

For the Democrat. Tribute to the Wyoming Monment Musings incited on visiting the bottle ground of the Indian Massacre of Wyoming val-ley, Pa

Rest, warrior; rest, In thy grave, so blest With deeds of fame, and blood ! Though thy bones lie cold, Yet thy fame's enroll'd On the scroll of the war-king god. In the cold, cold ground, They have lain thee down To rest in glory's bed : Fond mothers weep. As the angels keep Strict vigils round thy bed.

Bright laurel twine O'er the hallow'd shrine A wreath, to the warilor brave; And-maidens Vair, Are gathering there Fresh flowers, to strew thy grave.

The low winds moan, In a monotone, All night a dirga to thee; And the sea-hird king, Does the requium sing. As morn breaks o'er the lea.

Then warrior rest. In thy grave, so, bigst. With deeds of fame, and blood ! Though the bones lie cold, Thy fance's enroll'd On the scroll of the war-king god. E. F. WILMOT, M. D.

Great Bend, Pa. Miscellaneous. From Tait's Mogazine. TARY SUTHERLAND. CONCLUDED

See, Miss Sutherland,' said Cecil, thave I mature, was n't it ? Yes,' said Mary quietly.' natural his sister should eachestly desire his until the right moment comes, and if it be to body and mind. She pressed the letter to marriage she knew how keenly he felt her God's will that we part, as it seems we shall, her his and retraced in memory, all her in-

Well, I can hardly believe it, but mamhe know all. ms says his voice was quite broken when he. poke of the past, and said that his hopes was soon put to a test, and a severe one .-could never now be realized. Who could it have been 1. I think she must have refused he was seized with fever ; and though it she saw Cecil again, and herself, not Alice, him: you know he had not a penny in those davs.

con-clousness of her pre-soice. He would not moon-beams rolled away, and a cloud dark-Mary stooped over the snowy cloud of accept even his mother's in its stead, nor ened the casement'; but she slept on. Then would he hear Cecil's entrance into the room the carriage wheels woke the echocs of the fill. At one time there was good sleighing mbridery, and seemed to be tracing out its marvellous intricacies; but she' made not wi hout evincing so much excitement as to night, and for a few short hours the same rook forbid a repetition of the attempt. With his was to shelter her and him she loved. Still burning hand in Mary's he lay day after day she slept; and the sounds died away, and nnssier. 'I must be off and send for the dressmaker," said Alice, gathering it up, and and when she moistened his lips, or renewed silence reigned again, save that the wind thinking, as she did so, what a stund, inani- the cooling application to his head, he never and the sea answered each other with a failed to acknowledge it, if it was only by the mournful and prophetic wail ng. Rut the mate piece of good- that governess was. sleeper slept on. Mary, left alone, tried vainly to settle to gratefal-look in his eyes-those eyes so like Ah ! why does she start so wildly, and her usual employments, ther were copies to Cecil's. Thus, in the last few days, so inex be set in the writing books for that afternoon pressibly precious to one at least, Mary and what glow is that upon her face ? upon the bed and upon the wall, upon her uplified and the began to mend a pen for that pur- Cecil were effectually separated, and the time fose; but tears gathered in her eves, and her for parting drew near ; for he was to join his hands ? Yes I and even upon the broad wahands tiembled. She put it aside and sat ship, which lay off Farleigh, immediately ters it east that livid glare. No hue of sunrise is yet, but fierce and flickering, as though down to think. Who could it have been of after the ball, and that was only two days lit were the bloodly shadow of some huge whom Cecil's thought were so full, that he off. The time passell slowly-how slowly to must send a whisper of his love acros the seal Mary no one guessed. She saw little of Al- tongue, licking up the red waters. Was it some fair creature who had captivated lice, except up at a distance; for the utmost With a erv of horror, Mary sprang to her feet, and threw open the window. Dense his fancy on the threshold of tife, and by she old was to open the door now and then. the influence of her beauty stimulated kim and with her handkerchief over her pretty masses of smoke rolled past; and as they to exertion when his prospects were clouded | month, to ask nervously if the fever lessened. cleared away, there, upon the cliff, upon the and his hopes dashed to the ground ? Or The window of Grenville's room, however' wings of the frighted sea bird- everywhere was it rather, as her heart told lier, no other commanded the garden ; and there she often was, that anearthly glare. As the truth then herself, Thom he had watched and cher- watched her walking with Cecil, or reclining dashed on her, and she wrung her hands in ished long, long ago, and seen in silence given by his side ; and so sofily rounded was every despair, the selemn tolling of the fire-bell sounded from the cliff, and she heard disto another? She remembered suddenl call outline of the figure, that it would have been the generosity of that unliceded love; she a study of grace and freshness, had not a tinetly the shouts for help, and the dragging on its gloomy bed of anthereite. Something recalled how warmly he had defended Aleck certain conscionsness, and striving for effect, down of chests and furniture from other told the child that death was busy with its Laurence, when occasionally she had come marred all. The strain upon Mary's spirits parts of the house. She was alone, then, out heart. It might have been an angel, for anplained before him of some trilling neglect to just then was very great, and sometimes even of the reach of aid, in the tower-none Arthur or to herself, and how, half playfully, that sight was more than she could bear .-- [ would ever date to rescue the post governess. Fough of poverty.

