Terrible Accident. APPENED to Mr. Green the other-day.—

I. He had bought a suit of ready-made clothes at the Store, and the first day's wearing the agcident occurred. First, off drapt his cont tail by the mere force of specific gravity, giving to unfortunate man the apperance of a badly trimmed craft with the flying jib in the stern, and on scooping over to pick up the remnant, the dreadful manualty took place—the fognisins of the great deep were broken up. Green's pants were sundered from ankle to waist and from the charges in the City. anndered from ankle to waist, and Green himself seemed to be. The only way to prevent such deplorable accidents is to patronize a skillful raiton, who makes up, his work with a determina-tion that it shall not only fit really, but went well. Green buys at the clothing store because well. Green buys at the clothing store because he thinks he can get his gearing a little cheaper. In all hardability, the panta that served him so treacherously had passed through a lever hospital, been striped from a cholora patient, carried home eight nights in the week on a shutter, and finally bleached and movied by an ingenious Frenchman for a market in the country. Take warding by poor Green's mishian, and go to greatly tailor about like that in the basment of Searley Hotel if you want to be suited.
