

peace. At an early hour crowds wended their way to the Capitol, and the galleries, particularly that of the House, are crowded to excess, and many are unable to find accommodations.

The United States Supreme Court met this morning, all the members but the Chief Justice being present.

Dispatches by the Atlantic represent our affairs with England as wholly unchanged since the departure of the Canada. Mr. Buchanan says that Lord Clarendon and the British Cabinet are endeavoring to patch up a reply to our Government's communication in reference to the violation of our neutrality laws by British agents, in order, if possible, not to wound our sensitiveness, and at the same time shield Mr. Crampton.

Our Government has formally acted on the memorial of Denmark, proposing a capitalization of a tax according to the value of the crops, in lieu of the present land, duties and duties. The proposition is generally regarded as being likely to night. It is generally understood that the Republicans and Free-Soilers will concentrate to-morrow on Banks, and numbering 123, they will be sufficient to elect him.

Several of Southern Know-Nothing and National Democratic Whigs, numbering 73, caused to request all fusion with the Free Soil factions, but have no hope of defeating them.

Masses, Greeley, Wood and Seward, have been working all day to feel the factions, and are understood to have succeeded.

We may look for the organization of the House to-morrow, and the President's Message on Wednesday.

A SECOND DISPATCH.

The National American will to-morrow vote for Mr. Fuller, and endeavor to draw the entire Democratic vote for him by conceding to them the Clerk and Printer, thus forming a Union party against the Free-Soil factions. They deny that the Republicans can win a political party more than one hundred and five votes, while one hundred and thirteen are necessary to elect.

The President persists in refusing to print the Message.

34th Congress--First Session.

WASHINGTON, Saturday, Dec. 1, 1855. At a meeting of the Democratic members of the Thirty-fourth Congress, held in the hall of the House of Representatives on the evening of the 30th of December, 1855, Hon. George W. Jones of Tennessee was elected Chairman, and Hon. Wm. H. English and Thomas Ruffin of North Carolina were elected Secretaries.

The following resolutions, introduced by Hon. Glancy Jones of Pennsylvania were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the Democratic members of the House, in their opinion, through a minority in the body, deem this a fit occasion to tender to their fellow citizens of the whole Union their hearty congratulations on the triumph, in the recent elections in several of the Northern, Eastern and Western States, of the principles of the Kansas-Nebraska bill, and their devotion to civil and religious liberty, which has been vigorously asserted by a secret political Order, known as the Know-Nothing party; and although in a minority, ever holding to be our highest duty to preserve our organization, and continue our efforts in the maintenance and defense of these principles, and the constitutional rights of every section and every class of citizens, against their opponents of ever detraction whatsoever, and to this end we look with confidence to the support and approbation of all good and true men, for friends of the Constitution and the Union throughout the Union.

The meeting then proceeded to select candidates for various offices connected with the organization of the House, when the following gentlemen were nominated by acclamation:

Speaker--William A. Richardson of Illinois.

For Clerk--A. P. Banks of Virginia.

Doorkeeper--Mr. McKnew.

Sergeant at arms--Mr. Glosbrener of Pennsylvania.

Postmaster--Mr. Johnson.

Printer--Cornelius Wendell of New York.

There were between fifty and sixty members present at the caucus, and everything went off harmoniously. It lasted about an hour.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3, 1855.

SENATE--The Senate was called to order at noon, and new members were sworn in.

HOUSE--Mr. Forney, the Clerk, called the House of Representatives to order at noon. The confusion which existed up to this time abruptly terminated.

Two hundred and twenty-five Members answered to their names.

On motion of Mr. Jones of Tennessee the House proceeded to the election of a Speaker. Viva voce nominations were made with the following result:

Mr. Richardson of Illinois.....17

Mr. Fuller of Pennsylvania.....17

Mr. Campbell of Ohio.....13

Mr. Pennington of New Jersey.....7

Mr. Marshall of Kentucky.....30

Mr. Banks of Massachusetts.....21

Some others were also voted for. No election, 113 being necessary to a choice. Much interest is manifested in the contest.

The following is the vote on the first ballot for Speaker:

NEW VOLUME, 1856.

THE "GALAHAD" American Monthly Magazine--Established in 1827--Devoted to Literature, Art and Fashion.

The New Volume, commencing with the January number, 1856, will contain over two hundred pages of the most interesting and readable fiction, and will also contain a splendid steel engraving plate of the Paris Fashions, on which is delineated every new mode, and is illustrated with elegant and original illustrations: Prose and Poetry; an Editor's Table; Reviews of New Books; Monthly Summary; Hints on Fashion, and Fashionable Intelligence; Patterns for Sewing, and new Music.

The Steel Engravings will embrace finely executed portraits of the celebrated lady-writers of the day, interspersed with a variety of other subjects of general interest.

The Fashion Plates are engraved on Steel, after the latest Paris Fashions, giving out and in-door costumes for the month. They have been pronounced superior to those published in any other American Periodical.

The Wood Engravings will be of the highest finish, and by our best artists.

The Literary Matter will consist of Historical, Biographical and Literary Essays, Sketches of Travel, Fine Arts, Novels, Tales, Romances, etc. The Novels and romances of G. G. are uniformly superior to those published in any other American periodical.

The Editor's Table is made up of Humorous Sketches and Anecdotes, Foreign, Domestic and Literary Gossip.

The Monthly Summary of Current Events, prepared by H. C. gives a condensed account of the principal events, which have taken place in the world, during the preceding month.

The Reviews of New Books form the pen of the most celebrated writers of the day.

The Fashion Articles, by Genio C. Scott, present a correct and comprehensive account of the new styles of Dresses, Bonnets, Mantillas, Shawls, Embroideries, and everything relating to Fashion, of interest to ladies.

The Needlework Patterns for Collars, Under-shirts, Caps, Berthas, Skirts, Embroideries for Handkerchiefs, and general Needlework, are numerous and beautifully designed.