he had dwelt from time to time on the lad's The gul was so fair -- what if in his loadi | But Greaville, the child ! She raihed to fresh beauty, until her cheeks had glowed ness Cecil should turn to her ? How could the door; the air was sufficing, the hot woman knelt beside h with pleasure. Many mother proof of his she bear to know that he had taken to his planks scorehed her feet; it was too plain now 1-look I look !

Cecil's acparture.

generosity, and, as it seemed of his affectional bosom that hollow, triffing heart, on which that flueres had ganed ground, and cot || For the twentieth time the sickly woman mose in her memory ; and then came bitter his could no more lean than could an oak them off from the hope of succor. Still she lifted the tiny box of violets, and the blood mestionings-had it ceased forever? -had upon a stripling ash. And straight way peor | would try to save him. With a strength she rushed to her face as she beheld one little fallen off from her as unworthy of so pro- Alice's faults; her egotism, her cohluess, and hever dreampt of of possessing, she seized the bud drooping but just beginning to unfold. cious a gift ? There was no answer-it her vanity, were magnified, until Mary started sleeping boy and hore him down the scorch- She carried it to the child, almost an infant, first estate. But if we retire from temptation night be that he was repelled and disgusted it find how far from Cecil's ideal of woman- ing stairs, unconscious of his weight. One and a sweet smile lighted up his innocent by her apparent fickloness in shaking off that hood her morbid fancies had carried her - glance from his window had told her all - features.

tion. It was a pretty sight. The delicate smoke poured in. She closed her own door, and tremalous, as though the failing voice er, f.om her lips. Was it possible ? or was the share is the set of the set o and frees shining lived with the for availant mon his pillow and forth their buds. 1832. On three mornings the mercury I must bear it as he would have me, could tercourse through joy and sorrow with the writer; but the moon soon shone upon her was from 4 to 6 below zero.

Mary's love for Mis. Hardwick's little son sleeping face, and though it was pale and 1835. On several mornings the mercury blistered with tears, it seemed to rest there in Philadelphia was from 2 to 4 deg. below fer suffering from headache for some days, fondly, as on something holy. In her dreams zero. At Albany on the 6th Jan. it stood at 28 below. quickly produced delirium, he never lost his white-robed and smiling by his side. The and 10th of Jan, nearly three feet of snow from the Ohio river to the Bay of Fundy. 1843. A remarkable mild and pleasant swer the demands of justice and pay the penmonth in Philadelphia, though intensely stormy and cold even in its vicinity, and particularly toward the north. At Montreal and Queilec the mercury sunk 36 below zero. 1845. But very few instances occurred in which the mercury sunk below the freezing 1852. On the 20th of Jan. 1852, the mercury sunk to 211 deg. below zero. I has not gone down to zero since, in January, until 1856.

The Dying Boy and the Violets.

