Montrose, March 16, 1854. I do not wish for Wealth.

BY J. S. HIBBARD. I do not wish for worldly wealth, Or seek to gather golden store; The miser's heart is charred in stealth, And withered to its inmost core. No! while I've strength, and cheer, and health. I'll be content, though mean and poor-Nor strive by cunning craft or stealth

To heap up riches more and more. Though not attired in colors bright, Or smartly dress in silken shoon, I covet not the flattering light Of those that would forget me soon; For I can toil from morn to night, Nor heed the sultry heat of noon; And though I cannot have my right, My heart shall sing a cheerful tune.

It matters not to me that men Still greedy strive for gain and gold; They'll find twas labor all in vain, When time has made them weak and old; Their hollow friends surround them when The grave vawns deep, and dark, and cold What peace for hearts, when racked with pain, If unto Mammon pledged and sold?

They heeded not the widow's tear, They never cared for orphan's cry, Nor helping hand stretched far or near, To stay the sufferer's bursting sigh; Then, who for them shall have a care Who cares for hearts all black and dry? They live in gloom, and doubt, and fear, And all alone sink down to die.

I'll live for worth, and strive to show An honest heart to all around. And pleasure's luring marts abound. In warmth of heart and cordial glow-With truthful men, whenever found, My life with sparkling cheer shall flow, Although I've neither gold nor ground.

After Dr. Franklin had left the circle, Mr. Greely wanted to get the manuscript for publication in the Tribuue. But Gov. Tallmadge thought it would be better to send it to some Western locality; and suggested Wis. or Iowa. After considerable debate upon the subject, it was voted to be sent to Pennsylvania as a great central State, and to the Pittsburgh Morning Post, as a worthy medium for giving to the world a revelation so important to all who cheat or Patronise the Press.

Rich Scene.

Rather a rich scene in the way of a mariage occurred at the American House in Juncan, on the 11th inst. A couple were anxious to assuine the responsibilities of matri-nonial life, and accordingly started for Pails, Tubs, Moss, Founders, Baskets, Rocking, "Cretna," of Dodge County. It seems there had been an engagement between her and the disaprointed vouth to the effect that a similar cermony should be performed for their joint benefit on the succeeding day. Their arrival was timely, being just as the anzious couple were about to pronounce that misterious little yes, which should forever make them one. There stood the almost groom trembling like a whipped kitten. The bride exhibited considerable firmness and self possession, suddenly found herself taken forcible possession of by the unfortunate lover, and forced to listen to rather an animated lecture upon her duplicity. The candidate for matrimonial honors thinking himself unable to maintain his rights against so many, betook himself to one of the proprietors, told the story of his wrongs, and begged that his fair one might be restored to him. And to prove this assertion, we defy any person to produce so many well authenticated Certificates of scientific Physicians and attelligent patients as may be found in a pamphlet of 36 pages, to be had (gra-tis) of the agent in this town. The Electric Chains were first introduced in France in 1850, and after being subjected to the most thorough and rigid trial; by the first medical menin, Paris, they were found to possess strange and mirvellous power for reliev-ing pain, wherever applied, and by their influence wele introduced into the hospitals of that city, and also secured letters patest by the French Government. Strange that countless human beings exist and drag through life as do the beasts of the field, or the insects of the earth, evincing no more thought or reflection than though the noble faculties of mind or renection than though the thous latest to infinity were not rouchsafed to them.

Many such are husbands and fathers, upon whom are dependent the health, the well-being, and the happiness of a confiding and affectionate wife, with perhaps a family of children. · now often it happens that the WIFE LINGERS FROM YEAR TO YEAR In that pitiable condition as not even for one day to feel the happy and exhiberating influence incident feel the happy and exhilerating influence incident to the enjoyment of health.

She may not be an invalid confined to her bed, or even to her room; as her pride, ambition and energy induce and nerve her to take personal charge of her household, even when her health will not admit of it; but she is nevertheless perceptibly sinking from day to day, and always siling.

Thus, day after day, and month after month transpire. Her health daily sinks, till family even the hope of recovery no longer remains. And thus THE BLOOMING BRIDE

But a few years ago in the flush of health and youth, and buoyancy of spirits, rapidly, and apparently inexplicably, becomes a feeble, sickly debilitated wife, with frame emaciated, nerves unstrung, spirits depressed, countenance bearing the impress of suffering, and an utter physical and mental prosterations. Sometimes this deplorable change may and does arise from organic or constitutional causes. But effect, by far oftener, to gross and inexcusable ignorance of the simplest and plainest rules of health as connected with the marriage state, the violation of which entails disease, suffering and misery, not only to the wife, but often

Shall we be wise in all that concerns the cattle of our fields, our horses, all that concerns the cattle of our fields, our horses, our sheep, our cows, our oxen, the nature and character of the soil we possess, the texture and quality of our goods and merchandise; but in all that concerns durselves as human beings, with human functions and passions, subject to great derangement, involving our future peace and happinessin all that concerns the health and welfare of the wife of our affections, and the mother of our children; in all that concerns the mental and physical well being of those children, we should be immersed in the darkest and most

How long shall this ignorance prevail so produc-tive of its bitter fruits? How long shall the wife and mother be ignorant of the nature character and and mother be ignorant of the nature; character and anuses of the various womb and sexual complaints, embittering her days by suffering—suffering often prolonged to years, eventuating in a complication of diseases utterly and hopelessly incirable? Shall we for ever close our eyes to the results of physiological science by which we may arrive at an understanding of ourselves as men and women, subject to serious life-long enduring diseases and perpetuating them to our children.
