of Illinois, was recently appropriated by the proper committee in session at Peoria. About forty churches made application for aid. Appropriations were made to thirty-seven churches in amounts ranging from $150 to $250, with the exception of one, which only asked for $100. Loans of $250 were made to four churches; the others were donations. All the appropriations were unanimous.

The "oldest inhabitant" of Norwich Conn. Erastus Perkins, Esq.—died in that city on Tuesday, 18th ult., at the remarkably advanced age of one hundred and one years and eight months. The memory of Mr. Perkins was very good, even in the last years of his life, and reached back in American history to the times of the French war, terminating with the conquest of Canada by the British and Colonial force.

The only portion of Captain Kellett's letters with which we are as yet, made unacquainted is the brief notice dated Melville's island, 17th May, that "McClure had joined about a fortnight, all well, but half starved." From Captain McClure's own letters, it appears that he had already detached some of his crew to return home by Baffin's Bay, and a small party by the Mackenzie.—English Paper.

THERE is a plant in the Island of Sumatra, the circumference of whose fully expanded flower is nine feet; its nectarium is calculated to hold nine pints; the pistils are as large as cow's horns, and the whole weight of the blossom is computed to be fifteen pounds.

☞ last week a grain purchaser was in Pittsburg, buying up wheat for the Eastern European markets, at $1 to $1.10 per bushel. This is the first wheat ever sold in Pittsburg, direct for Europe.

New Drug & Grocery Store.

DOCT. E. PATRICK, Jr., would respectfully inform his numerous old and well tried friends, both in and out of the Profession, and the public in general, that he has just embarked in the above named business, and has now on hand and is still receiving a full and well chosen assortment of every thing in the line of Drugs, Medicines, Groceries, Dyes, Paints, &c., &c., all of which he will sell for cash or barter upon the cheapest and most advantageous terms to the purchaser. In reference to his Drugs and Medicines he would simply state that they were selected by himself from the establishment of P. Shieffelin Haines & Co., one of the most reliable in the city of New York—and for purity and excellence he believes were never excelled, if equalled by any stock ever brought into Susquehanna County. His stock of Groceries is full and well, South and consequently can be sold cheap. He has also a few choice Liquors for medicinal purposes which he can afford as low as a more inferior article has generally been bought for. Please call before purchasing elsewhere, at the old stand of Pitts & Warner, in the building formerly known as the "Farmers' Store," opposite the "Democrat" Office.

DOCTOR YOURSELF

For 25 cents.

BY MEANS OF THE POCKET ESCULAPIUS, or every one his own Physician! Thirty-sixth edition, with upwards of a hundred engravings, showing private disease in every shape and form, and malformations of the generative system,

By William Young, M. D.

The time has now arrived that persons suffering from secret diseases need no more become the victims of quackery, as by the prescriptions contained in this book any one may cure himself, without hindrance of business, or the knowledge of the most intimate friend, and with one-tenth the usual expense. In addition to the general routine of private disease, it fully explains the cause of manhood's early decline, with observations on marriage—besides many other derangements which it would not be proper to enumerate in the public prints.

☞ Any person sending TWENTY-FIVE CTS. enclosed in a letter, will receive one copy of this book, by mail, or five copies will be sent for one dollar. Address DR. W. YOUNG, No. 152 Spruce street, PHILADELPHIA, post-paid.

☞ DR. YOUNG can be consulted on any of the diseases described in his different publications, at his office, 152 Spruce street, every day between 9 and 3 o'clock, Sundays excepted.) 35y1

The People's Friend.

T. T. Pond's, of Ithaca, N. Y., Pain Destroyer and Healing Extract.

AN Extract from the shrub called Witch hazel and purely from that, with the exception of a little Alcohol to preserve it.

It will cure all local pain and inflammation, old sores, fresh wounds and bruises, Piles, and all diseases of the bowels of a chronic nature, tooth-ache, ear-ache, and an excellent remedy for females, &c.

It is truly what it professes to be, "THE PEOPLE'S FRIEND." Providence has scattered along the rugged paths of life many things that contribute greatly to the comfort and happiness of every body; hence their great value, as I well may they be called "Friends of the People."

One word here to guard against imposition. A man by the name of Spencer has manufactured and offered for sale a spurious article called the "Corn Extract" which would be extract from the bazel-nut—the genuine is as white and pure as water, while the spurious article is colored; which enables the public to distinguish.

None genuine but those marked Pond's Pain Destroyer.

