E. B. CHASE,

Montrose, Thursday, May 29, 1856. GRANDFATHER'S WATCH.

Grandfather's watch is batter'd and old, Innocent quite of jewel or gold; Poor and common, and worn and crack'd-Much like Grandfather's self, in fact. Yet its wheezy voice has a cheerful sound, And the child, as she listens in wonder bound-To its mystic tales of departed time, Is smiling as though at a pleasant rhyme. What are the tales the old watch tells? Of seventy years it counts the knells; Years whose every setting sun Was mark'd by labor faithfully done. With primitive form and clumsy skill, And clumsier help when the works went ili; Yet-serving their time, as best they can-This is the story of Watch and man!

Many a fall has the old watch hush'd, Many a blow has the old man crash'd. Meddled with, tinker'd, and sorely tried, At last rejected and thrown aside For modern rivals, all science and gold, Useless, crippled, despised and old, Under a cloud and under a ban-This is the story of Watch and man!

But there's a reverse to the picture sad; Human hearts they can still make glad. The watch in its dinted silver case Can bring a smile to the fair child's face. The man all batter'd, and silvery too, With a moral can cheer both me and you-"Mark our time as well as we can"-This is the lesson of Watch and man!

The Old Village Church.

They both became wives, and both mothers; and they both died, who shall say they are not singing Corinth" still, where Sabbaths never wane and congregations, never break up ! There they sat Sabbath after Sabbath, by the square column at the right of the "leader;" and to our young ears their tones were the very soul of music. That column bears still their penciled names as they wrote them in those days in life's June, 183-, before dreams of change had overcome their spirits like a summer's

"Alas that with the old singers most of the sweeter tunes have died upon the air! but they linger in memory, and they shall yet be sung in the sweet reunion of song that shall take place by and by in a hall whose columns are beams of morning light, whose ceiling is pearl, whose floors are gold and where hair never turns silvery, and hearts' never grow old. Then she that sang alto and she that sang air will be in their places once

A Noble Woman.

"There's a noble creature," whispered a friend of ours, pointing to a haudsome woman in the prime of life, who stood conversing with an aged man.

"There is somthing majestic about ber." was our reply.

"The majesty of goodness," exclaimed our friend. "How low and soft her voice, and what a world of love in those dark eyes. And her lips, mark their fine but firm out line, I tell you she stands there a true woman. and though splendor surrounds her, she once renounced fashion, fame and riches for a man who was glorious in his attributes, but poor in pocket. He had no splendor, to offer her -nothing but a priceless heart. She was lively, witty, and very much accomplished Her parents bestowed upon her all they had to give her, a liberal education; yet she was never, because of their old fashioned, simple ways and unpolished conversation, ashamed of them; in all that makes nature noble they excelled, and in spite of their bad grammar, she loved and was proud of them. I have seen girls-charming girls, intefectually and physically—who never cared to know what made the eyes of the poor old mothers dim, or what kept her so silent in their company; and I know she was thus brought by the laziness, conceit, and contempt of these charming daughters also I But Sweedlepipes says that instead of castomers and the public generally, that he will the old mother was no slave to her darling giving credit to whom credit is due the and beautiful child; for she sat down smiling cash had better be paid. Like the little flower that sends forth the rarest perfume when crushed, so that gentle heart loved and trusted more exceedingly. And when that malignant sisterbood hedged up the path of her husband, she had only to speak and the thorns bowed themselves, turning outward the down that shrouded their stalks. And they saw that with such a wife a man could not be conquered, or even for a moment cast down. So they ceased their machinations, and fortune smiled, and friends came with better times and the true woman stood before the world a model wife and mother."

How many such, thought we, can our land boast of in this day and generation !- Ex change.

JOHN HANCOCK .- One who saw Hancock in June, 1782, relates that he had the appearance of advanced age. He had been repeatedly and severely afflicted with gout probably owing in part to the costom of drinking punch—a common practice in high circles in those days. As recollected at the time, Hancock was nearly six in height, and of thin person, stooping a little, and apparently enfeebled by disease. His manner was very gracious, of the old style, a dignified complaisance. His face had been very handsome. Dress was adapted quite as much to the ornamental as the useful. Gentleman wore wigs when abroad, and commonly caps when at home. At this time, about noon, Hancock was dressed in a red velvet can. within which was one of fine liner. The latter was turned up over the lower edge of the velvet one two or three inches. He wore a blue damask gown lined with silk, a white stock, a white satin embroidered waistcoat. black satin small clothes, white silk stockings and red morocco slippers. It was a general practice in genteel families to have a tankard of punch made in the morning and placstanding on the hearth a full tankard, and drank first himself, and then offerred it to along. Chestnut: Street, Philadelphia, whose choice products are found at almost-every toilet, says:

"I am happy to say of your Cathartic Pills, that I are found them a better family medicine, for common see, than any other within my knowledge. Many of my friends have realized marked henefits from them, and coincide with me in believing that they possess extraordinary virtues for driving out diseases and curing the sick. They are not only effectual, but safe and pleasant to be taken—qualities which must make them valued by the public, when they are known."

The venerable Chancellor WARDLAW writes from Baltimore, 15th April, 1854:

"Da. J. C. Aven Shy: I have taken your Pills with great benefit, for the listlessness, languor, loss of appetite, and Billous headache, which has of late years overtaken me is the spring. A few doses of your Pills cured me. I have used your Cherry Pectoral many years in my family for coughs and colds with unfailing success. You make medicines which care; and I feel it a pleasure to commend you for the good you have done and are doing."

The widely renowned S. S. STEVENS, M. D., of Wentworth, N. H., writes:

"Having used your Cathabric Pills in my practice, I eerify from experience that they are an invaluable purgative. In cases of disordered functions of the liver, causing headache, indigestion, confiveness, and the great variety of diseases that follow, they are a surer remedy than any other. In all cases where a purgative remedy is required, I confidently recommend these Pills to the public, as superior to any other I have ever found. They are sure in their operation, and perfectly safe—qualities which make them an invaluable article for jublic use. I have for many years known your Carry Pectoral as the bost Cough medicine in the world; and these Pills are in no wise inferior to that admirable preparation for the treatment of diseases."

At times it attacked my eyes, and made me almost-blind, besides the unendurable pain; at others it settled in the scalp of my head, and destroyed my hair, and has kept me partly hald all my days; sometimes it came out in my face, and kept it for months a raw sore.

"About nine weeks ago I commenced taking your Cathartic Pille, and now am entirely free from the complaint. My eyes are well, my skin is fair, and my hair has commenced a healthy growth; all of which makes me feel already a new person.

"New Orleans, 5th April, 1851.

"Sir: I have great satisfaction in assuring you that myself and family have been very much benefited by your medicines. My wife was cured, two years since, of a reverse and dangerous cough, by your Cherary Pactoral, and since then has enjoyed periect health. My children have several times been cured from attacks of the Influence and Croup by it. It is an invaluable temedy for these complaints. Your Carngatuc Pills have entirely cured me from a dyspepsia and contiveness, which has grown upon me for some years,—indeed, this cure is much more important, from the fact that I had failed to get relief from the best Physicians which this section of the country affects, and from any of the numerous remedies I had taken. dies I had taken.

"Dr. J. C. Ayer — Honored Sir: I have made a thorough trial of the Caymartic Pills, left me by the carett, and have been cured by them of the dreadful Rhemanism under which he found me infering. The first dose relieved me, and a few subsequent doses have exittely removed the disease. I feel in better health now than for some years before, which I attribute entirely to the effects of your Caymartic Pills. Yours with great respect.