A little sufferer lay in a high, dreary garret, and the beams above his head and on very side were black and foul. His cheek was scarlet with the flush of fever, and the unnatural light of his eye flashed in the dimhess of the coming evening like a diamond on its gloomy bed of anthercite. Something | drance of our preperation for the next for I gels gather in bands pround the despised woman knelt beside him, ' is there one blown lay of our city election; and at the 4th meditations of one who maketh praver the

After the rough pine coffin was carried

Shocking Murder-K. N. Brutality.

of the most outrageous acts of murder, every witnessed in open day in a civilized and peaceful community. Yesterday was the the morning. Wm. Miller stabbed an Irishman named Toomas Powers, in the right side of the abdomen, which caused his death in about 25 or 80 minutes. Miller was the Know Nothing candidate for Marshall, and while we do not pretend to hold all the in-that it was the indirect result of the dark, secret bigoted Know Nothing conspiracies must be held up to the gaze of outraged hu-six years, always attending the polls with a more Know Nothing, and been more effici-en generally in various labors of the secret was a delegate from this county to the in the most unprovoked manner, assaulted a owing circumstances :

Our city on Thursday was shocked by one

Still it was me bold and forward. No; I must leave it days had been in xpressibly wearying both shade, while early shrubbery and trees, put of night to swear you to love your country! Behold the party who must take exre of your rights, and watch over the peace of your homes. Behold them baptise their chief rulers in blood, and " rule America" by the assassin's knife. We do not pretend that all the members of the party suction such wickedness ; fat. from it; but it seems to us that many who have not heretofore seen the ruinous influence 1836. During a snow storm on the 9th and results of the teachings of Know Nothing order, will at last have their eyes open. As to the murderer himself, we leave ...him to the operation of the laws of the country with the hope that he may be made to analty he owes to outraged society, but nothing more. Let him be taken if possible, according to law, and be tried according to law. He has wilfally shed the blood of his fellow man without cause, and taken that life which he cannot give, but let the seutence of the law be his condemnation .-- Vincennec (Ind.) Courant.

I Will Retire from Ensiness and Prepare for Another World."

Who is there who hath not heard some bonest pains-taking men uttering some such saving as this, when old age is coming on f Yet, well meant as this may be, and plausable as it may sound to the unthinking, I know no greater, though alas, no more common error than this notion, that the common engagements of this world are a hindo surely believe, and I think I have the war-

rapt of scripture and reason therefore, that we were sent into this probationary state to "Mother,' he whispered, and a pale, bent | the end that our souls might learn experience among the diverse circumstances of active life, so as to know good from evil, and never to hazzard the falling from glory when once -attained, by any such mistake as was commitfed by those spinits that kept not their

> we dony ourselves the schoolings which God appointed for our better teaching, and so far propared well for another world, albeit his ocations of this world, hath in it more of the Instead, therefore, of seeking a discharge round the head of age, making grey hairs perfect,' in the next .- An Exposition of Val-gar Errors, by Thomas Brown Redivious ; elled throat, and lings as large as two bushbaskets, enabled him to electrify bis . conutuents up to a fighting point in less time han it would take for a Susquebanas raft to 20 over Niagra Falls. His great upsech delivered in Bob Brubb's ten sere lot, was a orusher. For the sake of posterity we give in extract : " FELLOW CITIZENS - You might jist as vell try to pry up the Atlantic ocean with a room straw, or draw, this ere stump from unler my feet with a harnessed gad fly, as t) convince me that I ain't gwine m be elseed this lient. My opponent don't stand a chance-not a sniff. Why he ain't as intellestual as a common sized shad. Fellers, I am a hull team with two bull dogs under the wagon and a tar bucket-1 and If there's any body this side of what this sub beins to blieter the earth that kin wailop me let bim show himself-I'm ready. Boys I go in for the American pagle-claws, stars, stripes and all, and may 'I bust my everlastin' button holes, ef I don t knock down, drag out, and gouge everybody as denics it. WASHING WINDOWS .- A COrrespondent of the American Agriculturist gives the following improved mode of washing windows which although not altogether new to all, may be valuable to many of our readers :---

'I have a great aversion to scouring knives, and never touch brick-dust if. I can help it ; but if their brightness dep ad on me, I prefer to rub them three times a day rather than one, for it is less labor, and they last longer.

