The following verses were written in March last, by James O'Day, then a patient at the Binghanton Water Cure, formerly of Chothe Binghaniton Water Cure, formerly of Cho-conut, son of Mr. Dennis ODay, in this village conut, son of air. Dennis O Day, in this village and whose decease by consumption we were re-cently called upon to publish. Mr. O'Day was an amiable, uncomplaining young man, and his lines, not without poetic merit, breathe a plain-tive tone, and recall afresh the remembrance of his early and melancholy death.

To Jennic. Behold yon youth, who with smiles so bright Is quaffing nature up; Is the holy beam of a sister's sight, With affection's glittering cup.

Ab! little he thinks of the lonely one, Whom never had sister dear-To sharo with him the golden sun Or old boreas cold and drear.

A score of pleasant summer times Have I trod this sphere alone, Without one kindred heart in chimes Of love, to meet my own.

But when, o'er my flushed and fever'd br Disease has cast its chains ; Still more I felt, that a sister's yow To love, would soothe its pains.

Twas then, when at my " Mountain Home, The invalid's sad retreat-A spirit came, as if from the dome O'er the Immortal's Regal Seat.

A spirit mild, in whose gentle heart Each virtue blooms entwined-As in the Rainbow, when showers depart, Each color is found combined.

That noble soul did pity take On the lone one drooping low : And did of him a brother make, To love in weal or woe.

No longer now I stand alone. Without one friend so dear; For I have pressed a si-ter's hand-Have felt a sister's tear.

Ah ? yes dear girl, a sisters love Thou hast kindly given to me; But I may still, soon bear above-A brother's love for thee.

Those gentle words, that sunny smile, Have on my soul impressions made-That calm each fear, each hour beguile And drive from me death's lonely shade.

But now like a meteor of love, to light A heart as fond as thine own----Thou art gone where the sunset is lingering bright, To cheer that sad heart, now so lone.

May God in his kindness Still watch o'er theo thero' And keep thee in blindness raromized by the Nobility and Accircuit Furning of Explained and estcemed the most extraordinary medicine in the world. Medicines containing molasses or liquorice, like the boasted Saraparilias, require many large bottles to pro-duce the slightest change in lealth. The Forest Wine is sltogether a different article. It contains no syrups to give it consistency, but acquires its excellent flavor, and powfrid medicinal properties from the vrgetable platts of which it is composed. The Forest Wine combines the virtues of the Wild Cherry, Dandelion, Vellow Deck, and Saraparilla, with other valuable plants whose properties are still more effective. Its high concentration renders it one of the most efficient medicines now in use. Sometimes less than a single bottle restores the lingering patient from weakners, debility, and lickners, to strong and rigorous health. Every dose shows its good effects on the constitution, and improves that at of the health. The Forest Wine is recommend-ed, like a strongest terms, fur all the complaints of the GPS Stolems, Liver, Kidneys, Nerrous Disorders, Billious Affection, Dropsy, Dyspensia, Low of Apoetie. Whether in Male or Female, from whitever cause they may have originated and no matter of how long standing If you have contracted the terrible disease which, when once scated in the system, will survey go down from one generation to another, undermining the constitution and sapping the very vital fluids of life, do not trust yourself in the hands of Quacks, who start up every day in a city like this, and fill the papers with glaring faileshoods, too well calculated to develve the young and those not ac-quainted with their tricks. You cannot be too cureful in the selection of a remedy in these cases. The Fluid Extract fluchu has been pronounced by emi-nent Physicians the greatest remedy erer known. It is a medicine perfectly pleasant in its tasts and very innocent in its action, and yet so thorough that it anynihilates every particle of the rank and pol onoun virue of this dreadful disaase; and, unlike othes remedies, it does not dry up the discase in the blood. ond Series, for sale at the Post Office. By order of the Directors: This article is now prescribed by some of 1 his article is now prescribed by some of the more distinguished Physicians it the country, and has proved more disjont in practice than any preparation of Sarasparilla yet offered to the public. Several cases of secondary Synbilis. Mercental and Scroulous diseases have entirely recorred in the incurable wards of our Pub-lic Institutions which had for many years resisted every mode of treatment that could be devised. These cases fur-nish striking examples of the salutary effects of this medi-cine in arresting some of the most inveterate diseases, af-feded.

From sin-is the prayer of thy brother. Binghamton Republican.