Liver Complaint,

Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Chronic or Nervous Debility, Diseases of the Kidneys,

AND all diseases arising from a disordered liver or stomach such as constipation inward piles fullness or blood to the head, acidity of the stomach, nausea, heart burn, disgust for food, fullness or weight in the stomach, sour eructations, sinking or fluttering at the pit of the stomach, swimming of the head, hurried or difficult breathing, fluttering at the heart, choking or suffocating sensations when in a lying posture, dimness of vision, dots or webs before the sight, fever and dull pain in the head, deficiency of perspiration, yellowness of the skin and eyes, pain in the side, back, chest, limbs &c., sudden flushes of heat, burning in the flesh, constant imaginings of evil, and great depression of spirits, can be effectually cured by

Dr. Hoofland's celebrated German Bitters.

Prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, at the German Medicine store, 120 Arch street Philadelphia.

Their power over the above diseases is not excelled, if equalled, by any other preparation in the United States, as the cures attest, in many cases after skilful physicians had failed.

These bitters are worthy the attention of invalids.—Possessing great virtues in the rectification of diseases of the Liver and lesser glands, exercising the most searching power in weakness and affections of the digestive organs, they are withal, safe, certain, and pleasant.

Read and be Convinced.

The Editor of the Boston Bee said, December 22d—

Dr. Hoofland's Celebrated German Bitters, for the cure of Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Chronic, or Nervous debility, is deservedly one of the most popular medicines of the day. These Bitters have been used by thousands, and a friend at our elbow says he has himself received an effectual and permanent cure of Liver Complaint from the use of this remedy. We are convinced that, in the use of these bitters, the patient constantly gains strength and vigor—a fact worthy of great consideration. They are pleasant in taste and smell, and can be used by persons with the most delicate stomach, with safety under any circumstances. We are speaking from experience, and to the afflicted we advise their use

Scott's Weekly, one of the best literary papers published, said, August 25th—

"Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, manufactured by Dr. Jackson, are now recommended by some of the most prominent members of the medical faculty as an article of much efficacy in cases of female Weakness. As such is the case, we would advise all mothers to obtain a bottle, and thus save themselves much sickness. Persons of debilitated constitutions will find these Bitters advantageous to their health. As we know from experience the salutary effect they have upon weak systems."

More Evidence.

The Philadelphia Saturday Gazette, the best family paper published in the United States, says of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters—

"It is seldom that we recommend what are termed Patent Medicines, to the confidence and patronage of our readers, and therefore when we recommend Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters we wish to be distinctly understood that we are not speaking of the nostrums of the day, that are noised about for a short period and then sink into merited oblivion, but of a medicine long established, universally approved, and which has met the hearty approval of the faculty itself."

Look well to the marks of the genuine. They have the written signature of C. M. JACKSON upon the wrapper and his name blown in the bottle, without which they are spurious.

Advt., Wm Field, M. W. G. M. Cyrus Fisher, M. E. H. P., James Hutchinson, G. S. Dea. V. J. Bates, Doct Benj Colby, and one hundred others of the most respectable families of Providence.

This certifies that I have for a number of years been acquainted with the composition and mode of manufacture of Morse's Compound Syrup of Yellow Dock Root. I have also been acquainted with its modus operandi in disease, and can say that in all respects it is admirably calculated to remedy that class of Diseases for which it was designed. It is especially valuable in Indigestion and all its attendant symptoms. It excites to healthy action the Liver, removes Torpor, and inactivity of this Organ, and stimulates health-action in all the system. As a Depurator or purifier of the Blood it has no superior.

FIFTY dollars forfeit, Dr. Hunter will forfeit $50 if failing to cure any case of secret disease that may come under his care, no matter how long standing or afflicting. Either sex are invited to his Private Rooms, 38 North Eighth st. Phila. without fear of interruption from others. Strangers and others who have been unfortunate in the selection of a Physician are invited to call.

IMPOTENCY—Through unrestrained indulgence of the passions, by excess or self-abuse, the evils are numerous. Premature impotency, involuntary seminal discharges, wasting of the organs, loss of memory, a distaste for female society, general debility, or constitutional derangement, are sure to follow. Those so severely consult the Doctor with confidence; he offers a perfect cure.

HEAD AND REFLECT.—The afflicted would do well to reflect before trusting their health, happiness, and in many cases their lives, in the hands of physicians ignorant of this class of maladies. It is certainly impossible for one man to understand all the ills the human family are subjected to. Every respectable physician has his peculiar branch, in which he is more successful than his brother professors, and to that he devotes most of his time and study.

YEARS OF PRACTICE, exclusively devoted to the study and treatment of diseases of the sexual organs, to-wit: those with ulcers upon the body, throat, nose, or legs; pains in the head, or bones, mercurial rheumatism, strictures, gravel, irregularities, diseases arising from youthfulness, or impurities of the blood, whereby the constitution has become enfeebled, enables the Doctor to offer speedy relief to all who may place themselves under his care.