The nicest article for washing windows is deer-skin, as no particles come off to adhere to the glass, and make it look as if washed with feathers. There is no need of any thing larger then a hand basin for washing windows. The great splashing some people make in the exercise of their arts is entirely useless and is moreover, deleterious. Wash leather and a bowl ot, suds are all appointed for our better teaching, and so far that are necessary. Wipe the glass first from avoiding the temptation to evil, we in- with the wet cloth or leather, and after it bot found Allee a that he had shown so little golden sand, and set about with all these changed and dependent position, and that treasures of the deep. I verily believe the gray old sea left it pprposely behind him, and gallantly ranged round it those pearly shells

Mary looked. Deep in the transparent pool Alice Hardwick's fair face shone outevery dimple round the mouth, every dancing light upon the soft curls, was there: and over her shoulder Cecil's broad forehead and rance of the tru h. half michievous eves. M iv looked for her

She was roused from her train of thought own face, and almost started. The cruje veil which hung heavily about it made it by a cry from the garden, and, ha-tity vising. appear paler than it really was; the brow opened the window, Little Granville apwas contracted; the lips compressed. She peared to be the culprit for Cecil held him by she scarcely knew before that the freshness Mary could catch the words- What, str ! Pevery detail, even to the faultless gloves and again, in her agony. Cecil's name broke foud- of violets. of her youth had so faded. Perhaps it was are you such a coward as to strike your sisthe glowing contrast so_ near; but at all ter? She ran out in defence of her pet, events, it made her sigh, and this time the but metablarlotte on the steps, solving out regret was unclocked, for it was a sigh over that Granville had struck her face, and she what had been once-over her vanished 'should go and tell' mamina. She could not youth, with all its wasted fancies and dead discover the cause it her quarrel, nor who hopes. Alice seemed to feel no such dissat-infaction; but gazed and smiled complacent-child, and the hing her face, which was really braised, left lier and wont out. Granville ly, as well she might. had thrown himself on the grass, and was Cecil,' she said, ' shall I tell you what I did come out for ?' He nodded. 'Well, it was to beg's favor could inneter dignity enough to repress him, of you.'

with some difficulty she learned that Char-Of me ? lotte had irritated him by calling Mary names 'Yes, sir; of you. Men fulk are not so and finally by trampling down a minute rose plentiful here but that they can make themtree, whose one bud had been dedicated to selves very useful if they will I want to go to the Race-ball next week-will you take Mary from the time it appeared, and watched day after day with the gicatest care. The how stoully persisted at first that he had only "Why, what a strange chaperon you served his sister right; and even when Mayy's would have, child ! You would only laugh gentle reasoning had convinced him of his at me when you got me there.'

'O ! never fear ; I shall manage von beanfalling alone on him knew no bounds. tifully, if you only consent. And you will, go too, wont you !' she added turning to Marv.

"You forget Miss Sutherland's recent loss." rise to all this angry feeling, by exciting said Cecil hastily, and with a look of annoy-Charlotte's dislike; so, after dealing very

'Ah, to be sure? what a bore ; one can't lightly with the offenders, and effecting a go out in such deep mourning-I did not reconciliation, she sought Coul, to explain s thing of that. But you have not promised what was her own share of the blame. " I need not tell you, Miss Mary? he said yet, cousin.'

Mary heard him give the promise coldly kindly, when he had heard her. that selfenough, as she turned towards the house; command is ab-olu elvi necessary before we yet when she met them at tea, Cacil's smiles can command others. had returned, and even she would not help catching something of Alice's freshness of | and invelue self-command.' spirit as she danced about the room in expec- 'Nay,' he said, taker one victory over tation of her first ball.

CHAPTER XV.

I can never forget in that most beautiful hook of insture-womankind.' The day following, not without a few Mary opened her eves in surprise. sighs, Mary resumed her duties regularly in the schoolroom. The morning was not to wlude, dear Mess Sytherland, to the old pass over without annoyance. Grenpville times-the sail, yet happy old times-when her own room; and feating to meet Mrs. pettishly complained of headache, both chil- we were together last, You are not made in dren showing the effects of their holiday in that stronger harder mould, of which you their restiveness under restraint; and Mary, spoke the other night; yet, when I watched who felt that the few precious hours of inter- you through all that suffering-how pitingly course with Cecil' were slipping fast away. you can never know-I saw only the most showed a considerable degree of irritation in perfect forgetfulness of self, and mastery over ber manner, which only increased the evil. "It is an easy victory where we love,'-Scarcely were the lessons over when Africe burst into the room, a gloud of white dra- said Mary with a touching expression in the pery hanging over her arm. 'O, Miss Suth- depths of her soft eves.

lovely present I have had. It will make the most divine dress for the ball !' and she discate muslin of Iudia, half covered with an ar- gained by such as L' scarcely audible sigh.

more than once he had casually mentioned the fuithful nurse was still at her post, Alice's conward fiercely in those few seconds, for, as Hours passed-the brow grew whiter, the Aleck Laurence's name in their conversa- vanity so far overcame her fears, that she she again passed the door which barred them fingers she clasped were more claimay, the the means of gratifying the animal bathre ; his betrothed, the known condition of young fabric, so jure and ethereal looking, was well and hore the terrified child to the window ; stringgled for utterance. She placed her ear Laurence's affairs, following upon her brothsuited to the searcely matured tigure ; and but she could not comfort him-she could close to his little face, and heard him atter er's death, would suggest to Cecil a natural. the small round arms, polished as ivory, were not even pray. Life had been sad enough : distinctly : explanation of her position ; and that the not shamed by its exceeding whiteness. Mary but was it to end thus, in this suffering hor erv fact of his using that name in her piescould not but think that the drooping shoul- ror, this scorching agony I With Grenville my violets." ence sufficiently proted that he was in ignoders and swelling buse were a little too much in her arms, she recked to and fro ; his pite-

surprise at her

displayed ; but it was hard to find any fault ons voice calling upon his mother-she upon away and covered with the mould, while her in so foir a picture. A choking rose in her God and Cecil. She looked once more des worn fingers were nervously stitching on the throat as she remembered the history of that pondingly, from the window, but the Gizzy ill paid for garment, that mother could see prayers may have been short, and his time Indian wrought tobe; but she corrageously height made her recoil and shudder even a vision of her early buried child in the pure actively employed; even to his dying day. subjued it, and steadled her voice to submite then. There was no hope, then-none : and the inv sain slipper. As Alice left the room, Mary heard another it some indeking demon that, amid the step approaching. She would have fled had erashing timber and echoing bell, answered there been a e ond door ; but she soon per- with words of hope ? The door burst open ceived that the agitation of her visitor was Yes, scorched and blackened as he was, i too great to permit of his observing hers. | was be they would never more be parted Perhaps if she had known that for an hour but pass together through that choking fire y past lie had been upon his knees craving death. She clung to his feet, she covered strength to subdue himself, so far as to give them with her kisses, and he heard her pasher by a word or sign no single pang at that sionate words of love. Back to the window, ast parting-perhaps if she could have known through the hot and darkened air, he bore sobbing with excessive passion. Before she t, her love would have overleapt the reserve her and the child; and as his strong arms of her womanhood, and she would have encircled her, he whispered that even death he threw his lit le arms about her neck, and, thrown herself at his feet before it was too might come now, since he had lived to hear late. But a strong instinct held her back. those words. But the hand of death was not dividual members of the party responsible Ah! Miss Mary," he said, in a forced destined to come in that fiery guise, A hem- for the dreadful deed, yet the glaring fact heerfulness. I need never talk again of let shone in at the window the child was courage : I have thought over this parting lifted up, and gruff voice demanded ' the like the veriest coward"-his voice broke woman, for God's sake !' But Cecil would down, and he added burriedly : I did not not give her up. Down the tottering ladder. down, and he added burnedly : 1 did not not give her up. Down the tottering ladder, manity. This Miller is a notorious character, mean to ask you, but-but-will you re- in those protecting arms, he bore his tragile. He has been an election bully for the last. thember me, Mary,-pill you think of me treasure ; and his feet had scarcely touched fault, his indignation at Cecil's publishment sometimes? Even the dead would fain be the welcome earth, when, when with a fearunforgotien, and I shall be among the dead ful crash the roof fell in. The flames were that he had scoured the woods of Knox Counfor you. My Gost ! and have I brought her for the moment smothered, and a smoking. I that he had scoured the woods of the night, and initiated Mary remembered with self-reproach that for you. My tool and have her hand and blackened min was all that remained of Far-it was probably her own irritability during cover it with kisses ; then it was flung from leigh Grange. Guess the rest. school hours that morning which had given him rather than dropped. She looked up.

Cold Winters. and he was gone. The Evening Balletin has the following in Princeton K. N. convention the other day, And she had not aftered a single word Not a promise of remembrance-not a work regard to cold winters for the last 60 years was active in the proceedings, and we believe, of gratitude or of the love with which her 1797. From the year 1790 until 1797. was appointed a member of the district and heart was breaking. She heard the carriage the thermometor had not reached zero, dur- central committee. He was then nominated wheels roll out of the court, and felt Grening the month of January in Philadelphia. ville's shivering little figure nestle up to her as he whistered in her ear, 'Don't civ dear.' In January 1797 the mercuty on two morn-She roused herself to replace him in bed ings wis 5 degrees below zero at the perma-I am untaralk hasty. She interrupted. with a few tender words ; and then, as she nent Bridge. On the 9th it got down to 13 peaceful, unarmed, unoffending Irishman, and I grees below, and upon the two subsequent sent him unwarned into eternity. The decd watched him fail asleep, she remembered gratefully how, in her last trial. Amy's child. self, a second is comparitively easy. I have mornings, it was 10 below zero. Horses with with its fielde hold on life, had been given seen you achieve one, and it read me a lesson her, as was this little one now, to check the sleighs attached, were driven upon the ice on selfi-hness of her grief, and turn her shoughts the Delaware from Trenton to Philadelphia. even then, in the wants and werkness of oth-

1799. This year the Delnware was closed ers. She had slept by the boys side since by ice from the 22d of January until past the man who offered to vote, but who was chalhis illness, but, to-night, was to return to, middle of March.

Hardwick, or, indeed, any one, until she was 1800. This winter, which lost but little ers and said-- Here is another one of them more calm, she hastily, arranged the sickof its severity before the 20th March, was re- come here to vote, and you tried to vote in room and stole down to bed. The moonlight mukable for the extent of its snows, which the first Ward and was refused;' to which rested full upon her window, and showed her package lying before it. A parting gift fell as far south as New Orleans.

tiom Cecil, she said, instinctively, as she 1805. In Philadelphia the mercury did crossed the room ; and so it was. A small not sink lower than 5 degrees above zero, but then thrust the knife into him. . Miller left relection of books, a case of Eastern workat Albany, Syracuse and Buffalo, the mer- in a few minutes, crossed the Wabash river man-hip, currously designed to hold a numper of volumes in an apparently small space. cuty went down as far as from 15 to 20 de on the ice, hired a sleigh on the other side, Mary had no voice to answer ; but as she parification of parties that we are promised "Beautiful, indeed,' said Mary, with a but her hot tears swelled up to fast that she 1815. On one morning the mercury was pondered idone over his words, it struck her 7 below zero; on another 5 and on two othe by the people. This is the candidate brought irons at popule. for the first time that he might be in igno- had to printe before she could read a line. It 7 below zero; on another 5 and on two othe out by the temperance purty; this is the can-ers 3. This winter was remarkable for the dilate brought out by the party that takes 'Yes,' continued the delighted Alice; rance of the rupture of her engagement - proved to be but a few words, entresting her A down east skipper with a boy was tryit must have cost a little fortune, and will . Could he have spoken in that tone to one by the memory of one they both loved to apsert that it believes there is a God ; this is bridal dress it would make, eh? By the love ? she asket hersel or would be have or sorrow the should ever need a friend. suffering among the poor. bye, she ran on, lowering her voice, 'you talked of warm and I king institute as Within the sover was a bank-note for a hun-1821. This was the coldest January since ters of the Gospel into its folds and swear awkwardness, cried out : 1780, in the U. S. On nine mornings at them to yote for murderers, when nominated; "What sloop is that !" know more of Cecil than we t did you ever blessings to one so lonely as I-with, but a dred pounds, which with the books, he left hear of his being engaged, or in love I single anchor in the wide world for all my her in Arthur's name; and concluded by sunrise the mercury was below zero in Phile This is the candidate of the party that was to because, when I had left the room, mamma wealth of love ! And shall I let this last saving that, if there was any possibility of says he told her that his sister sent him over chance pass and know that he too, may go her desiring his presence in England at some adelphia. On two mornings it was 10 be parify the ballot-box by electing the virtuous intrepid Yankee. "Who commands ber !" low zeros At Brunswick, Me, the mercury to office, and by driving out the old line "Who commands ber ?" demagogues; this is the candidate of the "Well," replied the skipper, "I undertook this dress years ago for some lady she hoped to his grive doudate and heari-stricken-or future time they had not parted forerer. he would marry. She is a devoted exem- shall I tell him all, and let him claim for Mary was conthed by his words, and, plary sort of wife herself, it seems, and when his own, if he will? She blushed deeply, though her inmost heart was aching the laid became sliff in the bulb. ecame sliff in the bulb, 1828. The January of this year was re-rule America. Oh, America I behold your sos wrote in rapturous terms, I dare say - and forgeling there was no ere mar, buried down with a sweet sense that, parted as they To what color does a dogging change a of the fair unknown she forthwith built a her face in her hands; but frame a plan, or were, his protecting love would follow her markably mild, the Delaware being through rulers ! Behold the party-behold the man matrimonial castle for him en Epanne, and put together a speech, by which Open might still. She thought that sleep would mich of they jut on their committee to manage their boy i-It makes him rall Of reply.

will look clear, and far mote so than friend to vistue as that useful weariness which The child's fever had abated, and though that lurid heat. The fire had leapt fever eagely as they watched the flower ---- leaveth no time for a selfish cognition over sed in a dozen pails of water.

THINGS TWO HUNDRED YEARS HENCEsailed into the sick-room in all the glories of in so latally, a selder glow shone through round lips that had so often called her moth- vea, he who, in his daily charge be it what Scene .- Parlor in the house of an elderly gent oppressed any, if fich ;--who hath served kitchen, and waiter ascends in a balloon. Old Gen'-John, fly over to South Amerritruly, and in no way defrauded his employ-ca, and tell Mr. Johnson that I will be hapers, either by negligence or by dishonesty, if py to have him sup with me. Nover mind 'Groud bre. wother-take good care of poor ;--and who hath lived in Christian love your coat, now go.

John leaver, and at the end of five minutes and amity with all his fellow-men, whether connected with by blood or otherwise,-Hath reluins.

John-Mr. Johnson says he will come; he has got to go to the North Pole, for a mo-ment, and then he will be here.

Old Gent-Very well, John. Now start white robes of heaven, bending over the box | . It is not for our ' speaking' that we shall the machine for setting the table, and telbe heard ; and the brief but earnest aspira- egraph to my wife's room, and tell her Mr. hinson is coming, and then brush up my tion of the heart toward God which a wise balloon, for I have an engagement in London. and good man doth use to sanctify the busiat twelve o'clock. ness of the day withal, while pursuing the av-

John flies off to execute his orders, and the old gentleman runs over to the West Indies vitality of religion, than the dwadling for a moment to get a fresh orange.

A PETRIFIED IND:AN - While engaged in ez-Ward polls, at half past eleven o' clock in object of his life, rather than the means of cavating recently, upon the Milwankie and leading that life aright. We pray for sid to La Crosse Railroad, near Schlesengersville, perform our duties ; but to use many pray- Iowa, the workmen came upon the petrified remains of an Indian and with the remains ers and perform few duties, is but a mockery some singular relics of olden times. The and a folly ; for man thus distinguisheth to body was perfect, not having suffered by de-cay. His height at the present time would his own conscience his cowaruice and indolence. Doubtless there is a time when in-be considered gigantic, measuring 7 feet four creasing infirmity way make a man shrink inches. On his breast was a plate of copper from the fatigue of business, and is not at on which were engraved numerous hieroglyphall to be considered as the means of improv- ics, the meaning of which can hardly be imagined. But they are a record of the past-Could these hieroglyphics be read they might unveil some of the mystery which hangs like from all duty, as the means of improving a dark cloud over the history of the red men. club or some such weapon, and it has been the soul, whose true life is the fulfilment of An arrow of considerable strength and curiduty, we shoul I endeavor rather, as age ap ous construction was also found with him. proaches, to cut out for ourselves, occupation especially invites the attention of antiquarisufficient for the diminished power of the ans. chan than any other man in the county. He body, such as shall give room for exercise of A LAWYER POSED. William, stand up, that concern for others, and carlessness of self Who made you, William, do you know !" which form the best grace of youth, and William, who was considered a fool, screwing his face, and looking thoughtful and which may still hover, like a bright halo somewhat bewildered, slowly answered, "Moses. I s'pose." for mushall of the city by that model purity lovely, and giving earnest, even in this life of

"That will do. "Now." said the lawyer party, and the vering had not more than what will be the society of 'just men made addressing the court, "the witness anys he s'poses Moses made bim. This certainly is an intelligent answer, more so than I suppos-ed him capable of giving, for it shows he has some faint idea of the scripture. But I submit, may it please the court, that this is not sufficient to justify his being sworn as witnes."

> " Mr. Judge," said the fool, "may I ask the lawyer a question ?" "Certainly," replied the judge, "ask him

"Wall then, Mr. Lawyer, who do you 'pose made vou ?" "Agron, I s'pose," said the councellor, im taking the witness.

After the mirth had somewhat subsided the Fair an' I did. I just for six months, and witness exclaimed, "Wull, now, we do read ealf; but who'd a thought the tarnal critter bad got in here ?

The poor counsellor was laughed down.

and the next morning, we understand, was showed that the donor had well understood grees below zero. erland, you must come here and see what a * To one of your instincts, and your loving seen in Lawrenceville, Ills. Ho was pursued A Presbyterian price in northers nature, every step toward the right is easy." ber likings. Yet she turned with a sickness went to see a red-hauded gal, but I only call-1810. Though not a severo winter in A at the time of leaving for about four miles, New York, has two smart boys, just old he answered, with emotion ; ' you can little of heart from the delicately carved ebony, and d once. Why so !' Because her, brother had an unpleasant taught to pray, and the efficiency and model merica, the cold was during this month in but finding it impossible to overtake him, the ed once. played a richly embroidered skirt of the deli- | gness at what a cost the victory over self is the chaste binding of some of her especial favorites, unil a letter caught her eve. To tense in Europe. At Moscow the mercury party returned. Here we have the ends-the fruits-of that sbesque of feathery leaves and flowers. seize and open it was the work of an instant; sunk 40 deg, below zero and froze. habit of throwing boot jacks and smoothing of prayer was daily impressed upon them. Both boys had a patch of of "tucker," or "pop" corn in the parden, and the growing blades were watched with intense interest. be the admiration of everybody. What a whom he had despised, or even censed to head despised, or even censed to head and for great such especial pains in all its meetings to aster of a Liverpool packet, who had been their industry. One day, the fither walking affering among the poor. 1821. This was the coldest January since the condidute of that party that takes minis-1821. This was the coldest January since the condidute of that party that takes minis-1821. This was the coldest January since the condidute of that party that takes minis-1821. This was the coldest January since the condidute of that party that takes minis-1821. This was the coldest January since the condition of the conditio "The Sally, from Maine," responded the Lord make my corn grow great big core bit ntranid Yankee. WBAT passage in this morning suspine do you like best " saked a roung clergyman of the celebrated Robert Hall. Your passage out of the pulpit, was the

was done with a pocket knife, with blade Kr New clothes are great promoters of piety. A new bonnet or a new dress will indace a girl to go to church at least twice on Sunday, when she did not go once before she got it. lenged by Miller, and during the parley on This man's vote, Miller turned turned to Powwered: Powers replied that it was a d-d lie.---Miller repeated the charge; Powers then called him a G-al-d-d liar, and Miller three."

"Bill did you ever go to sea?"

published by W. Pickering. London.

about 3, 1-2 inches long, and under the fol-Miller was standing at the polls when Powers came up in company with another ing the health of the soul.

Ax Irishman in time of revival had joined any question you please.

the church - Some time afterward a piously inclined person was exhoring him on the sub-behaved myself so well they let mo of wid in the good book that Asion once made

'I guess I did. Last year for instance, I ject of religion, when Paddy indignantly ans-

"Sure an' didn't I jine the Methodists !---